BILLION-DOLLAR LEVIES, ARMAMENTS APPROVED

Vital Appropriation Measures Enacted Before New Fiscal Year

WASHINGTON, June 22.—(AP)—Congress quit tonight for a one week recess after sending to the White House a billion-dollar tax bill and over $4,000,000,000 of appropriations legislation.

WASHINGTON, June 22.—(AP)—Congress approved a billion-dollar tax bill and a $1,768,913,908 defense appropriation measure today and cleared its desk for a week's recess hours before the midnight deadline set by leaders.

The purpose of this high-speed action was two-fold: To allow an interlude for the Republican national convention beginning Monday at Philadelphia and to get vital appropriation measures enacted into law well before the new fiscal year starts on July 1.

In addition to giving quick approval to senate-house compromises on the tax and defense bills, the two branches of congress accepted and sent along to the White House a compromise $1,157,711,357 relief appropriation bill.

As finally passed, the defense tax bill was shorn of a senate-approved proposal for a war-profits levy. It carries provisions to increase the na-

TRIAL OF LECHE SET FOR MONDAY

Former Governor Scheduled To Face Jury On Ruston Indictment

RUSTON, La., June 22.—(Special)—Proceedings are scheduled to start here at 9 a.m. Monday in the trial of former Governor Richard W. Leche, charged in the Third Judicial District court with alleged complicity in operating a confidence game concerning reported financial irregularities in construction of Louisiana Tech's administration building, the sum involved being $27,000. The Tech building, occupied in the spring of 1937, replaced the college's old main hall, which was destroyed by fire on January 6, 1936.

Following the selection of a five-man jury, the state will open by asserting jurisdiction in the case and claiming the raising of the original contract bid for erecting the building, according to District Attorney Truett L. Scarborough. The most heated arguments, however are expected to center around whether Leche "aided or abetted" in the alleged transaction.

Leche and a party of four others arrived in Ruston late Friday night and are planning to remain here throughout the trial, which may continue through Wednesday. With Leche are his secretary, Miss Mary Walle, New Orleans; Hampton Reynolds, New Orleans, his father-in-law; St. Clair Adams, New Orleans, and Sidney Staring, Baton Rouge, legal advisers. ## JAPANESE TROOPS MOVE, ENDANGER PEACE IN PACIFIC

American Government Warns Against Force In French Indo-China

WASHINGTON, June 22.—(AP)—The United States government made plain today, as news dispatches from the Orient reported Japanese troops were moving toward French Indo-China, that it would regard any attempt to alter that colony's status by force as a threat to peace in the entire Pacific area.

Questioned at a press conference about the reported Japanese activities, Secretary of State Hull said he knew nothing other than the press reports, but called attention to his previous statements concerning maintenance of the status quo in the Pacific.

In the field of foreign policy nearer home, Hull said that all the 20 other American republics had replied favorably in principle to this government's suggestion that they consult shortly on problems growing out of the European war.

He said he could not yet disclose when and where the Pan-American consultation would be held nor whether he would be the United States representative. It has been widely assumed that the meeting would be about July 15 in Havana.

The previous statements on the Pacific to which Hull referred when asked about French Indo-China were issued when concern first arose here about the future of The Netherlands East Indies, a source of rubber and tin—vital defense materials—for the United States.

Last April 17 the secretary said that this government's position regarding

L[illegible]IERES, On the French-Swiss Frontier, June 22.—(AP)—A [illegible] and desert-toughened fighting men of the French Foreign Legion, with their backs to the Swiss frontier, held two mountain forts today for the fifth day against heavy German assault.

They are cut off from other French troops. Completely surrounded, they fought on as a "Beau Geste"—and because fighting is the tradition of the Legion.

The forts where they have repulsed attack after attack are Le Joux and L'Ecluse, across the frontier from this usually sleepy Swiss town. The peasant folk call the Legionnaires Les Joyeux—the joyful ones—and keep as far from the forts as possible.

Knox Will Be Questioned On Attitude Toward War

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, June 22.—Strong opposition within the senate naval committee to confirmation of Colonel Frank Knox's nomination to be secretary of the navy was reported today after the committee decided to question him on his views toward United States policy and the war.

One committee member, who said he favored approval of the nomination, asserted that an informal poll indicated that if the vote were taken today the nomination would be rejected, 11 to 5.

He expressed the opinion that whether or not the committee approved the nomination would depend on Knox's statement of his attitude toward possible intervention in the European war.

Chairman Walsh, Democrat, Massachusetts, merely announced after the closed session that it had been decided unanimously to summon Knox for questioning on his views, and that the hearing probably would be held on July 1.

It was reported authoritatively, however, that it was proposed in the session that the committee issue a public statement to the effect that it intended to investigate Knox's views and that if it found that he favored intervention, it would reject his nomination.

This proposal was said to have brought from Senator Ellender, Democrat, Louisiana, the protest that this would constitute prejudgment of Knox. In this stand he was reported to have been supported by Senator Johnson, Republican, California, and Senator Hale, Republican, Maine, with other members finally adopting the same attitude.

Walsh told reporters that committee members had received scores of protesting, and commendatory, expressions on Knox's nomination and on President Roosevelt's selection of Henry L. Stimson to be secretary of war.

Most of the protests, he said, appeared to be based on the protestant's understanding of the attitude of the two men toward the war. Both have advocated that the United States give

Legislature Faces 'Furious' Climax

REFORMS, MONIES PRESENT PROBLEM

Jones' Majority Will Attempt To Push Through Backlog Of Bills

BATON ROUGE, La., June 22.—(AP)—The legislature expected a furious effort by Governor Sam H. Jones' majority to push through a ponderous backlog of reform and financial bills as it prepared for the seventh week of the session, with less than three weeks ahead.

Talk of an extraordinary session would not stop, although the governor at the week's end stated his position flatly:

"I have not told anyone a special session was necessary. I believe the program, backed by the people, will pass."

But only one administration measure had passed the two houses and gained the governor's signature as the calendar showed more than two-thirds of the session over, and for the first time an opposition coalition had emerged during the last week with enough votes to hinder an administration plan.

The nature of this opposition indicated it would not be a threat to the general purposes of reform legislation, although it might force compromise in details. It was formed of a scattering of house members formerly affiliated with the vanished administrations of 1928-1940 and a group of independents, largely from north Louisiana, who indicated they thought certain Jones reforms did not go far enough.

Three times within the week this informal coalition voted together. Once it attempted unsuccessfully to amend the Jones civil service measure to prevent "blanketing in" without competition appointees who hold office when the merit system would go into effect in 1942.

Blame Berlin Air Raid On British War Planes

First Attack Of War Occurs; Three Explosives Strike Suburbs

(By Associated Press)

BERLIN, June 22.—The Berlin region experienced its first air attack of the war today when three incendiary bombs struck the railway station in suburban Babelsberg, about 14 miles from the heart of the capital.

Only once before during the war has Berlin even had an air raid alarm, and that was last fall during the Polish campaign.

The attack, attributed by official spokesmen to British planes, apparently was centered on Babelsberg, on the western side of the city.

Authorities described the damage there as "immaterial," however.

Heavy anti-aircraft fire forced the raiders to turn back before they could do effective bombing, it was said.

The raid sirens first sounded at 1:40 a.m. (6:40 p.m. eastern standard time Friday), and the thud of anti-aircraft batteries was heard in the city almost immediately afterward.

The gunfire lasted for about 20 minutes, but the all clear signal was not given until 2:16 a.m.

The first authorized statement on the raid did not say whether any of the enemy planes had been brought down.

Asked whether the raiders were British or French, a German spokesman replied cryptically:

"Who else could it have been except the British?"

The Germans have previously acknowledged aerial attacks on other cities by the British, whom they have accused of "aimless" bombing of nonmilitary objectives.

EX-REYNAUD AIDE TALKS ON FRANCE

Government 'No Right' To Surrender Until Allies Fall, He Says

LONDON, June 23.—(Sunday)—(AP)—General de Gaulle, former assistant to Paul Reynaud, resigned French premier, said in a broadcast in French over the British Broadcasting corporation today that the effect of the conditions dictated by Germany would be that "French land, sea and air forces would be completely demobilized, arms surrendered and the territory of France completely occupied."

The English translation of the broadcast issued by the ministry of information stated Genera de Gaulle declared:

"France has undertaken not to lay down her arms except in agreement with her allies. So long as these allies continue the war her government has not the right to surrender to the enemy."

"A bad military system, faults committed in the conduct of operations, the defeatist spirit of the government during these recent combats made us lose the battle of France," he said, but added "there remains to us a vast empire, an intact fleet, much gold."

"There remain to us allies whose resources are immense and who dominate the seas. There remain to us the gigantic possibilities of American industy.

"Honor, common sense, the interest of the country demand that all free

Roosevelt Appears Anxious Over Naval Experts' Report

By Douglas B. Cornell

HYDE PARK, N. Y., June 22.—(AP)—President Roosevelt was understood tonight to have received from naval experts data showing that if Germany took the French fleet, the axis nations would have a combined sea power one-third greater than that of the United States.

The president was represented as very much concerned with this problem of relative naval strength as it affects the western hemisphere.

The rough figures indicate in addition that should the British navy fall into the hands of the axis powers, their superiority at sea over the United States would be in the ratio of two and one-third to one.

It was learned, furthermore, that the naval observers have rated the Japanese and United States fleets about on a par in the data laid before the president.

That fact took on significance inasmuch as Japanese naval strength generally has been regarded as considerably below that of this country. Japan has shrouded her naval building program in secrecy, and the figures relayed to the president may reflect information which the navy department has obtained in secret. The data supplied to Mr. Roosevelt, of course, is of a type which he would term "iffy." It obviously takes no account of a proposal for a 70 per cent expansion of the American navy, now pending in congress, since that expansion could not be achieved for years.

Nor does it take into account, apparently, the possibility that further warfare might take a heavy toll of both the axis and allied fleets.

If it were operating in the Atlantic, the American fleet would be rated at 100 by the naval observers whom President Roosevelt has consulted. The British fleet also would stand at 100, the French and Italian at 50 each and the German at 33.

Thus the rating of the axis powers would be 133 if they obtained the French fleet and 233 if they got the British navy too.

Mr. Roosevelt appointed James Forrestal, president of the New York investment firm of Dillon, Read and company, one of his administrative assistants today.

SOUTH AFFECTED BY G. O. P. RULES

Party Takes Steps To 'Build Up' Their Forces In Section

By D. Harold Oliver

PHILADELPHIA, June 22.—(AP)—Republicans took a major step to "build up" their party in the south today.

The party national committee voted unanimously for a rule which would deny delegate representation in future national conventions to any congressional district which failed to poll 1,000 votes in a national or state election prior to the convention.

Although applicable to the whole country, party leaders said it was aimed primarily at the "deep south" where for years the Republicans have polled hardly enough votes to make a campaign worth while.

The change in rule, if approved by the convention opening Monday, would make southern leaders "go to work" and also would discourage efforts to "buy up" delegates, leaders added.

Former Senator Daniel O. Hastings, committeeman for Delaware, who offered the rule change, told reporters it would take away approximately 75 delegates from the south unless "real" efforts were made to get out the vote.

Present rules permit each district to have one delegate regardless of the vote it polls, and one additional delegate if it runs up 10,000 voters in a national, congressional, or state election.

Each state also has four delegates-at-large under existing rules, and a bonus of three such delegates if it returns a majority for the Republican presidential candidate. This rule also was amended today so that the bonus

APPLIES FOR POST AS BOMBER HOSTESS

NEW ORLEANS, June 22.—(AP)—Captain A. P. Miceli, assistant army recruiting officer here, was mildly startled when a well dressed young woman entered his office and asked to enlist in the United States army.

"I'm sorry," said Captain Miceli, "but we don't enlist women. Did you mean you want to be an army nurse?"

"No indeed," said the young woman. "And I don't want to be an infantrywoman and carry a rifle either. I want to be a hostess on an army bomber."

Terms Secret; Battles Flare On All Fronts

Emissaries Fly From Compiegne Forest To Rome With Papers; Pact Is 'Hard But Honorable,' Defenders Declare

ROME, June 22.—(AP)—The place and time of armistice negotiations between Italian representatives and the French emissaries flown here today from Compiegne forest was kept secret tonight in Rome pending official announcement. In London it was reported the meeting would be held Monday.

Italians first learned that the French had signed the terms of German armistice in a special German radio announcement at 10:45 p.m. (2:45 p.m. central standard time).

The German broadcast said the terms could not yet be disclosed.

A later Italian radio announcement said the terms probably would fall into three groups:

1. German occupation of France's English channel ports until the war with England is ended.
2. Military measures to assure that the French will not aid Britain.
3. Economic measures in preparation for peace in which reparations will be made to Germany for "the wrongs she suffered" at the end of the World war.

BORDEAUX, June 22.—(AP)—The French government announced officially late tonight that France and Germany had signed an armistice providing "hard but honorable" terms.

"If the terms had not been honorable, France would have been ready to fight on in her colonies," French sources said.

The price Adolf Hitler demanded for peace, however, will not be announced officially until after France reaches an agreement with Italy and the cease firing order is given.

In a heavily censored dispatch, it was disclosed that the government remains for the moment at Bordeaux, the provisional capital.

From that headquarters, official spokesmen said "fresh French troops" were holding firm along the Alpine frontier—beating back attacking Italians from Mont Blanc to the sea despite the menace of German pressure from the rear.

The Germans were pictured as pushing a spearhead down the Rhone valley behind the frontier defense forces, slowly, steadily, despite valiant resistance.

The high command's night communique indicated that while the fighting was less severe, it continued in local combats all along the front.

The Germans apparently were pushing forward with advance and scouting units.

There was no cease firing order. Apparently the troops must continue to hold their lines until six hours after agreement is reached with Italy.

Not until then, government spokesmen said, is the armistice effective.

Along the western half of the front, the Germans were reported to have made no new advances south of the River Loire. Eastward, however, they pushed ahead over a wide front. On a narrow plain between the Loire and Cher rivers stiff French resistance had slowed or stopped Nazi columns.

Scanty information available in Bordeaux on the position of the remaining Franch troops in parts of Alsace and Lorraine, along the German border, indicated they are not completely cut off from the main French armies. Contact was believed to be maintained along deep valleys through the mountains bordering the Swiss frontier.

LONDON, June 23.—(Sunday)—(AP)—A statement by Prime Minister Winston Churchill issued early this morning said the British government had heard "with regret and amazement" that the terms dictated by the Germans had been accepted by the French government at Bordeaux.

Churchill appealed to Frenchmen over the heads of the Petain government "to aid to the utmost of their strength the forces of liberation, which are enormous, and which, faithfully and resolutely used, will assuredly prevail."

The first authorized statement on the raid did not say whether any of the enemy planes had been brought down.

Asked whether the raiders were British or French, a German spokesman replied cryptically:

"Who else could it have been except the British?"

The Germans have previously acknowledged aerial attacks on other cities by the British, whom they have accused of "aimless" bombing of non-military objectives.

EX-REYNAUD AIDE TALKS ON FRANCE

Government 'No Right' To Surrender Until Allies Fall, He Says

LONDON, June 23.—(Sunday)—(AP)—General de Gaulle, former assistant to Paul Reynaud, resigned French premier, said in a broadcast in French over the British Broadcasting corporation today that the effect of the conditions dictated by Germany would be that "French land, sea and air forces would be completely demobilized, arms surrendered and the territory of France completely occupied."

The English translation of the broadcast issued by the ministry of information stated Genera de Gaulle declared:

"France has undertaken not to lay down her arms except in agreement with her allies. So long as these allies continue the war her government has not the right to surrender to the enemy."

"A bad military system, faults committed in the conduct of operations, the defeatist spirit of the government during these recent combats made us lose the battle of France," he said, but added "there remains to us a vast empire, an intact fleet, much gold."

"There remain to us allies whose resources are immense and who dominate the seas. There remain to us the gigantic possibilities of American industy.

"Honor, common sense, the interest of the country demand that all free

Party Takes Steps To 'Build Up' Their Forces In Section

By D. Harold Oliver

PHILADELPHIA, June 22.—(AP)—Republicans took a major step to "build up" their party in the south today.

The party national committee voted unanimously for a rule which would deny delegate representation in future national conventions to any congressional district which failed to poll 1,000 votes in a national or state election prior to the convention.

Although applicable to the whole country, party leaders said it was aimed primarily at the "deep south" where for years the Republicans have polled hardly enough votes to make a campaign worth while.

The change in rule, if approved by the convention opening Monday, would make southern leaders "go to work" and also would discourage efforts to "buy up" delegates, leaders added.

Former Senator Daniel O. Hastings, committeeman for Delaware, who offered the rule change, told reporters it would take away approximately 75 delegates from the south unless "real" efforts were made to get out the vote.

Present rules permit each district to have one delegate regardless of the vote it polls, and one additional delegate if it runs up 10,000 voters in a national, congressional, or state election.

Each state also has four delegates-at-large under existing rules, and a bonus of three such delegates if it returns a majority for the Republican presidential candidate. This rule also was amended today so that the bonus

Roosevelt Appears Anxious Over Naval Experts' Report

By Douglas B. Cornell

HYDE PARK, N. Y., June 22.—(AP)—President Roosevelt was understood tonight to have received from naval experts data showing that if Germany took the French fleet, the axis nations would have a combined sea power one-third greater than that of the United States.

The president was represented as very much concerned with this problem of relative naval strength as it affects the western hemisphere.

The rough figures indicate in addition that should the British navy fall into the hands of the axis powers, their superiority at sea over the United States would be in the ratio of two and one-third to one.

It was learned, furthermore, that the naval observers have rated the Japanese and United States fleets about on a par in the data laid before the president.

That fact took on significance inasmuch as Japanese naval strength generally has been regarded as considerably below that of this country. Japan has shrouded her naval building program in secrecy, and the figures relayed to the president may reflect information which the navy department has obtained in secret. The data supplied to Mr. Roosevelt, of course, is of a type which he would term "iffy." It obviously takes no account of a proposal for a 70 per cent expansion of the American navy, now pending in congress, since that expansion could not be achieved for years.

Nor does it take into account, apparently, the possibility that further warfare might take a heavy toll of both the axis and allied fleets.

If it were operating in the Atlantic, the American fleet would be rated at 100 by the naval observers whom President Roosevelt has consulted. The British fleet also would stand at 100, the French and Italian at 50 each and the German at 33.

Thus the rating of the axis powers would be 133 if they obtained the French fleet and 233 if they got the British navy too.

Mr. Roosevelt appointed James Forrestal, president of the New York investment firm of Dillon, Read and company, one of his administrative assistants today.

APPLIES FOR POST AS BOMBER HOSTESS

NEW ORLEANS, June 22.—(AP)—Captain A. P. Miceli, assistant army recruiting officer here, was mildly startled when a well dressed young woman entered his office and asked to enlist in the United States army.

"I'm sorry," said Captain Miceli, "but we don't enlist women. Did you mean you want to be an army nurse?"

"No indeed," said the young woman. "And I don't want to be an infantrywoman and carry a rifle either. I want to be a hostess on an army bomber."

Emissaries Fly From Compiegne Forest To Rome With Papers; Pact Is 'Hard But Honorable,' Defenders Declare

ROME, June 22.—(AP)—The place and time of armistice negotiations between Italian representatives and the French emissaries flown here today from Compiegne forest was kept secret tonight in Rome pending official announcement. In London it was reported the meeting would be held Monday.

Italians first learned that the French had signed the terms of German armistice in a special German radio announcement at 10:45 p.m. (2:45 p.m. central standard time).

The German broadcast said the terms could not yet be disclosed.

A later Italian radio announcement said the terms probably would fall into three groups:

1. German occupation of France's English channel ports until the war with England is ended.
2. Military measures to assure that the French will not aid Britain.
3. Economic measures in preparation for peace in which reparations will be made to Germany for "the wrongs she suffered" at the end of the World war.

BORDEAUX, June 22.—(AP)—The French government announced officially late tonight that France and Germany had signed an armistice providing "hard but honorable" terms.

"If the terms had not been honorable, France would have been ready to fight on in her colonies," French sources said.

The price Adolf Hitler demanded for peace, however, will not be announced officially until after France reaches an agreement with Italy and the cease firing order is given.

In a heavily censored dispatch, it was disclosed that the government remains for the moment at Bordeaux, the provisional capital.

From that headquarters, official spokesmen said "fresh French troops" were holding firm along the Alpine frontier—beating back attacking Italians from Mont Blanc to the sea despite the menace of German pressure from the rear.

The Germans were pictured as pushing a spearhead down the Rhone valley behind the frontier defense forces, slowly, steadily, despite valiant resistance.

The high command's night communique indicated that while the fighting was less severe, it continued in local combats all along the front.

The Germans apparently were pushing forward with advance and scouting units.

There was no cease firing order. Apparently the troops must continue to hold their lines until six hours after agreement is reached with Italy.

Not until then, government spokesmen said, is the armistice effective.

Along the western half of the front, the Germans were reported to have made no new advances south of the River Loire. Eastward, however, they pushed ahead over a wide front. On a narrow plain between the Loire and Cher rivers stiff French resistance had slowed or stopped Nazi columns.

Scanty information available in Bordeaux on the position of the remaining Franch troops in parts of Alsace and Lorraine, along the German border, indicated they are not completely cut off from the main French armies. Contact was believed to be maintained along deep valleys through the mountains bordering the Swiss frontier.

CHURCHILL SPEAKS

LONDON, June 23.—(Sunday)—(AP)—A statement by Prime Minister Winston Churchill issued early this morning said the British government had heard "with regret and amazement" that the terms dictated by the Germans had been accepted by the French government at Bordeaux.

Churchill appealed to Frenchmen over the heads of the Petain government "to aid to the utmost of their strength the forces of liberation, which are enormous, and which, faithfully and resolutely used, will assuredly prevail."

PURCHASE CATTLE FOR PARISH CLUB

Nine Herefords, Calves Are Bought By County Agent Bornman

Nine Hereford cows with calves at side were purchased and unloaded here Friday by D. L. Bornman, county agent, for 4-H club members of Ouachita parish.

These cows and calves, purchased annually by club members, are from the oldest and best commercial herds of beef cattle in the state of Texas, Agent Bornman said.

The calves, along with other calves purchased locally for club members, will be shown at the 4-H fat stock show in Baton Rouge in April next year. Sixteen calves will be shown first at the Ouachita Valley fair in the fall, Mr. Bornman said.

The project has been popular w members and their parents in the p and has outstanding value as a me of education on the values of raisi beef cattle and their care. Club members who have a surplus of home grown feed supplies are allowed purchase cattle through the county agent, and even allowed to borrow necessary funds if needed. In past years the Monroe Chamber of Commerce has cooperated in furtherance of this project of the agriculture extension department, Mr. Bornman said.

The first calf show held in the state was in 1935 when 41 calves were exhibited. The Ouachita parish club members first started in 1939 and entered 11 calves in 1940, at which time over 700 calves were exhibited. This year the parish club members will enter 16 calves in the show, Mr. Bornman announced.

Club members who received calves last week were Oswald Owens, Cypress; Rowel Willis, Calhoun; Elaine Willis, Calhoun; T. A. Calloway, Bosco; Everette Zeagler, Monroe; John M. Landerum, Fondale; Joe Dixon and M. S. Dixon, Jr., Sterlington.

BOOTLEGGER COMPLAINS AGAINST SHORT-CHANGER

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., June 22.—(AP)—An indignant Alabama bootlegger today searched for the Georgia moonshiner who short measured him on 40 5-gallon cans of purported Georgia moonshine whisky.

Federal Alcohol Tax Unit Director Joe Rollins said the bootlegger complained to federal agents that he paid $250 for the whisky after being allowed to make the "taste test" of thrusting a finger into each can and sampling the contents.

Later the bootlegger said he found that the moonshiner had soldered a pint container inside the mouth of each 5-gallon can and filled it with whisky. The remainder of the can was filled with creek water.

FARLEY, GARNER POOL RESOURCES

'Satisfactory' Vice-Presidential Candidate Is Goal

WASHINGTON, June 22.—(AP)—Vice-President Garner and Postmaster General Farley were understood today to have pooled their political resources once again in an effort to get what they consider a satisfactory vice-presidential nominee and platform out of the Democratic national convention.

At least nominal presidential aspirants themselves, Garner and Farley were reported by colleagues to have predicated a long and confidential conference yesterday on the possibility that President Roosevelt will run again.

The anti-third term drive of C. I. O. Chief John L. Lewis, meanwhile, encountered a revolt from Eli L. Oliver, executive secretary of labor's non-partisan league, a C. I. O. adjunct. He resigned, declaring that an "overwhelming majority" of the league favors Mr. Roosevelt, that an "infinitesimal minority" opposes him.

Regardless of who is nominated, said Senator Wagner, Democrat, New York, who was designated by Farley as chairman of the Democratic convention's platform committee, the platform must endorse the New Deal outright. He announced that he would start conferring with designated committee members immediately.

Close friends said Wagner favors a plank against involvement in the Euopean war coupled with a demand for continued large-scale defense preparations. Garner also was reported ready to throw his full influence to a non-involvement pledge.

ITALIAN AIRMEN ARE BEATEN OFF

Guns Of British, French Fleets Drive Away Invading Planes

ALEXANDRIA, [illegible] June 22.—(AP)—Four Italian air raids on this allied naval base were beaten off today by the anti-aircraft guns of the British and French fleets.

Four of the attacking bombers were shot down.

Coastal batteries joined in a heavy bombardment of the enemy squadrons.

Bombs fell in the harbor, but hit no warship, and over the city's seafront.

The raiders—apparently from Italy's Dodecanese islands across the Mediterranean—came in waves which were driven back by the cooperative action of both fleets.

(Italian planes also bombed Jibuti, French Somaliland, several times today, but there were no casualties and no known damage. Malta was bombed the day before.)

The attack led to predictions that Egypt might quickly declare war on Italy.

Two persons were killed and 23—including two Italians—were injured in the raid, a British naval communique said.

These civilian casualties apparently resulted from the fact that anti-aircraft fire and fighter planes forced the raiders to veer eastward along the waterfront.

Only last night French official sources predicted that France's big Mediterranean fleet and middle-east armies in Syria would fight on beside the British, regardless of the home government's decision as to armistice.

Today's action bore this out.

The British air arm likewise has been striking offensively. After a dawn bombardment at Tobruk, Italian Libya, heavy smoke poured from a large warship in the harbor, the British reported.

PURCHASE CATTLE FOR PARISH CLUB

Nine Herefords, Calves Are Bought By County Agent Bornman

Nine Hereford cows with calves at side were purchased and unloaded here Friday by D. L. Bornman, county agent, for 4-H club members of Ouachita parish.

These cows and calves, purchased annually by club members, are from the oldest and best commercial herds of beef cattle in the state of Texas, Agent Bornman said.

The calves, along with other calves purchased locally for club members, will be shown at the 4-H fat stock show in Baton Rouge in April next year. Sixteen calves will be shown first at the Ouachita Valley fair in the fall, Mr. Bornman said.

The project has been popular [illegible] members and their parents in the [illegible] and has outstanding value as a [illegible] of education on the values of raising beef cattle and their care. Club members who have a surplus of [illegible] grown feed supplies are allowed [illegible] purchase cattle through the county agent, and even allowed to borrow necessary funds if needed. In past years the Monroe Chamber of Commerce has cooperated in furtherance of this project of the agriculture extension department, Mr. Bornman said.

The first calf show held in the state was in 1935 when 41 calves were exhibited. The Ouachita parish club members first started in 1939 and entered 11 calves in 1940, at which time over 700 calves were exhibited. This year the parish club members will enter 16 calves in the show, Mr. Bornman announced.

Club members who received calves last week were Oswald Owens, Cypress; Rowel Willis, Calhoun; Elaine Willis, Calhoun; T. A. Calloway, Bosco; Everette Zeagler, Monroe; John M. Landerum, Fondale; Joe Dixon and M. S. Dixon, Jr., Sterlington.

BOOTLEGGER COMPLAINS AGAINST SHORT-CHANGER

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., June 22.—(AP)—An indignant Alabama bootlegger today searched for the Georgia moonshiner who short measured him on 40 5-gallon cans of purported Georgia moonshine whisky.

Federal Alcohol Tax Unit Director Joe Rollins said the bootlegger complained to federal agents that he paid $250 for the whisky after being allowed to make the "taste test" of thrusting a finger into each can and sampling the contents.

Later the bootlegger said he found that the moonshiner had soldered a pint container inside the mouth of each 5-gallon can and filled it with whisky. The remainder of the can was filled with creek water.

DR. EINSTEIN ADVANCES TOWARD U. S. CITIZENSHIP

TRENTON, N. J., June 22.—(AP)—Dr. Albert Einstein advanced another step today towards American citizenship when he took his final examination before naturalization authorities.

A qualified source said the self-exiled German mathematician passed with flying colors.

FARLEY, GARNER POOL RESOURCES

'Satisfactory' Vice-Presidential Candidate Is Goal

WASHINGTON, June 22.—(AP)—Vice-President Garner and Postmaster General Farley were understood today to have pooled their political resources once again in an effort to get what they consider a satisfactory vice-presidential nominee and platform out of the Democatic national convention.

At least nominal presidential aspirants themselves, Garner and Farley were reported by colleagues to have predicated a long and confidential conference yesterday on the possibility that President Roosevelt will run again.

The anti-third term drive of C. I. O. Chief John L. Lewis, meanwhile, encountered a revolt from Eli L. Oliver, executive secretary of labor's non-partisan league, a C. I. O. adjunct. He resigned, declaring that an "overwhelming majority" of the league favors Mr. Roosevelt, that an "infinitesimal minority" opposes him.

Regardless of who is nominated, said Senator Wagner, Democrat, New York, who was designated by Farley as chairman of the Democratic convention's platform committee, the platform must endorse the New Deal outright. He announced that he would start conferring with designated committee members immediately.

Close friends said Wagner favors a plank against involvement in the Euopean war coupled with a demand for continued large-scale defense preparations. Garner also was reported ready to throw his full influence to a non-involvement pledge.

Odd Items In The News

GREATER CLEVELAND

CLEVELAND, Tenn.—Uncle Sam can't bumfoozle Cleveland's aldermen. Rejecting the government's census count, they directed Mayor J. Y. Elliott to make an independent tabulation. It exceeded the 9,619 reported by federal enumerators so Cleveland is going to demand a recount.

ITALIAN AIRMEN ARE BEATEN OFF

Guns Of British, French Fleets Drive Away Invading Planes

ALEXANDRIA, [illegible] June 22.—(AP)—Four Italian air raids on this allied naval base were beaten off today by the anti-aircraft guns of the British and French fleets.

Four of the attacking bombers were shot down.

Coastal batteries joined in a heavy bombardment of the enemy squadrons.

Bombs fell in the harbor, but hit no warship, and over the city's seafront.

The raiders—apparently from Italy's Dodecanese islands across the Mediterranean—came in waves which were driven back by the cooperative action of both fleets.

(Italian planes also bombed Jibuti, French Somaliland, several times today, but there were no casualties and no known damage. Malta was bombed the day before.)

The attack led to predictions that Egypt might quickly declare war on Italy.

Two persons were killed and 23—including two Italians—were injured in the raid, a British naval communique said.

These civilian casualties apparently resulted from the fact that anti-aircraft fire and fighter planes forced the raiders to veer eastward along the waterfront.

Only last night French official sources predicted that France's big Mediterranean fleet and middle-east armies in Syria would fight on beside the British, regardless of the home government's decision as to armistice.

Today's action bore this out.

The British air arm likewise has been striking offensively. After a dawn bombardment at Tobruk, Italian Libya, heavy smoke poured from a large warship in the harbor, the British reported.

MUNITIONS PLANT CHAIN PROPOSED

Billion-Dollar Outlay Is Suggested To President Roosevelt

By E. E. Bomar

WASHINGTON, June 22.—(AP)—Construction of a billion-dollar chain of government munitions plants has been recommended officially to President Roosevelt as part of a further expansion of the $5,000,000,000 defense program.

Authoritative sources reported today that the chief executive already is studying recommendations by the national defense commission that congress may be asked immediately for additional arms funds.

One of the major proposals was that the government build without delay several score plants to turn out powder, shells, armor plate, aircraft and other munitions.

Some $376,000,000 thus far has been appropriated or earmarked for this purpose. The defense commission and the war department already have approved sites and other details for upwards of 30 arms factories to be located mostly in the middle west.

Besides the new munitions factory chain proposal, other recommendations to the president were understood to include a request for authority to place further mass orders for planes, warships and other weapons and equipment. Only by letting huge contracts now for future deliveries can mass production be assured, some administration officials argue.

By a war department estimate, 139 ordnance, chemical, quartermaster and aircraft plants are required for a "major national defense effort." Only 19 are in existence now.

To attain the 50,000 plane annual production recommended by President Roosevelt, it was estimated that there would be required, in addition to existing commercial facilities, 30 airplane frame plants costing $300,000,000 and three engine plants estimated to cost $60,000,000.

GERMAN MOTORS WILL BURN WOOD

Shortage Of Fuel Prompts Nation To Begin Planning Program

BERLIN, June 22.—(AP)—German authorities, anticipating a shortage of motor fuel when the European war is ended, are making plans to equip all Diesel-motored trucks throughout the Reich so that they can burn wood instead of oil.

Germany, it was explained officially, will have a considerably enlarged demand for motor-powered vehicles, especially in the field of agriculture, once peace is restored.

In order to meet the anticipated situation, a company has been organized under the supervision of Field Marshal Hermann Wilhelm Goering—master of the Reich's economic setup—to provide and distribute wood-burning equipment.

One of the company's tasks will be to establish and stock wood "filling stations."

It was explained that all kinds of wood, especially that used hitherto as firewood, would be utilized in the new program. Scrap wood from various industries also will be used.

The speed and power of motors operated by gas generated from burning wood was said to compare favorably with those driven by gasoline or oil.

Government subsidies to speed up the conversion are being offered in the amount of about 1,000 marks (about $400) for Diesel motored vehicles and 600 marks ($240) for gasoline engines.

The details of converting wood into motor fuel have not been disclosed.

EVERYTHING WRONG, NOW IT'S ALL OKAY

QUINCY, Mass., June 22.—(AP)—To any one who wants to look, James Ford, Jr., will be glad to display his operation.

Just after James was born—that was seven weeks ago—doctors noted that he was having difficulty in breathing. They rushed him to Children's hospital in Boston, where X-rays disclosed that his heart was on the wrong side, his left lung cramped and his stomach upside down.

Gambling on a desperate chance, the doctors operated promptly, deflating the lung, pushing the heart over to its normal position and righting the stomach. Wee James hovered near death for a week. Finaly he rallied and got well. Now he's home with his folks and his three sisters, gaining weight every day.

No action was taken on the 1941 convention city, both Savannah, Ga., and Biloxi, Miss., having extended invitations.

BIG SNOW CRUISER IS TROUBLE-MAKER

Proves 'Not So Hot' On Expedition, Byrd Engineer Declares

CLEARWATER, Fla., June 22.—(AP)—The giant snow cruiser, in which Admiral Richard E. Byrd hoped to roll across the antartic, proved "not so hot" on frigid terrain, its 35-year-old engineer disclosed today.

Charles Meyer, home to visit his wife and parents after returning to the United States aboard the expedition ship Bear, said the 75,000-pound monster disappointed the explorers with its performance. Principal trouble, he said, was insufficient power.

The expedition arrived in the antartic summer, Meyer related, and recurring snowfalls kept a soft blanket 18 to 20 inches deep on the vast ice shelf. Though this the huge machine wallowed with difficulty. since the Bear left Antactica, however, the snow has been froxen solid, the engineer continued, adding conditions probably were more favorable for the cruiser.

Before leaving the United States, the snow cruiser—a giant auto tractor equipped with huge rubber tires—encountered several mishaps on highly-improved American highways.

"I can't get used to the heat," complained the husky young engineer, as he sweitered in 90-degree weather which his fellow-townsmen considered not unusual.

The return to civilization had many compensations, though, not the least a bath whenever he wants it.

Because of the necessity for conserving space for expedition equipment, only 12,000 gallons of water was taken along. That left none for bathing, he said, and the men went 132 days without a good "allover."

TWIN DEVILS

Ruston, La.,
June 21, 1940.

To the Editor:

The New Testament states that the devil is God of this world, but it does not say for how long. Neither does it mention the twin devils, Hitler and Goering. Now, if Hitler and Goering are not devils on this earth I see no need to fear the original and his hell.

In the last World war these two dragons lay in the trenches and ate mud for breakfast, dinner and supper, and now they are looking down on the last Frenchman disappear from this world. They are going to make slaves of French women and their children for years to come. Women will have to till the French soil for German officers. There will be no unwritten law. All will be the law of the high command. Here is where death is a blessing.

Over there the United States has the largest grave yard in the world. Poppi s have been waving above those graves but soon hops and barley will sprout from the dead bodies of American soldiers that gave all they had for democracy. Well, the four horsemen are iding again, but in tandem this time. The twi ndevils started out on the white horse through Austria to conquer. After conquering Austria and Czecho-Slovakia they changed from the white horse to the red. Here in Munich they paused and lied to Chamberlain and Daladier while they saddled the red horse to take peace from the world. Then they rode into Poand on the black horse and displayed a pair of scales to Stalin of Russia. Fifty-fifty registered the scales. The twin devils took the lower half; Stalin took the leavin's. A long trip up through Norway put the old horse out of commission and the pale horse was led from the barn. The rider was death (Hitler) and hell (Goering) followed with him (Rev. 6:2-8). Hunger and to kill is the goal of this horse. An awful and powerful omen for just one horse today. Now in Rev. 6:11 the Apocalypse puts the finger on us, the United States. We have all the gold in the world buried up here in the hills of Kentucky and Mussolini has acknowledged that is what they are fighting, "the money powers." I quote the 11th verse while Hitler is still on the pale horse:

"And white robes were given to every one of them! And it was said unto them that they should rest yet for a little season, until their fellow servants also and their brethren, that should be killed as they were, should be fulfilled."

Fifty thousand airplanes and the same amount of satellites will make that pale horse throw its riders, devil and hell, and stampede the other three. Let's stand by our grief stricken president who is struggling to do what is right.

THOMAS A. HILTON.

National Guard, Our 'First Reserve,' Would Be 1st Reverse In Modern War

By Thomas M. Johnson
NEA Service Military Writer

It would be sheer murder to send the national guard into combat against a first class power this summer.

The guard today is equipped to fight a war on the model not even of 1918—but of about 1915. For a 1940 war, a high guard officer estimates the guard is about 50 per cent equipped and less than 50 per cent organized and trained.

The guard is called our "first reserve," but if it had to be plunged into a major battle today it would be our first reverse—and no fault of the guard, either.

Guard Needs Just About Everything

All this is well known to General George C. Marshall, chief of staff. He has had much experience with the guard, especially in Illinois. He knows previous war department plans to call on the guard for action after 30 days are now just so many scraps of paper. He knows it would take not 30 days but three months to get ready for action even the best guard division in the country. The rest would require at least nine months' preparation, and even then the men would not be fully equipped.

If the guard today were compelled to oppose the German air force and mechanized divisions on the Aisne, it would be wiped out. It has few anti-aircraft guns of 3-inch and 50 caliber—none whatever of 37-millimeter, which are especially valuable to ground troops. It is very short of searchlights and sound locaters, and its armories are too small to store what is needed, even if it were available.

It has no special guns, and therefore "no special training for anti-tank defense." Its tank companies, which should have 10 modern tanks apiece, have only two antiques. It has no semi-automatic rifles, and even by next summer only one regiment to a state will have them.

The guard doesn't shoot as straight as it should partly because it is short of proper target ranges. The last report shows that in a year one third of the guard coast-defense batteries either did not fire a shot or fired poorly.

The field batteries have plenty of guns mostly of World war or immediately post World war model. But of the [illegible] a few [illegible] could be fired [illegible] guns and [illegible] for only about [illegible] a gunmark.

PRICES FLUCTUATE ON COTTON MART

Close About Unchanged; Other Commodities Are Stronger

WASHINGTON, June 22.—(AP)—Domestic cotton prices fluctuated over a wide range this week but closed about unchanged while quotations for other commodities and for securities strengthened.

The agriculture department reported that the 10-market price for middling 15-16 inch cotton averaged 10.67 cents a pound on Friday, or one point lower than a week earlier. Prices for old July futures contracts ranged from unchanged to nine points up.

The department said spot cotton markets were more active. Sales of 38,000 bales in the 10 markets compared with 26,000 in the preceding week and 26,000 in the corresponding week a year ago.

Exports for the week were down sharply. Foreign shipments of 23,000 bales compared with 40,000 in the preceding week and 30,000 in the corresponding week a year ago. Domestic mill activity was well maintained during mid-June.

The department said exports of cotton to Europe, including the United Kingdom, for the period August 1, 1939, through June 30, totaled 4,150,000 bales, or about 70 per cent of the total exports from the United States. Shipments to the orient, principally Japan and China, totaled 1,366,000 bales so far this season, or 23 per cent of the total. Exports of about 375,000 bales to Canada were said to be the largest on record for that period and 64 per cent more than last season's 229,000 bales. Cotton consumption in Canada was said to be running at a near record rate.

MUNITIONS PLANT CHAIN PROPOSED

Billion-Dollar Outlay Is Suggested To President Roosevelt

By E. E. Bomar

WASHINGTON, June 22.—(AP)—Construction of a billion-dollar chain of government munitions plants has been recommended officially to President Roosevelt as part of a further expansion of the $5,000,000,000 defense program.

Authoritative sources reported today that the chief executive already is studying recommendations by the national defense commission that congress may be asked immediately for additional arms funds.

One of the major proposals was that the government build without delay several score plants to turn out powder, shells, armor plate, aircraft and other munitions.

Some $376,000,000 thus far has been appropriated or earmarked for this purpose. The defense commission and the war department already have approved sites and other details for upwards of 30 arms factories to be located mostly in the middle west.

Besides the new munitions factory chain proposal, other recommendations to the president were understood to include a request for authority to place further mass orders for planes, warships and other weapons and equipment. Only by letting huge contracts now for future deliveries can mass production be assured, some administration officials argue.

By a war department estimate, 139 ordnance, chemical, quartermaster and aircraft plants are required for a "major national defense effort." Only 19 are in existence now.

To attain the 50,000 plane annual production recommended by President Roosevelt, it was estimated that there would be required, in addition to existing commercial facilities, 30 airplane frame plants costing $300,000,000 and three engine plants estimated to cost $60,000,000.

GERMAN MOTORS WILL BURN WOOD

Shortage Of Fuel Prompts Nation To Begin Planning Program

BERLIN, June 22.—(AP)—German authorities, anticipating a shortage of motor fuel when the European war is ended, are making plans to equip all Diesel-motored trucks throughout the Reich so that they can burn wood instead of oil.

Germany, it was explained officially, will have a considerably enlarged demand for motor-powered vehicles, especially in the field of agriculture, once peace is restored.

In order to meet the anticipated situation, a company has been organized under the supervision of Field Marshal Hermann Wilhelm Goering—master of the Reich's economic setup—to provide and distribute wood-burning equipment.

One of the company's tasks will be to establish and stock wood "filling stations."

It was explained that all kinds of wood, especially that used hitherto as firewood, would be utilized in the new program. Scrap wood from various industries also will be used.

The speed and power of motors operated by gas generated from burning wood was said to compare favorably with those driven by gasoline or oil.

Government subsidies to speed up the conversion are being offered in the amount of about 1,000 marks (about $400) for Diesel motored vehicles and 600 marks ($240) for gasoline engines.

The details of converting wood into motor fuel have not been disclosed.

EVERYTHING WRONG, NOW IT'S ALL OKAY

QUINCY, Mass., June 22.—(AP)—To any one who wants to look, James Ford, Jr., will be glad to display his operation.

Just after James was born—that was seven weeks ago—doctors noted that he was having difficulty in breathing. They rushed him to Children's hospital in Boston, where X-rays disclosed that his heart was on the wrong side, his left lung cramped and his stomach upside down.

Gambling on a desperate chance, the doctors operated promptly, deflating the lung, pushing the heart over to its normal position and righting the stomach. Wee James hovered near death for a week. Finaly he rallied and got well. Now he's home with his folks and his three sisters, gaining weight every day.

THOMPSON IS CHAIRMAN OF WELFARE GATHERING

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., June 22.—(AP)—The Rev. John B. Thompson, pastor of the First Baptist church at Norman, Okla., was elected chairman of the Southern Conference for Human Welfare at a meeting of the executive committee.

No action was taken on the 1941 convention city, both Savannah, Ga., and Biloxi, Miss., having extended invitations.

BIG SNOW CRUISER IS TROUBLE-MAKER

Proves 'Not So Hot' On Expedition, Byrd Engineer Declares

CLEARWATER, Fla., June 22.—(AP)—The giant snow cruiser, in which Admiral Richard E. Byrd hoped to roll across the antartic, proved "not so hot" on frigid terrain, its 35-year-old engineer disclosed today.

Charles Meyer, home to visit his wife and parents after returning to the United States aboard the expedition ship Bear, said the 75,000-pound monster disappointed the explorers with its performance. Principal trouble, he said, was insufficient power.

The expedition arrived in the antartic summer, Meyer related, and recurring snowfalls kept a soft blanket 18 to 20 inches deep on the vast ice shelf. Though this the huge machine wallowed with difficulty. since the Bear left Antactica, however, the snow has been froxen solid, the engineer continued, adding conditions probably were more favorable for the cruiser.

Before leaving the United States, the snow cruiser—a giant auto tractor equipped with huge rubber tires—encountered several mishaps on highly-improved American highways.

"I can't get used to the heat," complained the husky young engineer, as he sweltered in 90-degree weather which his fellow-townsmen considered not unusual.

The return to civilization had many compensations, though, not the least a bath whenever he wants it.

Because of the necessity for conserving space for expedition equipment, only 12,000 gallons of water was taken along. That left none for bathing, he said, and the men went 132 days without a good "allover."

TWIN DEVILS

Ruston, La.,
June 21, 1940.

To the Editor:

The New Testament states that the devil is God of this world, but it does not say for how long. Neither does it mention the twin devils, Hitler and Goering. Now, if Hitler and Goering are not devils on this earth I see no need to fear the original and his hell.

In the last World war these two dragons lay in the trenches and ate mud for breakfast, dinner and supper, and now they are looking down on the last Frenchman disappear from this world. They are going to make slaves of French women and their children for years to come. Women will have to till the French soil for German officers. There will be no unwritten law. All will be the law of the high command. Here is where death is a blessing.

Over there the United States has the largest grave yard in the world. Poppies have been waving above those graves but soon hops and barley will sprout from the dead bodies of American soldiers that gave all they had for democracy. Well, the four horsemen are iding again, but in tandem this time. The twi ndevils started out on the white horse through Austria to conquer. After conquering Austria and Czecho-Slovakia they changed from the white horse to the red. Here in Munich they paused and lied to Chamberlain and Daladier while they saddled the red horse to take peace from the world. Then they rode into Poand on the black horse and displayed a pair of sceles to Stalin of Russia. Fifty-fifty registered the scales. The twin devils took the lower half; Stalin took the leavin's. A long trip up through Norway put the old horse out of commission and the pale horse was led from the barn. The rider was death (Hitler) and hell (Goering) followed with him (Rev. 6:2-8). Hunger and to kill is the goal of this horse. An awful and powerful omen for just one horse today. Now in Rev. 6:11 the Apocalypse puts the finger on us, the United States. We have all the gold in the world buried up here in the hills of Kentucky and Mussolini has acknowledged that is what they are fighting, "the money powers." I quote the 11th verse while Hitler is still on the pale horse:

"And white robes were given to every one of them! And it was said unto them that they should rest yet for a little season, until their fellow servants also and their brethren, that should be killed as they were, should be fulfilled."

Fifty thousand airplanes and the same amount of satellites will make that pale horse throw its riders, devil and hell, and stampede the other three. Let's stand by our grief stricken president who is struggling to do what is right.

THOMAS A. HILTON.

ARMADILLO IS KILLED BY CAPITAL RESIDENT

BATON ROUGE, La., June 22.—(AP)—An armor-plated invader spread consternation throughout a vacant lot in Baton Rouge today, and some resident insisted he could not have arrived by parachute.

Woodrow Higginbotham felt a quaking negro touch his arm.

"Boss," he said, "that chased me until I got a stick and killed it. What is it?"

"That" was a two-foot armadillo.

H. H. PERRITT ELECTED TREASURER OF GROUP

At an assembly of graduate students of L. S. U. Thursday, H. Hardy Perritt, debate coach and teacher of speech at Ouachita Parish High school, was elected treasurer of the group.

Other officers of the council are J. B. Sellers, president; C. H. Downs, vice-president; Lucille McMichael, woman's vice-president, and V. W. Barber, secretary.

The Fokker triplane, used by Baron von Richthofen during the first World war, had a speed of 90 miles an hour, and had a rotary air-cooled engine.

National Guard, Our 'First Reserve,' Would Be 1st Reverse In Modern War

By Thomas M. Johnson
(NEA Service Military Writer)

It would be sheer murder to send the national guard into combat against a first-class power this summer.

The guard today is equipped to fight a war on the model not even of 1918—but of about 1915. For a 1940 war, a high guard officer estimates the guard is about 50 per cent equipped, and less than 50 per cent organized and trained.

The guard is called our "first reserve," but if it had to be plunged into a major battle today it would be our first reverse—and no fault of the guard, either.

Guard Needs Just About Everything

All this is well known to General George C. Marshall, chief of staff. He has had much experience with the guard, especially in Illinois. He knows previous war department plans to call on the guard for action after 30 days are now just so many scraps of paper. He knows it would take not 30 days but three months to get ready for action even the best guard division in the country. The rest would require at least nine months' preparation, and even then the men would not be fully equipped.

If the guard today were compelled to oppose the German air force and mechanized divisions on the Aisne, it would be wiped out. It has few anti-aircraft guns of 3-inch and 50 caliber—none whatever of 37-millimeter, which are especially valuable to ground troops. It is very short of searchlights and sound locaters, and its armories are too small to store what is needed, even if it were available.

It has no special guns, and therefore "no special training for anti-tank defense." Its tank companies, which should have 10 modern tanks apiece, have only two antiques. It has no semi-automatic rifles, and even by next summer only one regiment to a state will have them.

The guard doesn't shoot as straight as it should, partly because it is short of proper target ranges. The last report shows that in a year one-third of the guard coast-defense batteries either did not fire a shot or fired poorly.

The field batteries have plenty of guns—mostly of World war or immediately post-World war model. But if the enemy used gas, only a few rounds could be fired before guns and men went out of action, for only about one guardsman in five has a gas mask.

In Turmoil Of Reorganization

Major General William N. Haskell of the New York guard, which is among the best state organizations, says this:

"Since the army maneuvers at Plattsburg last August showed up our weaknesses, nothing of moment has been done to improve our equipment."

Things are being done now. Before autumn there will be gas masks and other modern equipment. But new equipment means new training in using it, and that takes time. The guard is in a turmoil of reorganization.

It has just raised its strength to 250,000 of the 420,000 now authorized by law. While raw recruits get primary drill, new units are being created as old ones are switched, for instance, from superfluous cavalry to needed anti-aircraft artillery. Further, all 18 guard divisions may soon be broken up and reorganized into 30 or so divisions of a new and different type. That will take months.

PRICES FLUCTUATE ON COTTON MART

Close About Unchanged; Other Commodities Are Stronger

WASHINGTON, June 22.—(AP)—Domestic cotton prices fluctuated over a wide range this week but closed about unchanged while quotations for other commodities and for securities strengthened.

The agriculture department reported that the 10-market price for middling 15-16 inch cotton averaged 10.67 cents a pound on Friday, or one point lower than a week earlier. Prices for old July futures contracts ranged from unchanged to nine points up.

The department said spot cotton markets were more active. Sales of 38,000 bales in the 10 markets compared with 26,000 in the preceding week and 26,000 in the corresponding week a year ago.

Exports for the week were down sharply. Foreign shipments of 23,000 bales compared with 40,090 in the preceding week and 30,000 in the corresponding week a year ago. Domestic mill activity was well maintained during mid-June.

The department said exports of cotton to Europe, including the United Kingdom, for the period August 1, 1939, through June 30, totaled 4,150,000 bales, or about 70 per cent of the total exports from the United States. Shipments to the orient, principally Japan and China, totaled 1,366,000 bales so far this season, or 23 per cent of the total. Exports of about 375,000 bales to Canada were said to be the largest on record for that period and 64 per cent more than last season's 229,000 bales. Cotton consumption in Canada was said to be running at a near record rate.

We Need Tough, Pliable Minds

The United States at this moment faces several situations in which precedent is no guide. Other such situations are certain to develop.

The past, except in the most general way, is no guide. Countries which have clung to past precedents have gone under.

We need every ounce of mental resiliency we can summon to guide our course through shoals that loom up directly ahead.

For instance: The United States has officially declared that it will not tolerate transfer of New World soil from one Old World country to another. That is not new. It goes back 100 years. But new techniques may be desirable in enforcing it.

The United States does not covet, for its own sake, any more territory in the western hemisphere or elsewhere. French island or continental possessions we do not want to annex. Yet we will not see them fall to Hitler or any other European power.

What to do?

When a colony's home government is destroyed or ceases to function, that colony becomes automatically an independent country. The French possessions in the New World are small and defenseless. They could not maintain such an independent status by their own strength.

But to whose interest is it that they become independent rather than fall into the hands of European conquerors? To that of all the 21 American republics! So why should not all of those American countries join in guaranteeing this new-found independence? It is true that the major share in defending such countries would probably fall to the United States. But that is no reason why all should not share to the extent that they can. Dr. Oswald Aranha of Brazil has already suggested some such final answer should emergency develop.

Nothing quite like this has ever been done. Yet is it not better than annexation, which would stir again in South American breasts distrust of "The Colossus of the North"?

The situation of France itself is uncertain at this moment—that of her overseas possessions is more so. But the situation may clarify at any moment—action may be necessary. The American nations should meet immediately and decide in advance that they will resolutely face their responsibilities in this connection if circumstances so dictate.

The United States would prefer this kind of joint action. But if other American countries draw back or hesitate, necessity may force the United States to act.

KEEPING THE SHIRT ON

The United States is fully determined on immediate development of such military power as will enable us to meet without fear any conditions that may come out of the present European war.

It implies no slackening of that effort to say that the persecution of obscure religious sects like Jehovah's Witnesses will do nothing to advance it. In Texas and Maine these people have succeeded in irritating crowds so far that violence resulted.

To 99 people out of 100 on whom they try to impinge their beliefs, these people seem misguided and ridiculous. Yet their unwillingness to render forced salutes to the flag seems based on a religious scruple rather than on any basic disloyalty to the country of which the flag is a symbol.

No good is accomplished by dragging out and beating such people, or by burning their halls. There is serious business to be done, business that is not advanced by petty persecution.

On the other hand, it might not be too much to ask that devotees of such sects refrain from thrusting their beliefs forcibly under the noses of people who they must know will consider them irritating, objectionable, or obnoxious.

YES, WE ARE SERIOUS!

Does anyone doubt the deadly earnestness with which the United States is entering into its defense program? Let him talk to Treasury Secretary Morgenthau.

Morgenthau has been embarrassed by a flood of gifts, from a dime to $500, which has been pouring into the treasury from people who said, "Use this to help defend the United States."

The treasury does not encourage this sort of thing, though the law permits it to accept such gifts when given for general purposes without strings attached.

When people are enough concerned about defense to send in their dimes and dollars without even being asked, you know that the plain people are getting stirred up. And when the American plain people get stirred up, things happen. Nothing must be allowed to balk, even temporarily, a determination as strong as that shown by these dimes and dollars freely given.

• BRUCE CATTON IN WASHINGTON

WASHINGTON—The Dies committee may soon be organized on a permanent, nation-wide basis, expanded and equipped to play a large role in the government's campaign against fifth column activity.

That is a plan now being worked out by the committee's chairman, Representative Martin Dies of Texas. It has an excellent chance for adoption, for the New Deal has made its peace with Dies. The administration is now cooperating with him, and he with the administration.

Under the plan now being considered, the Dies committee would have a central office, coordinating work done in regional offices in a half-dozen places. As a result of the new understanding between Dies and others hitherto hostile or indifferent to his work, the drive on Communists and other "ism-ites" is due to get rolling shortly on a scale hitherto unknown.

Will Have 100,000 On Indexed List

The Dies committee is hard at work on a vast mass of material collected on Communist and Communist-front activities. By fall, Dies believes he will have ready a card-index containing over 100,000 names, with material at hand to show exactly what part each played, directly and indirectly, in the general Communist program. A large number of government employes will be on the list, he says.

The "library" already amassed by the Dies investigators includes not only documents submitted in evidence, but copies of every significant publication, pamphlet, broadside and hand-out issued by every Communist and "Communist-front" outfit in the United States during the past two years.

More Money Needed To Expand Work

To digest and index all this material, as well as to provide an office staff of at least 15 in Washington and to expand greatly the present field force of nine, will require more money. Mr. Dies is asking for another $100,000.

He is also considering asking congress to make his committee one of its regular standing committees, like those on military affairs, appropriations and the like. That would make it permanent, assure sufficient funds from year to year, and enable it to build up a permanent office and field staff.

Plans To Work Behind Closed Doors

Chances are, most of the committee's work henceforth will be done behind closed doors. Mr. Dies believes public sentiment is so stirred up over fifth column activities that open hearings might be unwise. Recently several witnesses testified on Communist activity in TVA. On their return home they found themselves in some danger of mob violence, the home folks having concluded that if they knew so much about it, they must be fifth columnists themselves.

"We've pretty well educated the public about the way these subversive groups work," says Mr. Dies. "Now we want to try to prevent spying and sabotage. We can call witnesses, hear them in private, and then turn a transcript of the testimony over to the appropriate government agency."

JIMMIE FIDLER In Hollywood

HOLLYWOOD, June 22.—Dear Staff: I don't know when I've been more inspired than a few nights ago, when the movie mothers (mamas of the stars) held their annual dinner at the Pirate's Den.

About 200 were present, including mothers, sons and daughters, and guests. Frankly, I was shocked when I counted noses and found several mamas without their sons and daughters, who were "too busy" to come.

And again, I boiled when I learned that a few mothers wouldn't come because they were ashamed to attend without their "too busy" children. Too busy to spend this one night with their mothers? That's a black eye for those particular stars, whom I'd name right out loud if by so doing I wouldn't hurt their mothers' feelings almost as much as the children themselves hurt them.

When the mothers gathered on the dance floor for a waltz, I saw proud, happy tears glistening on the cheeks of many. And my biggest kick of the evening came when Mickey Rooney whispered: "Gee, this is a swell party, and it's made me think. Tonight's the first time I've danced with mother since New Year's—and I'm not going to be so neglectful again." Good for Mickey! Good for all those stars who were seated at their mothers tables!

As for those selfish sons and daughters who were seen in other night clubs and at other parties, instead of being with their mothers—well, they should be spanked and sent to bed without supper. Oh sure, they provide for their parents financially. But I'll bet those mamas who wouldn't attend the party because their children refused, would prefer less financing and more personal love.

Next time, I hope all the stars will be present—and if the movie mothers will let columnists' mamas attend, will they please be kind enough to invite the Fidlers, mother and son?

JIMMIE FIDLER.

Dear Boss: With the Hollywood front unusually quiet (most ears being anxiously glued to radio sets), here's today's communique:

Wot's this about Warner Brothers dickering a deal with Republic under which the latter studio, better trained in low cost production methods, will make all of WB's class B features? . . . Bobby Breen is mulling offers for a summer tour of New England's "Straw Hat" theater circuit and will probably accept in an effort to prove to Hollywood producers that he can handle non-single roles. . . . Today's news puzzle: Announcement that WB, which only a few weeks ago paid Miriam Hopkins plenty to tear up her term contract, now has signed her on a one-picture deal—presumably at bigger dough—to star in "The Lady With Red Hair."

Child-star Dicky Jones planes to Houston, Tex., today to be installed as honorary mayor. . . . Roy (Ride-'em) Rogers is Adirondacks-bound for a three weeks' loll to regain verve lost in that tonsillectomy. . . . Nite-club evesdroppers report that Jack Oakie and Venita Varden are tiffing again. . . . Since publicizing Dottie Lamour's hair-bob, Paramount has been buried under an avalanche of fan letters requesting shorn locks. (Arthur Murray calls her haircut a "Refugee Bob"—parted on one side and brought over to the other.)

M-G-M has ordered full speed ahead in readying a story for Robert Montgomery—now en route from Europe's war front—hoping to cash in on headline publicity anent his ambulance-driving adventures. . . . Plans for Garbo, on the contrary, are in the doldrums. Valued chiefly for her foreign following, it's hinted Greta won't face cameras again until European markets are restored. . . . Is Jack Benny's squawk because Fred Allen gets Par's super de luxe dressing room part of the feud gag, or on the level? . . . Eleanor Powell, released from the hospital today following a major operation, is under orders to take a two months' complete rest before donning dance shoes. . . . Robert Taylor's "calm disposition" (see all publicity copy) can't stand the strain of golf—one too many slices yesterday and he threw his clubs away and stalked off the course.

John Howard, hosting his parents, has rented a La Jolla house for the summer and will commute 100 miles daily. . . . Travel note: June Priesser to Washington, D. C., to visit her sister, Mrs. David Hopkins, whose papa-in-law is Commerce Secretary. . . . Gregory Ratoff, under 20th Century contract to act as well as direct, has notified Zanuck he will not don make-up again after completing his current role in "The Great Profile." . . . If you hear Don Ameche's lost his shirt, check it off as a sizable loss—he donated an old one for a Red Cross auction in North Platte, Neb., and it brought $17.80!

A PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES ADVERTISED FOR A SECRETARY OF THE NAVY—After Benjamin Stoddert, secretary of the navy from 1798-1801, resigned his position, President Jefferson was forced to advertise in the newspapers for a man to take the job. The position was very unimpotant at the time, because the whole United States navy consisted of only three ships. Robert Smith answered the ad, and became secretary of the navy from 1802 to 1805. He later became United States attorney general and secretary of state.

Human Side Of The News

(Copyright, 1940, by King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

Back in the days of "manifest destiny," and Admiral Mahan's call to a plunge into imperialism, we thought we wanted to branch out a lot more than we really did. We really didn't get our backs into it and our first venture was just a hesitant little crow-hop, and then we were glad to stay home and mind our own business—until 1917, and after that we said "never again!"

When the issue of our taking the Philippines was being debated, old Senator Champ Clark of Missouri, father of the present Senator Bennett Champ Clark, put it this way:

"One of two things is true. Either these people can govern themselves, or they can't govern themselves. If they can't govern themselves, we don't want 'em. We're a self-governing people. If they can govern themselves, for God's sake let 'em govern themselves!"

That scandalized his Chautauqua audience of preachers and professors. To them it was disgraceful reference to a divinely ordained mission. Quite a few people felt that way then, and no doubt this missionary zeal also helped shove us into the World war.

This writer has just received a very interesting letter from Mr. C. R. Walmsley of Cresskill, N. J. He says this:

"If the world is to be torn up and reorganized by Hitler, adequate defense of our own soil, which must come first, of course, will not alone save us. South America is a loose congeries of politically backward states, shot through with Nazi subversions and back-stabbers. The Panama canal, indispensable to our naval, military and economic survival, could not possibly be defended if Latin America were engulfed in the new savagery.

"With the rest of the world Hitler's slave pen, we could not hope to compete, and if we sold anything, anywhere, it would have to be on his terms. There are immediate and desperate reasons for re-interpreting the Monroe doctrine in terms of immediate action. It is by no means impossible that a few short weeks will make us face a decision. It will be a decision which can't wait. Will we allow a German seizure of British and French possessions in this hemisphere that we are going to plant air and naval bases where they are needed?

"The sensible thing would be for the hemisphere powers to pool their resources not merely in united defense, but in a new and overt imperialism which could fight foot to foot with the new German expansion. I believe the South American countries would see it our way they are scared, and we would win respect by a bold and aggressive policy."

Personally, I think Mr. Walmsley is taking too much for granted. I don't think Hitler, in spite of all the bad news the last few days, is going to grab the world. I am not underwriting his hemisphere empire. But, in citing this and other similar letters, I think there is to be noted a salutary change in our public attitude. This time we seem to be intent on saving America first. We have been shocked into some realistic thinking.

There are strong forces abroad which would put us into the empire business in a big way, not to save the British empire or democracy, or freedom of the seas, but to save our own hides. There is definitely forming a hemisphere-empire group which counsels a swift pooling of power and interests and a bold front of empire imperialism. Letters about it are filtering into even this inconspicuous and non-imperial corner.

But, at any rate, this country seems aroused as never before, and everybody from brass-rail philosophers to the state department is blacksmithing out theories of what we ought to do. That would seem to be all to the good, even if it did take an earthquake to wake us up. When thee's a four-eleven alarm, we at least begin to think of saving the canary.

Sunday School Lesson

FOR JUNE 30

By William E. Gilroy, D. D.
Editor of Advance

The title of this lesson, "Jonah: the Outreach of God's Love," is impressive in the truthfulness and accuracy with which it describes a book that has been perhaps more seriously misunderstood and mistreated than any other writing in history.

With the serious literalism of those who have been unable in their reading of the Bible to realize the nature and extent of imagery in the presentation of truth, or with the light and trivial humor that has attached to it, reference to the book of Jonah has almost completely centered around the "fish story."

This would not matter so much were it not that in this literalism and in this concentration upon the story of the great fish swallowing Jonah, there has been an almost complete loss of the great spiritual teaching and beauty of a book that, although it is only of a few chapters, marks the very highest point of Old Testament teaching in its conception of God and His grace.

It is not any part of this comment to enter into, or to discuss, the controversies by which men have missed the message and meaning of this prophecy. But I do wish to emphasize its great teaching. It is obvious that, to get any teaching from the book, it must be read as a whole. The its needs and the boundless grace of God which He has intended for all? text of our lesson, in fact, is taken from two chapters. But the book is not a long one, and even before considering the passage set for a lesson, one should read the entire book.

The details of the story are fairly familiar. Nineveh, at the time of the story, was a great and wicked city, and Jonah received the call of God to go and witness there for righteousnss and truth. It was not unnatural that he should rebel against such a task. It was an unpleasant task in itself, to go as an individual and set himself as a preacher in the hostile environment of luxury and wickedness. He might well have asked what his lone voice, crying in such a scene, could have accomplished.

But there was a further antipathy in Jonah to obedience to this call. Nineveh was a foreign city against which Jonah might have been expected to have all the prejudice of a Jew, who believed himself to be of a chosen race.

Here there emerges the great central idea of the book and its teaching. It is a missionary book, presenting with considerable clarity the conception of God as the God of the whole world whose grace and mercy are for all people and not for the chosen few.

In this respect Jonah's reluctance to go and preach in Nineveh is typical of that narrow conception of religion and life, that lack of any apprehension of the richness and fullness of God's mercy, which has led even good people in later ages, as in our own time, to be very apathetic regarding the spread of the gospel.

Is it not true that we are most content to live within our own narrow circle of home, or community, or nation, disregarding the larger world and its needs and the boundless grace of God which He has intended for all?

If the world had been more a world of Christian missions, in the spirit of the Book of Jonah, it would be less the war-torn world, stricken with disaster, that it is today.

OUR CHILDREN

By Angelo Patri

Mary Jane missed her tables and kept on missing them all term, so when promotion time came the teacher held her pen over Mary Jane's name a long time.

"She is so poor in arithmetic. But she is fine in all the other subjects. I'll send her ahead and condition her in arithmetic."

Mary Jane got a promotion card, and written in one corner in red was the note: "Conditioned in arithmetic. Needs help."

That note troubled Mary Jane's mother so she went to school and asked if Mary Jane ought to go to summer school and study those tables and master those examples. If she did she could not go to the farm for vacation, and she would love going. Of course, lessons came first and if it was best for Mary Jane to go to summer school to learn that arithmetic that is what she wuold have to do.

Choose The Farm

The teacher thought fast. Would Mary Jane learn more by studying in town during the next two months or by going to the farm? She was a bright little girl to whom experiences meant richer meanings to everything she touched. If she returned in fall in good health, and with an enriched store of experiences, wouldn't that be a better start for the fall's arithmetic than summer school work? "Send her to the farm and let her forget school and see how that works."

It works very well for such children. Many little girls are not ready for arithmetic as early as for other subjects. Given a little more time and encouragement, they arrive at the place where their power to understand number relations wakens and gets to work. Then they do as well as the others.

Drilling a child whose powers are delayed like this is useless. Their ability to understand must wait upon the ability of their brain cells to function. In some children certain sets of cells, one never know which they will be, develop later than others. There is nothing to do but to wait until those cells are ready for work. When they are ready the child learns easily.

Good Make-Up Time

That is why some teachers like to delay the teaching of numbers to young children until the second and third years in school. In many children, particularly in many little girls, this power comes a bit later than the power to read. It will come in its time and the child will do quite as well, often better, than the early number proficient one.

Summer school is fine for children who have lost work for some personal reason such as change of school, illness and the like. It is good for children who need to make up time because of late entrance in school. It is good for children who are otherwise without aim in their vacation time. It is not good for the child who is sick or tired or like Mary Jane—of delayed development in some direction.

A fine way for children to spend the summer vacation is in the country on a farm, or, best of all, in a well-managed children's camp. Summer camping is an essential part of a city child's education. If at all possible for them to enjoy it, they should have it. I am hoping that some day we will have provision for this plan of summer training in the public schools so that all children may know its benefits.

JOBS for JUNE GRADUATES

By A. H. Edgerton
(Director of Vocational Guidance, University of Wisconsin)

As a result of a nationwide occupational trend study of more than 144,000 positions actually filled by school and college graduates, it is predicted that the best jobs of tomorrow will go to the well-adjusted and versatile. It was also found that the individual most in demand is one who can get along successfully with other persons, controls his emotions, likes and dislikes.

Edgerton

Mere skill and knowledge no longer suffice. Employers insist that social facility is now an indispensable factor in occupational success. Such shortcomings as poor self-control, dishonesty and lack of dependability must be conquered if one is to succeed.

Two words, "adequately trained," will spell the difference between employment for thousands of young men and women this year. This does not mean merely that they must be skilled in technical processes of occupation, but it does mean that they must possess fundamental knowledge on which processes are built and that they must be able to adjust and adapt themselves to changing conditions.

Today employers tend to scrutinize the general training and special fitness of the most likely applicants even before arranging employment interviews. Other things being equal, those well trained through broad liberal studies and the basic thinking processes now have some advantage over more narrowly trained individuals whose early specialized preparation has sacrificed general educational background.

With millions of men and women out of work employers are more exacting in demands than ever before. They are seeking workers who are capable of growing on the job.

Nearly all employment offices report that requests for applicants are becoming increasingly definite. Practically all help wanted orders specify particular educational preparation and special qualifications needed.

With occasional exceptions employers are prone to seek individuals who are capable of keeping a jump ahead of changing requirements.

Chances for employment promise to be better this year than they have been since 1930 for qualified men and women, but the day of the narrow specialist is passing in many occupations.

Some of the occupations in which opportunities exist today and which promise even greater opportunities in the future can be divided into two classifications: those in which prospects are limited, and those which offer a wealth of opportunity.

In the limited class are aviation, radio, small farming, mining, engineering, acting, metropolitan journalism, library management, fine arts, architecture, law medicine, music, social work, teaching, etc.

Expanding possibilities are to be found in metallurgy, accounting, banking, farm management, retail selling, skilled trades, commercial designing, business administration, salesmanship, industrial and scientific research, city management and planning, dietetics, industrial chemistry, etc.

Many employers call attention to promising opportunities in enterprises dealing with creative ideas and work in science, art, mechanics, literature, electricity, merchandising, management, finance and the like which capitalize on personal growth, courage and character.

They are generally small or medium-sized concerns rather than any large companies. Some state there are greater opportunities for freedom, independence, satisfaction and growth, for example, on a small town weekly than on a metropolitan daily newspaper.

Others point to small, growing experimental laboratories or manufacturing firms in preference to organizations of long standing.

A low-price plane designed for private fliers will seat two passengers side by side, will have an 85-horsepower engine mounted in pusher style, will fly 130 miles an hour or better, and land nose down.

STAMP NEWS

By I. S. Klein

Stamp Marked Growth Of U. S. Manufactures

RAPIDLY increasing demand, both in domestic and foreign markets, boomed the growth of the American factory system in the first 25 years of the 20th century. This expansion was marked philatelically by the issue of the U. S. 25-cent parcel post stamp, above, honoring manufactures, released in 1912.

In 1899, 207,514 factories employed 4,712,763 workers, produced $11,406,926,701 worth of products; in 1914, there were 275,791 factories, 7,036,337 wage earners producing products valued at $24,246,434,724.

The year 1919 saw manufacturing at its peak with 290,105 establishments employing 9,096,372 workers to produce goods worth $62,418,078,773. Ten years later the value of the goods jumped to $69,960,909,712, but fewer factories were in operation and fewer workers were employed. Latest census reports list 166,794 factories, 8,569,231 workers, and products valued at $60,712,871,737.

We Need Tough, Pliable Minds

The United States at this moment faces several situations in which precedent is no guide. Other such situations are certain to develop.

The past, except in the most general way, is no guide. Countries which have clung to past precedents have gone under.

We need every ounce of mental resiliency we can summon to guide our course through shoals that loom up directly ahead.

For instance: The United States has officially declared that it will not tolerate transfer of New World soil from one Old World country to another. That is not new. It goes back 100 years. But new techniques may be desirable in enforcing it.

The United States does not covet, for its own sake, any more territory in the western hemisphere or elsewhere. French island or continental possessions we do not want to annex. Yet we will not see them fall to Hitler or any other European power.

What to do?

When a colony's home government is destroyed or ceases to function, that colony becomes automatically an independent country. The French possessions in the New World are small and defenseless. They could not maintain such an independent status by their own strength.

But to whose interest is it that they become independent rather than fall into the hands of European conquerors? To that of all the 21 American republics! So why should not all of those American countries join in guaranteeing this new-found independence? It is true that the major share in defending such countries would probably fall to the United States. But that is no reason why all should not share to the extent that they can. Dr. Oswald Aranha of Brazil has already suggested some such final answer should emergency develop.

Nothing quite like this has ever been done. Yet is it not better than annexation, which would stir again in South American breasts distrust of "The Colossus of the North"?

The situation of France itself is uncertain at this moment—that of her overseas possessions is more so. But the situation may clarify at any moment—action may be necessary. The American nations should meet immediately and decide in advance that they will resolutely face their responsibilities in this connection if circumstances so dictate.

The United States would prefer this kind of joint action. But if other American countries draw back or hesitate, necessity may force the United States to act.

KEEPING THE SHIRT ON

The United States is fully determined on immediate development of such military power as will enable us to meet without fear any conditions that may come out of the present European war.

It implies no slackening of that effort to say that the persecution of obscure religious sects like Jehovah's Witnesses will do nothing to advance it. In Texas and Maine these people have succeeded in irritating crowds so far that violence resulted.

To 99 people out of 100 on whom they try to impinge their beliefs, these people seem misguided and ridiculous. Yet their unwillingness to render forced salutes to the flag seems based on a religious scruple rather than on any basic disloyalty to the country of which the flag is a symbol.

No good is accomplished by dragging out and beating such people, or by burning their halls. There is serious business to be done, business that is not advanced by petty persecution.

On the other hand, it might not be too much to ask that devotees of such sects refrain from thrusting their beliefs forcibly under the noses of people who they must know will consider them irritating, objectionable, or obnoxious.

YES, WE ARE SERIOUS!

Does anyone doubt the deadly earnestness with which the United States is entering into its defense program? Let him talk to Treasury Secretary Morgenthau.

Morgenthau has been embarrassed by a flood of gifts, from a dime to $500, which has been pouring into the treasury from people who said, "Use this to help defend the United States."

The treasury does not encourage this sort of thing, though the law permits it to accept such gifts when given for general purposes without strings attached.

When people are enough concerned about defense to send in their dimes and dollars without even being asked, you know that the plain people are getting stirred up. And when the American plain people get stirred up, things happen. Nothing must be allowed to balk, even temporarily, a determination as strong as that shown by these dimes and dollars freely given.

• BRUCE CATTON IN WASHINGTON

WASHINGTON—The Dies committee may soon be organized on a permanent, nation-wide basis, expanded and equipped to play a large role in the government's campaign against fifth column activity.

That is a plan now being worked out by the committee's chairman, Representative Martin Dies of Texas. It has an excellent chance for adoption, for the New Deal has made its peace with Dies. The administration is now cooperating with him, and he with the administration.

Under the plan now being considered, the Dies committee would have a central office, coordinating work done in regional offices in a half-dozen places. As a result of the new understanding between Dies and others hitherto hostile or indifferent to his work, the drive on Communists and other "ism-ites" is due to get rolling shortly on a scale hitherto unknown.

Will Have 100,000 On Indexed List

The Dies committee is hard at work on a vast mass of material collected on Communist and Communist-front activities. By fall, Dies believes he will have ready a card-index containing over 100,000 names, with material at hand to show exactly what part each played, directly and indirectly, in the general Communist program A large number of government employes will be on the list, he says.

The "library" already amassed by the Dies investigators includes not only documents submitted in evidence, but copies of every significant publication, pamphlet, broadside and handout issued by every Communist and "Communist-front" outfit in the United States during the past two years.

More Money Needed To Expand Work

To digest and index all this material, as well as to provide an office staff of at least 15 in Washington and to expand greatly the present field force of nine, will require more money. Mr. Dies is asking for another $100,000.

He is also considering asking congress to make his committee one of its regular standing committees, like those on military affairs, appropriations and the like. That would make it permanent, assure sufficient funds from year to year, and enable it to build up a permanent office and field staff.

Plans To Work Behind Closed Doors

Chances are, most of the committee's work henceforth will be done behind closed doors. Mr. Dies believes public sentiment is so stirred up over fifth column activities that open hearings might be unwise. Recently several witnesses testified on Communist activity in TVA. On their return home they found themselves in some danger of mob violence, the home folks having concluded that if they knew so much about it, they must be fifth columnists themselves.

"We've pretty well educated the public about the way these subversive groups work," says Mr. Dies. "Now we want to try to prevent spying and sabotage. We can call witnesses, hear them in private, and then turn a transcript of the testimony over to the appropriate government agency."

JIMMIE FIDLER In Hollywood

HOLLYWOOD, June 22.—Dear Staff: I don't know when I've been more inspired than a few nights ago, when the movie mothers (mamas of the stars) held their annual dinner at the Pirate's Den.

About 200 were present, including mothers, sons and daughters, and guests. Frankly, I was shocked when I counted noses and found several mamas without their sons and daughters, who were "too busy" to come.

And again, I boiled when I learned that a few mothers wouldn't come because they were ashamed to attend without their "too busy" children. Too busy to spend this one night with their mothers? That's a black eye for those particular stars, whom I'd name right out loud if by so doing I wouldn't hurt their mothers' feelings almost as much as the children themselves hurt them.

When the mothers gathered on the dance floor for a waltz, I saw proud, happy tears glistening on the cheeks of many. And my biggest kick of the evening came when Mickey Rooney whispered: "Gee, this is a swell party, and it's made me think. Tonight's the first time I've danced with mother since New Year's—and I'm not going to be so neglectful again." Good for Mickey! Good for all those stars who were seated at their mothers tables!

As for those selfish sons and daughters who were seen in other night clubs and at other parties, instead of being with their mothers—well, they should be spanked and sent to bed without supper. Oh sure, they provide for their parents financially. But I'll bet those mamas who wouldn't attend the party because their children refused, would prefer less financing and more personal love.

Next time, I hope all the stars will be present—and if the movie mothers will let columnists' mamas attend, will they please be kind enough to invite the Fidlers, mother and son?

JIMMIE FIDLER.

Dear Boss: With the Hollywood front unusually quiet (most ears being anxiously glued to radio sets), here's today's communique:

Wot's this about Warner Brothers dickering a deal with Republic under which the latter studio, better trained in low cost production methods, will make all of WB's class B features? . . . Bobby Breen is mulling offers for a summer tour of New England's "Straw Hat" theater circuit and will probably accept in an effort to prove to Hollywood producers that he can handle non-single roles. . . . Today's news puzzle: Announcement that WB, which only a few weeks ago paid Miriam Hopkins plenty to tear up her term contract, now has signed her on a one-picture deal—presumably at bigger dough—to star in "The Lady With Red Hair."

Child-star Dicky Jones planes to Houston, Tex., today to be installed as honorary mayor. . . . Roy (Ride-'em) Rogers is Adirondacks-bound for a three weeks' loll to regain verve lost in that tonsillectomy. . . . Nite-club evesdroppers report that Jack Oakie and Venita Varden are tiffing again. . . . Since publicizing Dottie Lamour's hair-bob, Paramount has been buried under an avalanche of fan letters requesting shorn locks. (Arthur Murray calls her haircut a "Refugee Bob"—parted on one side and brought over to the other.)

M-G-M has ordered full speed ahead in readying a story for Robert Montgomery—now en route from Europe's war front—hoping to cash in on headline publicity anent his ambulance-driving adventures. . . . Plans for Garbo, on the contrary, are in the doldrums. Valued chiefly for her foreign following, it's hinted Greta won't face cameras again until European markets are restored. . . . Is Jack Benny's squawk because Fred Allen gets Par's super de luxe dressing room part of the feud gag, or on the level? . . . Eleanor Powell, released from the hospital today following a major operation, is under orders to take a two months' complete rest before donning dance shoes. . . . Robert Taylor's "calm disposition" (see all publicity copy) can't stand the strain of golf—one too many slices yesterday and he threw his clubs away and stalked off the course.

John Howard, hosting his parents, has rented a La Jolla house for the summer and will commute 100 miles daily. . . . Travel note: June Priesser to Washington, D. C., to visit her sister, Mrs. David Hopkins, whose papa-in-law is Commerce Secretary. . . . Gregory Ratoff, under 20th Century contract to act as well as direct, has notified Zanuck he will not don make-up again after completing his current role in "The Great Profile." . . . If you hear Don Ameche's lost his shirt, check it off as a sizable loss—he donated an old one for a Red Cross auction in North Platte, Neb., and it brought $17.80!

A PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES ADVERTISED FOR A SECRETARY OF THE NAVY—After Benjamin Stoddert, secretary of the navy from 1798-1801, resigned his position, President Jefferson was forced to advertise in the newspapers for a man to take the job. The position was very unimportant at the time, because the whole United States navy consisted of only three ships. Robert Smith answered the ad, and became secretary of the navy from 1802 to 1805. He later became United States attorney general and secretary of state.

Human Side Of The News

(Copyright, 1940, by King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

Back in the days of "manifest destiny," and Admiral Mahan's call to a plunge into imperialism, we thought we wanted to branch out a lot more than we really did. We really didn't get our backs into it and our first venture was just a hesitant little crow-hop, and then we were glad to stay home and mind our own business—until 1917, and after that we said "never again!"

When the issue of our taking the Philippines was being debated, old Senator Champ Clark of Missouri, father of the present Senator Bennett Champ Clark, put it this way:

"One of two things is true. Either these people can govern themselves, or they can't govern themselves. If they can't govern themselves, we don't want 'em. We're a self-governing people. If they can govern themselves, for God's sake let 'em govern themselves!"

That scandalized his Chautauqua audience of preachers and professors. To them it was disgraceful reference to a divinely ordained mission. Quite a few people felt that way then, and no doubt this missionary zeal also helped shove us into the World war.

This writer has just received a very interesting letter from Mr. C. R. Walmsley of Cresskill, N. J. He says this:

"If the world is to be torn up and reorganized by Hitler, adequate defense of our own soil, which must come first, of course, will not alone save us. South America is a loose congeries of politically backward states, shot through with Nazi subversions and back-stabbers. The Panama canal, indispensable to our naval, military and economic survival, could not possibly be defended if Latin America were engulfed in the new savagery.

"With the rest of the world Hitler's slave pen, we could not hope to compete, and if we sold anything, anywhere, it would have to be on his terms. There are immediate and desperate reasons for re-interpreting the Monroe doctrine in terms of immediate action. It is by no means impossible that a few short weeks will make us face a decision. It will be a decision which can't wait. Will we allow a German seizure of British and French possessions in this hemisphere that we are going to plant air and naval bases where they are needed?

"The sensible thing would be for the hemisphere powers to pool their resources not merely in united defense, but in a new and overt imperialism which could fight foot to foot with the new German expansion. I believe the South American countries would see it our way they are scared, and we would win respect by a bold and aggressive policy."

Personally, I think Mr. Walmsley is taking too much for granted. I don't think Hitler, in spite of all the bad news the last few days, is going to grab the world. I am not underwriting his hemisphere empire. But, in citing this and other similar letters, I think there is to be noted a salutary change in our public attitude. This time we seem to be intent on saving America first. We have been shocked into some realistic thinking.

There are strong forces abroad which would put us into the empire business in a big way, not to save the British empire or democracy, or freedom of the seas, but to save our own hides. There is definitely forming a hemisphere-empire group which counsels a swift pooling of power and interests and a bold front of empire imperialism. Letters about it are filtering into even this inconspicuous and non-imperial corner.

But, at any rate, this country seems aroused as never before, and everybody from brass-rail philosophers to the state department is blacksmithing out theories of what we ought to do. That would seem to be all to the good. even if it did take an earthquake to wake us up. When thee's a four-eleven alarm, we at least begin to think of saving the canary.

Sunday School Lesson

By William E. Gilroy, D. D.
Editor of Advance

The title of this lesson, "Jonah: the Outreach of God's Love," is impressive in the truthfulness and accuracy with which it describes a book that has been perhaps more seriously misunderstood and mistreated than any other writing in history.

With the serious literalism of those who have been unable in their reading of the Bible to realize the nature and extent of imagery in the presentation of truth, or with the light and trivial humor that has attached to it, reference to the book of Jonah has almost completely centered around the "fish story."

This would not matter so much were it not that in this literalism and in this concentration upon the story of the great fish swallowing Jonah, there has been an almost complete loss of the great spiritual teaching and beauty of a book that, although it is only of a few chapters, marks the very highest point of Old Testament teaching in its conception of God and His grace.

It is not any part of this comment to enter into, or to discuss, the controversies by which men have missed the message and meaning of this prophecy. But I do wish to emphasize its great teaching. It is obvious that, to get any teaching from the book, it must be read as a whole. The its needs and the boundless grace of God which He has intended for all? text of our lesson, in fact, is taken from two chapters. But the book is not a long one, and even before considering the passage set for a lesson, one should read the entire book.

The details of the story are fairly familiar. Nineveh, at the time of the story, was a great and wicked city, and Jonah received the call of God to go and witness there for righteousnss and truth. It was not unnatural that he should rebel against such a task. It was an unpleasant task in itself, to go as an individual and set himself as a preacher in the hostile environment of luxury and wickedness. He might well have asked what his lone voice, crying in such a scene, could have accomplished.

But there was a further antipathy in Jonah to obedience to this call. Nineveh was a foreign city against which Jonah might have been expected to have all the prejudice of a Jew, who believed himself to be of a chosen race.

Here there emerges the great central idea of the book and its teaching. It is a missionary book, presenting with considerable clarity the conception of God as the God of the whole world whose grace and mercy are for all people and not for the chosen few.

In this respect Jonah's reluctance to go and preach in Nineveh is typical of that narrow conception of religion and life, that lack of any apprehension of the richness and fullness of God's mercy, which has led even good people in later ages, as in our own time, to be very apathetic regarding the spread of the gospel.

Is it not true that we are most content to live within our own narrow circle of home, or community, or nation, disregarding the larger world and If the world had been more a world of Christian missions, in the spirit of the Book of Jonah, it would be less the war-torn world, stricken with disaster, that it is today.

OUR CHILDREN

By Angelo Patri

Mary Jane missed her tables and kept on missing them all term, so when promotion time came the teacher held her pen over Mary Jane's name a long time.

"She is so poor in arithmetic. But she is fine in all the other subjects. I'll send her ahead and condition her in arithmetic."

Mary Jane got a promotion card, and written in one corner in red was the note: "Conditioned in arithmetic. Needs help."

That note troubled Mary Jane's mother so she went to school and asked if Mary Jane ought to go to summer school and study those tables and master those examples. If she did she could not go to the farm for vacation, and she would love going. Of course, lessons came first and if it was best for Mary Jane to go to summer school to learn that arithmetic that is what she wuold have to do.

Choose The Farm

The teacher thought fast. Would Mary Jane learn more by studying in town during the next two months or by going to the farm? She was a bright little girl to whom experiences meant richer meanings to everything she touched. If she returned in fall in good health, and with an enriched store of experiences, wouldn't that be a better start for the fall's arithmetic than summer school work? "Send her to the farm and let her forget school and see how that works."

It works very well for such children. Many little girls are not ready for arithmetic as early as for other subjects. Given a little more time and encouragement, they arrive at the place where their power to understand number relations wakens and gets to work. Then they do as well as the others.

Drilling a child whose powers are delayed like this is useless. Their ability to understand must wait upon the ability of their brain cells to function. In some children certain sets of cells, one never know which they will be, develop later than others. There is nothing to do but to wait until those cells are ready for work. When they are ready the child learns easily.

Good Make-Up Time

That is why some teachers like to delay the teaching of numbers to young children until the second and third years in school. In many children, particularly in many little girls, this power comes a bit later than the power to read. It will come in its time and the child will do quite as well, often better, than the early number proficient one.

Summer school is fine for children who have lost work for some personal reason such as change of school, illness and the like. It is good for children who need to make up time because of late entrance in school. It is good for children who are otherwise without aim in their vacation time. It is not good for the child who is sick or tired or like Mary Jane—of delayed development in some direction.

A fine way for children to spend the summer vacation is in the country on a farm, or, best of all, in a well-managed children's camp. Summer camping is an essential part of a city child's education. If at all possible for them to enjoy it, they should have it. I am hoping that some day we will have provision for this plan of summer training in the public schools so that all children may know its benefits.

JOBS for JUNE GRADUATES

By A. H. Edgerton

Edgerton

As a result of a nationwide occupational trend, study of more than 144,000 positions actually filled by school and college graduates, it is predicted that the best jobs of tomorrow will go to the well-adjusted and versatile. It was also found that the individual most in demand is one who can get along successfully with other persons, controls his emotions, likes and dislikes.

Mere skill and knowledge no longer suffice. Employers insist that social facility is now an indispensable factor in occupational success. Such shortcomings as poor self-control, dishonesty and lack of dependability must be conquered if one is to succeed.

Two words, "adequately trained," will spell the difference between employment for thousands of young men and women this year. This does not mean merely that they must be skilled in technical processes of occupation, but it does mean that they must possess fundamental knowledge on which processes are built and that they must be able to adjust and adapt themselves to changing conditions.

Today employers tend to scrutinize the general training and special fitness of the most likely applicants even before arranging employment interviews. Other things being equal, those well trained through broad liberal studies and the basic thinking processes now have some advantage over more narrowly trained individuals whose early specialized preparation has sacrificed general educational background.

With millions of men and women out of work employers are more exacting in demands than ever before. They are seeking workers who are capable of growing on the job.

Nearly all employment offices report that requests for applicants are becoming increasingly definite. Practically all help wanted orders specify particular educational preparation and special qualifications needed.

With occasional exceptions employers are prone to seek individuals who are capable of keeping a jump ahead of changing requirements.

Chances for employment promise to be better this year than they have been since 1930 for qualified men and women, but the day of the narrow specialist is passing in many occupations.

Some of the occupations in which opportunities exist today and which promise even greater opportunities in the future can be divided into two classifications: those in which prospects are limited, and those which offer a wealth of opportunity.

In the limited class are aviation, radio, small farming, mining, engineering, acting, metropolitan journalism, library management, fine arts, architecture, law medicine, music, social work, teaching, etc.

Expanding possibilities are to be found in metallurgy, accounting, banking, farm management, retail selling, skilled trades, commercial designing, business administration, salesmanship, industrial and scientific research, city management and planning, dietetics, industrial chemistry, etc.

Many employers call attention to promising opportunities in enterprises dealing with creative ideas and work in science, art, mechanics, literature, electricity, merchandising, management, finance and the like which capitalize on personal growth, courage and character.

They are generally small or medium-sized concerns rather than any large companies. Some state there are greater opportunities for freedom, independence, satisfaction and growth, for example, on a small town weekly than on a metropolitan daily newspaper.

Others point to small, growing experimental laboratories or manufacturing firms in preference to organizations of long standing.

A low-price plane designed for private fliers will seat two passengers side by side, will have an 85-horsepower engine mounted in pusher style, will fly 130 miles an hour or better, and land nose down.

Stamp Marked Growth Of U. S. Manufactures

RAPIDLY increasing demand, both in domestic and foreign markets, boomed the growth of the American factory system in the first 25 years of the 20th century. This expansion was marked philatelically by the issue of the U. S. 25-cent parcel post stamp, above, honoring manufactures, released in 1912.

In 1899, 207,514 factories employed 4,712,763 workers, produced $11,406,926,701 worth of products; in 1914, there were 275,791 factories, 7,036,337 wage earners producing products valued at $24,246,434,724.

The year 1919 saw manufacturing at its peak with 290,105 establishments employing 9,096,372 workers to produce goods worth $62,418,078,773. Ten years later the value of the goods jumped to $69,960,909,712, but fewer factories were in operation and fewer workers were employed. Latest census reports list 166,794 factories, 8,569,231 workers, and products valued at $60,712,871,737.

OVERHAUL BOARD, JONES IS URGED

Group Recommends Changes In Interest Of National Defense

BATON ROUGE, La., June 22.—(AP)—Governor Sam H. Jones' committee on the New Orleans Dock board today urged him to overhaul that agency from the governing body down in the interest of national defense and the development of the port.

The citizens' committee in a lengthy report declared that funds and personnel "have been repeatedly and persistently used for partisan political purposes, to an extent seriously to injure the proper business of the board."

It warned that "the relation of the United States to that (European) conflict is fraught with the possibility of immense duties and responsibilities to be imposed upon the port of New Orleans . . . which may speedily be called upon to make decisions and perform actions of supreme importance."

Specifically citing possible location of aircraft production in the interior served by the port, the committee recommended the governor prepare the dock board by making changes in membership "without delay," to clear the way for reorganization.

The report charges payroll padding to such extremes as employment of 19 gardeners to tend flowers around the board's grain elevator; de-ducts going as high as 45 per cent; boosting of payrolls around election time so that last January's wages were four times those of the post-primary month of April.

The committee accused the board of lacking initiative to develop the business of the port, and noted New Orleans had "lost progressively more commerce to neighboring and competing ports," and remarked there were more port charges than on any other Gulf wharves.

It recommended efforts to attract industries, federalization of the Industrial canal, refunding of board debt at lower interest rates, a fight on rate discrimination against New Orleans, exploitation of the port's advantage as a petroleum distribution and refining center, liaison with the levee board and public belt railway, civil service, whether or not the general civil service bill passes, and a general reorganization of the staff.

The board's physical facilities should be improved $2,500,000 worth, the committee found, while representatives should be stationed in such important interior cities as St. Louis and Kansas City. Meanwhile, better relations could be obtained with private warehouse and compress interests, the findings held.

LEGION MEMBERS HOLDING 2 FORTS

mier Petain of France announced he was asking the Germans for terms of peace.

The German commander at Pontarlier received a telephone call from the Legionnaires at Le Joux and L'Ecluse inviting him to "come and get us."

The Germans are still trying. But their commander is not answering any more telephone calls from the defenders.

In one attack, five parachute soldiers were dropped on top of Le Joux fort. They were shot.

The forts, well stocked with supplies and ammunition, block the way of German troops attempting to push through the rugged country around the bulge of Switzerland to join Italian troops in the Alps. The defense works guard the gorges of the Rhone and Doubs rivers and an international railway from France into Switzerland.

Peasants living near the forts have fled into Switzerland with stories of night sorties in which the Legionnaires attacked German positions and combed the countryside for barbed wire and cattle.

They said the defenders told them: "We'll go right on fighting—peace or no peace—until we get hungry. Then maybe we'll surrender to Swiss troops."

'GHOST FLEET' MAY SAIL AGAIN

Part of a group of 43 ships in New Orleans "Ghost Fleet" which were formerly owned by the United States Maritime commission which have been tied up for 16 years at Nine-Mile Point near New Orleans. Now a congressional amendment allows the ships to be sold to private concerns and it is expected that they will soon be crowding foreign ports with cargo hauls.

GULF COAST HAS 'HOPE' FOR TRADE

Territory May Come In For Business With Latin-America, He Says

By William T. Rives

HOUSTON, June 22.—(AP)—Acceleration of trade with Latin-America lies before the Gulf coast as a ray of hope piercing war gloom.

The foreign market, annually a source of vast revenue for this area, virtually has collapsed as one country after another took the road to war and consequently was banned to American vessels.

T. L. Evans of Houston, foreign expert, says "Latin-America can absorb about 35 per cent of the trade lost by the United States because of the war, and the Gulf coast, conservatively speaking, can come in for 10 per cent of the amount."

Evans, secretary of the Houston Foreign Trade association, urged that Latin-American trade be fostered on a permanent basis.

"The situation is a close parallel to that existing in 1914, when we were handed the business of Latin-America overnight, which ordinarily would have taken us years to accomplish in the face of strong competition from other nations.

"And when the World war was over, we turned our attention again to the trade in Europe and neglected our neighbors to the south.

"The result was that this business again returned to Europe."

Latin-America is eager, Evans said, to seal its connections with the United States on a permanent basis because of a conviction that Europe is too unstable a continent.

Talk of European influence in South America has been over-emphasized, he asserted.

"It's true South America used to be scared of us because it felt we were a big nation which intended ultimately to take over its countries.

"But that has all changed now since President Roosevelt's visit and Secretary Hull instituted his reciprocal trade program."

Evans recently headed a good will flight to the Latin-American countries and reported an "enthusiastic response."

"If there was any substantial European influence, I didn't see it," he said.

of Compiegne a peace based upon the broad dictate laid down by Adolf Hitler.

It was an armistice still conditioned, however, on a second capitulation—to Italy—and tonight men fought on in a conflict that was a war no longer.

It was an agreement that will bring a real armistice only after the French have made their terms with Premier Mussolini.

Six hours after the notice of this second armistice has been received by the Nazi high command, the guns will cease to speak.

In the same old railway car in the Compiegne forest where the Kaiser's delegation bowed in defeat to Marshal Ferdinand Foch on November 11, 1918, two ranking generals at 6:50 p. m. (10:50 a. m. central standard time) put pens to the French surrender of 1940.

The weary French delegation took a plane almost immediately for an undisclosed city in Italy to begin their conversations with Mussolini.

This French surrender at an old and bitterly remembered scene of German defeat—the railway car in the forest—was signed by Colonel General Wilhelm Keitel for Germany and by General Charles Huntziger for France.

Just what France had agreed to, at the end of a short and bloody struggle which in 43 days left half her country in German hands, was not disclosed pending the Italian negotiations.

But when Hitler took his dictate to them yesterday he stated in a preamble to his detailed terms three broad conditions that must be met. France was to agree to:

Give "guarantees" to Germany to help her wage war on the historic French ally, England.

Submit to a "new" peace in Europe which would be designed above everything to help to wipe out the "wrong done to the German Reich by force" in the last war.

The fuehrer was not present at today's session.

Even during the last hours of the solemn discussion in the shadows of Compiegne forest, the French armies were being pursued by German forces in the field.

The fact that this struggle might go on for agonizing hours seemed plain in the terms of the German communique announcing the capitulation:

"The cessation of hostilities is not connected with the signing of the treaty. It will follow six hours after the Italian government has notified the German supreme command of the text of the Italo-French armistice treaty."

all material assistance to Great Britain and France.

Stimson also is expected to be asked for a statement of his views before committee action on his nomination.

Criticism in congress of Mr. Roosevelt's choice has centered principally on the appointment of Stimson. In that connection, critics suggested in senate debate yesterday that Secretary of War Woodring was forced to resign because he was unwilling to go as far as Mr. Roosevelt wished in aid to the allies.

While questions of policy continued to agitate both senate and house, they completed action on a $1,000,000,000 tax defense bill and a $1,768,913,908 emergency defense measure supplying funds for airplanes, tanks, guns and other munitions.

The latter bill was the last of the special defense appropriations asked by President Roosevelt.

There was some expectation among the legislators, however, that further requests would be made in the near future, in view of reports that the national defense commission had recommended an additional billion-dollar project to Mr. Roosevelt.

Authoritative sources said that this called for construction of scores of government plants to turn out powder, shells, armor plate, aircraft and other munitions. In addition, it was understood that the commission had recommended further huge orders for airplanes and other weapons to assure that industry could go on a mass production basis.

While this country has only 19 ordnance, chemical, quartermaster and aircraft plants, the army high command has estimated that 139 woud be needed for a major national defense effort. The recommended government construction program, it was said, would be aimed at supplying those which private industry could not be expected to finance or operate.

This statement also said that any alternation of the status quo of The Netherlands Indies by other than peaceful processes "would be prejudicial to the cause of stability, peace and security not only in the region of The Netherlands Indies but also in the entire Pacific area."

In his remarks on the Pan-American conference, the secretary of state said that a tentative United States proposal for an inter-American trading arrangement was almost ready for submission to the individual governments in this hemisphere, but that this plan would not necessarily be taken up at the forthcoming Pan-American consultation.

Reliable sources have described the trade proposal as a suggestion that a huge cartel or monopoly be established to handle exports of surplus products from all the Americas. Thus, advocates contend, a victorious Germany would be prevented from imposing barter trade methods upon American countries and from playing one American nation against another to beat down their prices.

District Attorney Scarborough today announced the subpoenaing of the following state witnesses for the Leche trial:

James A. Noe, Monroe, former governor and state senator; T. H. Harris, former state superintendent of education; Judge H. H. White, Alexandria, president of the state board of education; J. W. Evans, treasurer at Louisiana Tech; Summa Caldwell, New Orleans, member of the firm of Caldwell Brothers and Hart, contractors erecting the Tech building; Thomas M. Amoss, New Orleans, time-keeper on the construction job; Add Thompson, president of the First National Bank of Ruston, through which the check of $27,000 allegedly passed; R. E. Golden, cashier of the Bank of Erath, where the check is said to have been deposited; Dr. George W. Bond, president of Louisiana Tech when the contract was let and the construction of the building was started, now dean of the school of education at Southeastern Louisiana college, Hammond, and Patrick Mouton, Lafayette, the messenger allegedly reported to have taken the building contracts to Judge White in Alexandria for his signature as president of the state board of education.

C. E. Barham, Ruston, co-counsel for Leche, said today that the defense had summoned the following witnesses:

Walter J. Bourke, New Iberia, member of the state board of education; Lester Hughes, district attorney at Natchitoches; George T. Madison, Bastrop, member of the state board of education; J. B. Lancaster, auditor of public accounts, Baton Rouge; Mr. Ellison, A. P. Tugwell, state treasurer; Edward F. Neild, Jr., Shreveport, and D. A. Somdal, Shreveport, members of the architects' firm associated in preparing the plans for the Tech building; J. Fair Hardin, Shreveport, a special investigator; Frank S. Shattuck, supervisor of public funds, and President E. S. Richardson of Louisiana Tech. State witnesses also summoned by the defense include Dr. Bond, Judge White, Mr. Evans, Mr. Caldwell and Mr. Harris.

The district attorney here last month accepted a motion of severance of Leche from four others named in the indictment. Those four, who have not been formally arraigned and consequently whose trial dates have not been set, are Leon C. Weiss, F. Julius Dreyfus and Solis Seiferth, New Orleans, architects drawing plans for the Tech hall, and Monte E. Hart, New Orleans, member of the Caldwell Brothers and Hart contracting firm.

Leche is to be tried under an indictment returned by the Lincoln Parish Grand jury last September, which charged that the original "valid contract bid" for erecting the Tech building had been "raised from $264,482.13 to $291,482.13," or the added sum of $27,000.

Hart and Weiss several months ago at Shreveport were indicted by a federal grand jury for reportedly using the mails to defraud in connection with the Tech building but no bill was returned there against Leche and the other two indicted on state charges at Ruston.

The five-man trial jury for the Leche case will be selected from the following panel of 30 men: Dick Thompson, C. J. Farley, N. E. Dupont, J. M. Pirkle, L. W. Mitchell, H. G. Hammons, E. D. Odom, W. C. Hedgepeth, Drew N. Hays, C. A. Doss, J. M. Jarmon, G. T. Hubbard, S. E. Tarbutton, Joe Singer, W. W. Tubbs, L. N. Graham, C. E. Shallenberger, O. J. Smith, C. F. Brewster, W. C. Owens, A. E. # BIRTH DATE PROOF REQUIRED BY U. S.

Social Security Board Must Have Papers From Applicants

Do you know your own age?

If you do, then another question arises—can you prove the date of your birth?

This is a question many workers seem to be worrying about because the social security board is requesting proof of age from each individual who files a claim for federal old-age and survivors insurance.

Registration of births is practically a new thing in many parts of this country. Not many states maintained accurate records regarding births until a few years ago. Older individuals, therefore, have had to rely on other sources of information. The older persons are naturally more concerned about proving their birth dates than any other age class, since they are the ones who are filing claims for monthly old-age insurance payments.

Proof of age is not difficult, especially the kind of proof required by the social security board. In the sense that the board accepts many kinds of proofs of birth, the policy is considered to be lenient or at least very cooperative. The difficulties of obtaining adequate proofs of birth are not insurmountable as evidenced by the fact that none of the many thousands of claims filed since January 1 of this year have been turned down due to the impossibility of securing some adequate proof.

There are various means of proving one's age, such as:

Registration of the birth of a child by its parents in the family Bible.

Baptismal record.

Date of birth as it appears on a life insurance policy if issued prior to August 14, 1935.

Date of birth as shown on an individual's application for membership in a lodge, fraternal group, or labor union, if dated prior to August 14, 1935.

Affidavits by sisters or brothers.

Affidavits by parents, of course, are sufficient proof of date of birth.

There are few 65-year-old persons whose mothers and fathers are living, but middle-aged and young workers might well obtain proof of date of birth from their parents and file the proof away with their social security account number. Such an affidavit will come in handy when the worker becomes 65 years old and desires to file claim for old-age insurance.

OVERHAUL BOARD, JONES IS URGED

Group Recommends Changes In Interest Of National Defense

BATON ROUGE, La., June 22.—(AP)—Governor Sam H. Jones' committee on the New Orleans Dock board today urged him to overhaul that agency from the governing body down in the interest of national defense and the development of the port.

The citizens' committee in a lengthy report declared that funds and personnel "have been repeatedly and persistently used for partisan political purposes, to an extent seriously to injure the proper business of the board."

It warned that "the relation of the United States to that (European) conflict is fraught with the possibility of immense duties and responsibilities to be imposed upon the port of New Orleans . . . which may speedily be called upon to make decisions and perform actions of supreme importance."

Specifically citing possible location of aircraft production in the interior served by the port, the committee recommended the governor prepare the dock board by making changes in membership "without delay," to clear the way for reorganization.

The report charges payroll padding to such extremes as employment of 19 gardeners to tend flowers around the board's grain elevator; de-ducts going as high as 45 per cent; boosting of payrolls around election time so that last January's wages were four times those of the post-primary month of April.

The committee accused the board of lacking initiative to develop the business of the port, and noted New Orleans had "lost progressively more commerce to neighboring and competing ports," and remarked there were more port charges than on any other Gulf wharves.

It recommended efforts to attract industries, federalization of the Industrial canal, refunding of board debt at lower interest rates, a fight on rate discrimination against New Orleans, exploitation of the port's advantage as a petroleum distribution and refining center, liaison with the levee board and public belt railway, civil service, whether or not the general civil service bill passes, and a general reorganization of the staff.

The board's physical facilities should be improved $2,500,000 worth, the committee found, while representatives should be stationed in such important interior cities as St. Louis and Kansas City. Meanwhile, better relations could be obtained with private warehouse and compress interests, the findings held.

mier Petain of France announced he was asking the Germans for terms of peace.

The German commander at Pontarlier received a telephone call from the Legionnaires at Le Joux and L'Ecluse inviting him to "come and get us."

The Germans are still trying. But their commander is not answering any more telephone calls from the defenders.

In one attack, five parachute soldiers were dropped on top of Le Joux fort. They were shot.

The forts, well stocked with supplies and ammunition, block the way of German troops attempting to push through the rugged country around the bulge of Switzerland to join Italian troops in the Alps. The defense works guard the gorges of the Rhone and Doubs rivers and an international railway from France into Switzerland.

Peasants living near the forts have fled into Switzerland with stories of night sorties in which the Legionnaires attacked German positions and combed the countryside for barbed wire and cattle.

They said the defenders told them: "We'll go right on fighting—peace or no peace—until we get hungry. Then maybe we'll surrender to Swiss troops."

Registration of births is practically a new thing in many parts of this country. Not many states maintained accurate records regarding births until a few years ago. Older individuals, therefore, have had to rely on other sources of information. The older persons are naturally more concerned about proving their birth dates than any other age class, since they are the ones who are filing claims for monthly old-age insurance payments.

Proof of age is not difficult, especially the kind of proof required by the social security board. In the sense that the board accepts many kinds of proofs of birth, the policy is considered to be lenient or at least very cooperative. The difficulties of obtaining adequate proofs of birth are not insurmountable as evidenced by the fact that none of the many thousands of claims filed since January 1 of this year have been turned down due to the impossibility of securing some adequate proof.

There are various means of proving one's age, such as:

Registration of the birth of a child by its parents in the family Bible.

Baptismal record.

Date of birth as it appears on a life insurance policy if issued prior to August 14, 1935.

Date of birth as shown on an individual's application for membership in a lodge, fraternal group, or labor union, if dated prior to August 14, 1935.

Affidavits by sisters or brothers.

Affidavits by parents, of course, are sufficient proof of date of birth.

There are few 65-year-old persons whose mothers and fathers are living, but middle-aged and young workers might well obtain proof of date of birth from their parents and file the proof away with their social security account number. Such an affidavit will come in handy when the worker becomes 65 years old and desires to file claim for old-age insurance.

ESTONIA WORKERS REVOLT, IS REPORT

New Government Established With Pats Still In As President

STOCKHOLM, June 22.—(AP)—"The workers have carried out a Red revolution in Estonia, establishing a new government," the Swedish press reported tonight, but said there were no Communist party members in the new cabinet.

Estonia, Latvia and Lithuania all have come strongly under Soviet Russian influence with the quartering of new masses of Russian troops on them recently.

Estonia's President Konstantin Pats remains in office, with Scientist and Author Johannes Vares as the new premier and Socialist Leader Nigol Andreesen as foreign minister.

The Stockholm paper Aftonbladet said the coup was effected last night, with large demonstrations in the streets of Tallinn, the capital, by masses of workers who were supported by some regular army troops.

The report said the announcement of a new government was greeted jubilantly by the crowds, which sang the Internationale, Communist song which has been banned for many years.

Reports to the Swedish press indicated that all three of the little Baltic countries, spawn of the World war settlement, might eventually form fully Sovietized regimes.

The new Lithuanian minister of home affairs said in a radio speech, however, that Soviet troops "have not come to force a state administration but to guard against war. If the form of government is altered, it will be in a legal way."

Premier Kirchenstein of Latvia said the present governments of the three Baltic countries were merely provisional, pending elections.

BABY GIRL HOME FROM WAR AREAS

Will Arrive In Baton Rouge Sunday After Trip On Washington

BATON ROUGE, La., June 22.—(AP)—After eight months and a lonesome crossing of the war-tossed Atlantic, 5-year-old Betty Currow will see her father and mother again tomorrow.

For the parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Currow of Baton Rouge, the day will end a nightmare into which war and the nationality laws turned a quiet visit to Betty's grandmother in England.

Mrs. Currow was an Englishwoman who came to Louisiana with her husband when he left the sea and returned to his native state. She took Betty to visit her mother in Liverpool in December, 1938.

When they tried to return Mrs. Currow discovered that, since she still was a British subject, quota restrictions stood in the way. It was November, 1939, with the war well under way, before the difficulties were cleared.

Then the mother learned that her American daughter was not allowed to travele on a belligerent vessel and that no others were available. She left the child with the grandmother and returned on a British ship.

Betty learned what it meant to be evacuated from Liverpool, to go to school in private homes when schools were closed, how to wear a gas mask. Finally her parenty cabled Betty's grandmother to send her back alone if necessary, and the child was put aboard the refugee ship Washington at Galway, Ireland.

She is due to arrive in Hammond tomorrow morning.

LAFAYETTE, La., June 22.—(AP)—Steve Alford, superintendent of Louisiana state police, announced here this afternoon that one of the largest hauls in recent times in the line of narcotics was carried out in New Orleans early this morning with the arrest of four persons and the confiscation of huge quantities of marijuana cigarettes and tobacco and a car used by the narcotics peddlers.

Those arrested were Mike Verdi, who was declared by Superintendent Alford to be the leader of the ring; Marie Pasquia, Leo Giardina and Louis Genard. # RADIO OPERATORS IN DEMONSTRATION

Transmitters Are Set Up In Bernstein Place For Field Day

The Ouachita Valley Amateur Radio club has set up a portable radio transmitting station on Bernstein place on the bayou behind Northeast Junior college for the club's participation in field day, a national event sponsored by the American Radio Relay league.

Continuing until 6 p.m. today radio amateurs over the entire United States and its territories are cooperating with one another by establishing transmitting stations under adverse conditions, using power furnished by their own generators or even storage batteries, for the purpose of demonstrating how communication may be carried on even if the regular source of power is cut off by flood, tornado or other disaster.

The local club has a five-kilowatt generator mounted on an automobile chassis which will furnish the electricity needed for the operation of the half dozen transmitters and receivers in use.

The 32 licensed amateur radio operators of club will take turns at operating the transmitters, using both radio telephone and radiotelegraph. Operation of the field day station started Saturday afternoon.

REFUGEES' STORY OF THEIR FLIGHT

Harrowing Advance Before German Armies Related On Arrival

MIAMI, Fla., June 22.—(AP)—Jewish refugees who arrived here on the French steamer Winnipeg told today of a harrowing flight before the advancing German army.

The Winnipeg, carrying 34 passengers among them consular officials and members of the French purchasing commission, docked unannounced last night after a 22-day voyage from Bordeaux.

Dupre DeBautigny of Soissons, one of the refugees, gave a graphic account of the race to the coast of France.

"The advance was rolling on us," he said. "I was alone, so I filled my automobile with as many women and children as I could and started out. We put a mattress on the top of the automobile, and it is a good thing we did.

"Along the road we went through lines of refugees who were carrying everything they had with them. There were automobiles along the sides of the road, abandoned when petrol ran out.

"The roar of the guns could be heard and airplanes were flying overhead. Without warning one of the planes swooped down on the road we were on and opened fire with machine guns. Three times it swooped, but the mattress saved us.

"The airplanes did a lot of damage, though, for every now and then we saw bodies along the side of the road—men, women and children.

"We didn't stay in Paris long, but pushed on to Bordeaux. When we got there it was very crowded and we had to wait four days before we got the steamer.

Sailing out of Bordeaux we passed wreckage and debris for two days and after that the voyage was calm. We ran no lights at night."

DeBautigny, temporarily excluded for lack of sufficient papers, said he had a wife and children in San Francisco.

Hunt strung casing Thursday night to a depth of 2,475 feet. A production test will be made Monday or Tuesday. Little information has been available on this deep test, which was drilled to 5,074 feet.

Much interest is being shown in this test as production from it will extend the Olla field four miles north of the discovery well, and make a distance of seven miles between H. L. Hunt's two outpost wells running north and south.

Leasing has been active in the Standard area during the last few days at higher prices than have prevailed heretofore.

The south outpost, No. 18 Louisiana Central, located in SW NW, section 36-10-2E, came in recently flowing 12 barrels per hour through a 1¼-inch choke, from a depth of 2,244 feet. Casing pressure was 600 pounds and tubing pressure 80 pounds.

SOLDIER IS KILLED IN FREAK SHOOTING

Gun Accidentally Discharged Wounds One, Fatal To Another

SHREVEPORT, La., June 22.—(AP)—A .45-caliber automatic pistol accidentally discharged today by a Barksdale field soldier, passed through the shoulder of a second soldier and went on through a wall of a hangar building to kill a third man in an adjoining room.

Private James E. Stuckey, 20, Queen City, Tex., was killed when the bullet lodged in his head as he sat at a desk in the bombardier school office. Corporal Fred C. Dennis, Alexandria, La., was wounded in the shoulder. The gun was being handled by Corporal C. E. Jackson when it discharged. Dennis was not severely wounded and military officials held that the shot was entirely accidental.

Jackson was inspecting and cleaning arms in the armament room of the hangar and Dennis was at his side when the pistol went off. Stuckey was seated at a desk in the adjoining school office. The bullet went through a fleshy portion of Dennis' shoulder and then through the thin partition walls to hit Stuckey.

Stuckey's body was sent to Queen City, Tex., today. He is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. N. W. Stuckey, of Queen City; a sister, Mrs. F. O. Short, Queen City; three brothers, William Stuckey and Joseph Stuckey, Queen City, and Wilburn Stuckey, Bonham, Tex.

HELENA TAKES 2ND STRAIGHT FROM MONROE

SEAPORTERS HALT RALLY IN NINTH, BEAT SOX, 10-6

Although Hit Hard, Dick Weller Goes Route For Arkansans

HELENA, Ark., June 22.—(Special) —Helena slugged the Monroe White Sox for the second time Saturday afternoon, winning the second game of the series, 10 to 6. The Sox put on a three-run rally in the ninth, but stopped far short of the Helena total.

SOX PLAY TWIN BILL

Monroe and Helena play a twin-bill this afternoon at Helena with the first game scheduled to start at 2 p.m.

Kelton Maxfield and Floyd Speer will probably be the starter for the White Sox.

Dick Weller went the route for the Seaporters and was hit hard, but his teammates, who were even better at the slugging game, slammed Charley Bowles and Lefty Hinton for 14 base knocks and were benefited by three Sox errors and five bases on balls given up by Bowles.

The game was featured by three triples by Burt, Pruitt, and Zarilla, and three doubles, with Burt connecting for one of them. Alex Boden and Frank Surgent secured the other two.

The Seaporters jumped on Bowles for three runs in the first inning. Jimmy Lucas walked. Sam Arico grounded out to Medak, unassisted, but Allen Zarilla singled to left and Lucas went to third. Dexter Savage got a base on balls to load the bases. Bud Clancy flied to Dale Englehorn in left field and Lucas scored after the catch. Al Leary punched a single to center, scoring Zarilla, and Surgent singled to center to send Savage across the plate with the third run of the inning. Boden ended the frame by grounding out, Eagar to Medak.

The Sox came back in the first of the third to tally two runs when Bob Burt and Bob Hill came through. Joe Eagar opened with a walk and Burt lined a triple to right center scoring him. Bob Hill singled to center, scoring Burt, and stole second but Englehorn whiffed, Ed Knight was an easy out, pitcher to first, and Pete Medak fanned to end the rally.

Helena benefited by an error by Burt, scoring another run in the fourth. Alex Boden singled off Eagar's glove, Dick Weller sacrificed, but Burt let Lucas' roller get through him and

BOB FELLER HAS 104 STRIKEOUTS

Barney McCosky Now Menacing Finney's Batting Leadership

CHICAGO, June 22.—(AP)—The latest menace to Lou Finney's American league batting leadership is Young Barney McCosky, Detroit's fancy sophomore centerfielder.

Finney, the Boston veteran, still is showing the way with his big stick, but McCosky gained 33 points on him the past week, including Friday's games, and now is only two points behind.

Finney got only 13 hits in 43 times at bat, dropping 15 points to .363 while McCosky, hitting at a .464 clip, climbed 18 points to .361, two points ahead of Rip Radcliff of St. Louis in third.

Others in the first ten hitters include Roger Cramer, Boston, .341; Luke Appling, Chicago, .338; Ted Williams, Boston, .338; Taft Wright, Chicago, 335; Ray Mack, Cleveland, .330; Hank Greenberg, Detroit, .325; George Selkirk, New York, .320, and Myril Hoag, St. Louis, .320.

Boston's Jimmy Foxx, after going without a home run for a week, found the range for three the past week, running his total to 17, two more than Hal Trosky, Cleveland, with whom he was tied for home run honors a week ago.

Greenberg maintained his doubles leadership with a total of 22, and McCosky, Finney and Philadelphia's Wally Moses share the triple honors with eight apiece.

Foxx showed the way in runs batted in with 57, Williams has scored the most runs, 50, and Cramer has the most hits, 79.

Washington's George Case, although losing the runs-scored lead to Williams, held on to the stolen base honors with 14.

Detroit supplanted Boston as the team batting leader with an average of .286 and New York pulled up in a first place tie with Cleveland for team fielding laurels. St. Louis went ahead of Washington in the double plays race, the Browns having executed 10 the past week for a total of 67.

The Tigers also have the two top pitchers. Schoolboy Rowe leads with five victories and no defeats and not far behind is Buck Newsom who has won eight and lost one game. Bob Feller of Cleveland, as usual, tops the strikeout artists, now having 104.

ERNIE LOMBARDI KNOCKS HOMER TO BEAT GIANTS, 3-1

Giants Falter In Rally Chance, Drop Back Into Third Place

NEW YORK, June 22.—(AP)—Milkman Jim Turner of the Cincinnati Reds outlasted Bill Lohrman of the New York Giants today in a tight pitching duel, 3-1, and so the Giants dropped back to third place in the hectic National League pennant chase.

The milkman had big Ernie Lombardi to thank partly for the victory, for it was Schnozz's eighth inning home-run that decided the issue.

The Giants blew a chance to stage a ninth inning rally on some foolish base running by Joe Moore. He got a life on Frank McCormick's fumble, moved to second on Bob Seeds' single, but failed to score when Babe Young singled to right. Moore, for some reason, stopped at third after rounding the bag and then was cut down at the plate when he made a belated attempt to score.

In the eighth Lonnie Frey was on base when Lombardi hit his homer into the upper deck in left field.

PIRATES WALLOP DODGERS

BROOKLYN, June 22.—(AP)—The return of Joe Medwick to the lineup (as a pinch hitter) failed to spur the Brooklyn Dodgers sufficiently, and they lost a 7-2 decision to the Pittsburgh Pirates today.

Medwick appeared in the eighth, coming to bat with the bases filled and two out, but he grounded weakly. It was his first time in uniform since he was "beaned" Tuesday by Bob Bowman of the Cardinals, an act that almost precipitated a National league scandal.

The Pirates attack featured two home runs by Elbie Fletcher and one by Vince DiMaggio.

LOUIS RETAINS CHAMPIONSHIP OVER GODOY

MOSER LEADS RACE FOR 1ST 100 HITS

ATLANTA, June 22.—(AP)—Baseball players stage a little behind-the-scenes campaign of their own about this time of the season to try to become the first to collect 100 safe hits.

In the Southern association: It's a good bet that Arnold Moser, the fleet-footed and consistent-hitting Nashville leftfielder, will take that honor for 1940, but he has got to step.

Official averages by Howe News bureau on which these figures are based include only day games of Thursday. They showed Moser with 95 safeties and he got two more safe knockers in a Thursdays night game. Likely by the time this is being read he will have passed the century figure.

Closest in pursuit of Moser in hit collecting were Emil Mailho, Atlanta outfielder, and Outfielder Hubert Shelly of Knoxville, each with 91. Wee Willie Duke, Little Rock outfielder, has 90. They are the only players with 90 or more hits.

The league's leading hitter from a percentage standpoint, however, was Oris Hockett, Nashville outfielder, who remained on top for the second straight week with a .401 figure. Mailho was in the second slot with .397. Chattanooga's Mike Dejan was third at .394, Fred Tauby of Birmingham fourth at .375 and Dutch Mele of Birmingham fifth with .365.

Dejan and Mickey Roggo, Nashville first sacker, were tied for home run honors at 14. Dejan led in total bases with 155. The all-important runs-batted-in lead was held by Knoxville's Dutch Meyer, who had supplied punches that meant 60 scores. Knoxville's Shelley had 12 for the most stolen bases.

Leading the pitchers was Henry Johnson, Birmingham righthander who has won eight and lost only one. Ace Adams of Nashville has won five and dropped one. Boots Poffenberger of Nashville has 11 wins and three setbacks and John Burrows of Chattanooga 10 wins and four reverses.

Nashville, as a team, took a trio of top honors. The Vols hold first place in the team batting at .308, fielding with .970 and in double plays with 85.

QUESTION: ARE YANKS FALLING TO PIECES?

By Russ Newland

SAN FRANCISCO, June 22.—(AP)—Are the New York Yankees beginning to fall to pieces instead of suffering from a less acute ailment such as lack of right handed hitting power?

Herb Pennock, probing far below the surface, suggests the possibility the greatest club in baseball is starting to disintegrate—the decline of the Roman Empire, on a smaller scale.

A visitor here in his capacity of chief scout of the Boston Red Sox, Pennock, subscribes to the thought that Yankee power is not clicking. Beyond that he sees some of the players who helped build the mightiest team in the game riding out on the back of father time.

They make up some of the biggest names on the Yankee payroll. Pennock prefers not to air them publicly. Old age, in the baseball sense, caught up with him, too. During eleven of his 23 years as one of the top-ranking left-handed pitchers of the American league, he wore a Yankee uniform.

The fact that star young Yankee replacements are hiding behind every bush in the minor leagues is no assurance, Pennock believes, that the club can lift itself by its own bootstraps back into the dominating position it has occupied for so many years.

He points out that nine of the finest players in the game could be assembled on one team yet could pull in as many different directions to provide a perfect rhapsody in discord.

From front line observation, however, Pennock predicts that Joe DiMaggio will haul himself out of his slump to get back into the 300 hitting class which should help the Yankees.

5 L.S.U. Golfers To Enter National Intercollegiate

Will Be Headed By Captain Henry Castillo, Bert McDowell

BATON ROUGE, La., June 22.—(Special)—Five Louisiana Satte university golfers will enter the national intercollegiate golf championships at Manchester, Vt., Monday. The list includes the 1940 Louisiana State amateur champion, Henry Castillo, who is also the captain of the L. S. U. golf team, and Bert McDowell, southern intercollegiate winner.

Castillo warmed up for the nationals by winning the Southeastern conference and the Louisiana championships this year. The conference crown, his second in three seasons, was annexed with a one-over-par 147 for 36 holes of medal play. At the same time, he led his teammates to victory in the race for the conference and the southern intercollegiate team titles.

His most recent triumph was in the state amateur tournament at New Orleans. The Louisiana State captain, one of the south's outstanding amateur golfers since his high school days at Tampa, Fla., defeated Edwin McClure, five times state champion, 4 and 3 in the finals.

Castillo was conference champion as a sophomore in 1938 and was runner-up for that crown and for the southern intercollegiate title in 1939. He also was low amateur in the 1939 10,000 Crescent City Open, his performance in that tournament prompting the professionals to pick him as one of the two best amateurs they saw during their winter tour.

The L. S. U. star is rated as one of the longest hitters in golf today.

Young Bert McDowell, the runner-up king of college golf, is abdicating in favor of a determined bid for the national intercollegiate golf crown itself.

McDowell's abdication became a forgone conclusion in April when he broke through to win his first college golf title—the southern intercollegiate at Athens, Ga. The 21-year-old graduate of the Louisiana State university journalism school thinks that his intercollegiate victory, coupled with his winning of the Biloxi, Miss., Invitation tournament last winter, ended his reign as runner-up.

During his four-year rule, McDowell finished second in nine major tournaments, including the National Intercollegiate, the Southern Intercollegiate and the Southeastern conference.

His run of luck (of the bad variety) started in 1936 when he finished second in the Kansas City, Mo., junior tournament, which he had won the year before. Since then he twice has been runner-up in the Western Junior amateur and Biloxi invitation, also finishing just behind a teammate in the $10,000 Crescent City Open in 1939.

The journalism student's hard luck reached a record high in 1938 as he finished second in five tournaments, including the National and Southern intercollegiates, the conference and the Western Junior.

The soft-spoken, Spanish-born captain of the Louisiana State university golf team, Castillo, one of the best college golfers ever developed in the south, will bring the national crown home to Baton Rouge if determination to win counts for much.

"I'm going up there to win that title," Castillo asserted before leaving here by automobile early Sunday for Vermont. "I'm playing the best golf of my life and I want to close my college days by winning the intercollegiate. If anyone beats me, he'll have the toughest battle he ever had."

The Louisiana State seniors will have plenty of competition from four of their own teammates. Other Tiger entrants are Lee Ramsei, junior veteran, and Earl Stewart, Dale Morey and George Sharpe, sophomores.

COTTON BOLL

The Keystone Decorators will play the West Monroe nine this afternoon at 3 p.m. at Casino park.

BIG SIX LOOP

REDBIRDS BLANK RUSTON

CHATHAM, June 22.—(Special)—The Chatham Redbirds blanked the Ruston Vols, 4 to 0, here Wednesday. D. Garner limited the Vols to five hits, while his teammates were getting twice that number.

Garner also led his teams attack with three for four. Shelby got two hits for Ruston.

L. S. U.'S TENNIS ACES FACE FULL SCHEDULE

BATON ROUGE, La., June 22.—(AP) Louisiana State university's two tennis aces, Billy Umstaedter and Bernard [illegible], face a busy month ahead of them.

Starting June 27 the two Southeastern conference doubles champions, will take part in four important Eastern tournaments, Coach Charles Deal said today. Their first competition will be in the Eastern grass courts tournament in New Jersey.

[illegible] on their schedule during the next few weeks include the [illegible], N. Y., tournament July [illegible]. Deal said they also would compete in other important tournaments later in the summer.

Umstaedter, number one man of the team, is national [illegible] junior singles champion and was runner-up for the Conference singles title. He went to the semi-finals of the Texas state tournament recently.

The production charts for July, 1940, a typical 1940 working month, of one of the prominent United States American plane manufacturers, plan for a total of 138,000 working hours. Of this total only 41,000 hours will be devoted to civil aviation aircraft.

HELENA TAKES 2ND STRAIGHT FROM MONROE

Although Hit Hard, Dick Weller Goes Route For Arkansans

HELENA, Ark., June 22.—(Special)—Helena slugged the Monroe White Sox for the second time Saturday afternoon, winning the second game of the series, 10 to 6. The Sox put on a three-run rally in the ninth, but stopped far short of the Helena total.

SOX PLAY TWIN BILL

Monroe and Helena play a twin-bill this afternoon at Helena with the first game scheduled to start at 2 p.m.

Kelton Maxfield and Floyd Speer will probably be the starter for the White Sox.

Dick Weller went the route for the Seaporters and was hit hard, but his teammates, who were even better at the slugging game, slammed Charley Bowles and Lefty Hinton for 14 base knocks and were benefited by three Sox errors and five bases on balls given up by Bowles.

The game was featured by three triples by Burt, Pruitt, and Zarilla, and three doubles, with Burt connecting for one of them. Alex Boden and Frank Surgent secured the other two.

The Seaporters jumped on Bowles for three runs in the first inning. Jimmy Lucas walked. Sam Arico grounded out to Medak, unassisted, but Allen Zarilla singled to left and Lucas went to third. Dexter Savage got a base on balls to load the bases. Bud Clancy flied to Dale Englehorn in left field and Lucas scored after the catch. Al Leary punched a single to center, scoring Zarilla, and Surgent singled to center to send Savage across the plate with the third run of the inning. Boden ended the frame by grounding out, Eagar to Medak.

The Sox came back in the first of the third to tally two runs when Bob Burt and Bob Hill came through. Joe Eagar opened with a walk and Burt lined a triple to right center scoring him. Bob Hill singled to center, scoring Burt, and stole second but Englehorn whiffed, Ed Knight was an easy out, pitcher to first, and Pete Medak fanned to end the rally.

Helena benefited by an error by Burt, scoring another run in the fourth. Alex Boden singled off Eagar's glove, Dick Weller sacrificed, but Burt let Lucas' roller get through him and

Cincinnati Turns Back New York In Pitching Duel

Barney McCosky Now Menacing Finney's Batting Leadership

CHICAGO, June 22.—(AP)—The latest menace to Lou Finney's American league batting leadership is Young Barney McCosky, Detroit's fancy sophomore centerfielder.

Finney, the Boston veteran, still is showing the way with his big stick, but McCosky gained 33 points on him the past week, including Friday's games, and now is only two points behind.

Finney got only 13 hits in 43 times at bat, dropping 15 points to .363 while McCosky, hitting at a .464 clip, climbed 18 points to .361, two points ahead of Rip Radcliff of St. Louis in third.

Others in the first ten hitters include Roger Cramer, Boston, .341; Luke Appling, Chicago, .338; Ted Williams, Boston, .338; Taft Wright, Chicago, 335; Ray Mack, Cleveland, .330; Hank Greenberg, Detroit, .325; George Selkirk, New York, .320, and Myril Hoag, St. Louis, .320.

Boston's Jimmy Foxx, after going without a home run for a week, found the range for three the past week, running his total to 17, two more than Hal Trosky, Cleveland, with whom he was tied for home run honors a week ago.

Greenberg maintained his doubles leadership with a total of 22, and McCosky, Finney and Philadelphia's Wally Moses share the triple honors with eight apiece.

Foxx showed the way in runs batted in with 57, Williams has scored the most runs, 50, and Cramer has the most hits, 79.

Washington's George Case, although losing the runs-scored lead to Williams, held on to the stolen base honors with 14.

Detroit supplanted Boston as the team batting leader with an average of .286 and New York pulled up in a first place tie with Cleveland for team fielding laurels. St. Louis went ahead of Washington in the double plays race, the Browns having executed 10 the past week for a total of 67.

The Tigers also have the two top pitchers. Schoolboy Rowe leads with five victories and no defeats and not far behind is Buck Newsom who has won eight and lost one game. Bob Feller of Cleveland, as usual, tops the strikeout artists, now having 104.

ERNIE LOMBARDI KNOCKS HOMER TO BEAT GIANTS, 3-1

Giants Falter In Rally Chance, Drop Back Into Third Place

NEW YORK, June 22.—(AP)—Milkman Jim Turner of the Cincinnati Reds outlasted Bill Lohrman of the New York Giants today in a tight pitching duel, 3-1, and so the Giants dropped back to third place in the hectic National League pennant chase.

The milkman had big Ernie Lombardi to thank partly for the victory, for it was Schnozz's eighth inning home-run that decided the issue.

The Giants blew a chance to stage a ninth inning rally on some foolish base running by Joe Moore. He got a life on Frank McCormick's fumble, moved to second on Bob Seeds' single, but failed to score when Babe Young singled to right. Moore, for some reason, stopped at third after rounding the bag and then was cut down at the plate when he made a belated attempt to score.

In the eighth Lonnie Frey was on base when Lombardi hit his homer into the upper deck in left field.

PIRATES WALLOP DODGERS

BROOKLYN, June 22.—(AP)—The return of Joe Medwick to the lineup (as a pinch hitter) failed to spur the Brooklyn Dodgers sufficiently, and they lost a 7-2 decision to the Pittsburgh Pirates today.

Medwick appeared in the eighth, coming to bat with the bases filled and two out, but he grounded weakly. It was his first time in uniform since he was "beaned" Tuesday by Bob Bowman of the Cardinals, an act that almost precipitated a National league scandal.

The Pirates attack featured two home runs by Elbie Fletcher and one by Vince DiMaggio.

LOUIS RETAINS CHAMPIONSHIP OVER GODOY

MOSER LEADS RACE FOR 1ST 100 HITS

ATLANTA, June 22.—(AP)—Baseball players stage a little behind-the-scenes campaign of their own about this time of the season to try to become the first to collect 100 safe hits.

In the Southern association: It's a good bet that Arnold Moser, the fleet-footed and consistent-hitting Nashville leftfielder, will take that honor for 1940, but he has got to step.

Official averages by Howe News bureau on which these figures are based include only day games of Thursday. They showed Moser with 95 safeties and he got two more safe knockers in a Thursdays night game. Likely by the time this is being read he will have passed the century figure.

Closest in pursuit of Moser in hit collecting were Emil Mailho, Atlanta outfielder, and Outfielder Hubert Shelly of Knoxville, each with 91. Wee Willie Duke, Little Rock outfielder, has 90. They are the only players with 90 or more hits.

The league's leading hitter from a percentage standpoint, however, was Oris Hockett, Nashville outfielder, who remained on top for the second straight week with a .401 figure. Mailho was in the second slot with .397. Chattanooga's Mike Dejan was third at .394, Fred Tauby of Birmingham fourth at .375 and Dutch Mele of Birmingham fifth with .365.

Dejan and Mickey Roggo, Nashville first sacker, were tied for home run honors at 14. Dejan led in total bases with 155. The all-important runs-batted-in lead was held by Knoxville's Dutch Meyer, who had supplied punches that meant 60 scores. Knoxville's Shelley had 12 for the most stolen bases.

Leading the pitchers was Henry Johnson, Birmingham righthander who has won eight and lost only one. Ace Adams of Nashville has won five and dropped one. Boots Poffenberger of Nashville has 11 wins and three setbacks and John Burrows of Chattanooga 10 wins and four reverses.

Nashville, as a team, took a trio of top honors. The Vols hold first place in the team batting at .308, fielding with .970 and in double plays with 85.

QUESTION: ARE YANKS FALLING TO PIECES?

By Russ Newland

SAN FRANCISCO, June 22.—(AP)—Are the New York Yankees beginning to fall to pieces instead of suffering from a less acute ailment such as lack of right handed hitting power?

Herb Pennock, probing far below the surface, suggests the possibility the greatest club in baseball is starting to disintegrate—the decline of the Roman Empire, on a smaller scale.

A visitor here in his capacity of chief scout of the Boston Red Sox, Pennock, subscribes to the thought that Yankee power is not clicking. Beyond that he sees some of the players who helped build the mightiest team in the game riding out on the back of father time.

They make up some of the biggest names on the Yankee payroll. Pennock prefers not to air them publicly. Old age, in the baseball sense, caught up with him, too. During eleven of his 23 years as one of the top-ranking left-handed pitchers of the American league, he wore a Yankee uniform.

The fact that star young Yankee replacements are hiding behind every bush in the minor leagues is no assurance, Pennock believes, that the club can lift itself by its own bootstraps back into the dominating position it has occupied for so many years.

He points out that nine of the finest players in the game could be assembled on one team yet could pull in as many different directions to provide a perfect rhapsody in discord.

From front line observation, however, Pennock predicts that Joe DiMaggio will haul himself out of his slump to get back into the .300 hitting class which should help the Yankees.

5 L.S.U. Golfers To Enter National Intercollegiate

Will Be Headed By Captain Henry Castillo, Bert McDowell

BATON ROUGE, La., June 22.—(Special)—Five Louisiana Satte university golfers will enter the national intercollegiate golf championships at Manchester, Vt., Monday. The list includes the 1940 Louisiana State amateur champion, Henry Castillo, who is also the captain of the L. S. U. golf team, and Bert McDowell, southern intercollegiate winner.

Castillo warmed up for the nationals by winning the Southeastern conference and the Louisiana championships this year. The conference crown, his second in three seasons, was annexed with a one-over-par 147 for 36 holes of medal play. At the same time, he led his teammates to victory in the race for the conference and the southern intercollegiate team titles.

His most recent triumph was in the state amateur tournament at New Orleans. The Louisiana State captain, one of the south's outstanding amateur golfers since his high school days at Tampa, Fla., defeated Edwin McClure, five times state champion, 4 and 3 in the finals.

Castillo was conference champion as a sophomore in 1938 and was runner-up for that crown and for the southern intercollegiate title in 1939. He also was low amateur in the 1939 10,000 Crescent City Open, his performance in that tournament prompting the professionals to pick him as one of the two best amateurs they saw during their winter tour.

The L. S. U. star is rated as one of the longest hitters in golf today.

Young Bert McDowell, the runner-up king of college golf, is abdicating in favor of a determined bid for the national intercollegiate golf crown itself.

McDowell's abdication became a forgone conclusion in April when he broke through to win his first college golf title—the southern intercollegiate at Athens, Ga. The 21-year-old graduate of the Louisiana State university journalism school thinks that his intercollegiate victory, coupled with his winning of the Biloxi, Miss., invitation tournament last winter, ended his reign as runner-up.

During his four-year rule, McDowell finished second in nine major tournaments, including the National Intercollegiate, the Southern intercollegiate and the Southeastern conference.

His run of luck (of the bad variety) started in 1936 when he finished second in the Kansas City, Mo., junior tournament, which he had won the year before. Since then he twice has been runner-up in the Western Junior amateur and Biloxi invitation, also finishing just behind a teammate in the $10,000 Crescent City Open in 1939.

The journalism student's hard luck reached a record high in 1938 as he finished second in five tournaments, including the National and Southern intercollegiates, the conference and the Western Junior.

The soft-spoken, Spanish-born captain of the Louisiana State university golf team, Castillo, one of the best college golfers ever developed in the south, will bring the national crown home to Baton Rouge if determination to win counts for much.

"I'm going up there to win that title," Castillo asserted before leaving here by automobile early Sunday for Vermont. "I'm playing the best golf of my life and I want to close my college days by winning the intercollegiate. If anyone beats me, he'll have the toughest battle he ever had."

The Louisiana State seniors will have plenty of competition from four of their own teammates. Other Tiger entrants are Lee Ramsel, junior veteran, and Earl Stewart, Dale Morey and George Sharpe, sophomores.

L. S. U.'S TENNIS ACES FACE FULL SCHEDULE

BATON ROUGE, La., June 22.—(AP)—Louisiana State university's two tennis aces, Billy Umstaedter and Bernard Jacoby, have a busy month ahead of them.

Starting June 27 the two, Southeastern Conference doubles champions, will participate in four important Eastern tournaments, Coach Charles Diel said today. Their first competition will be in the Eastern grass courts tournament in New Jersey.

Other tournaments on their schedule during the next few weeks include the Perth Amboy, N. Y., tournament July 27. Diel said they also would compete in other important tournaments later in the summer.

Umstaedter, number one man of the team, is national indoor junior singles champion and was runner up for the Conference singles title. He went to the semi-finals of the Texas state tournament recently.

The production charts for July, 1940, a typical 1940 working month, of one of the prominent United States American plane manufacturers, plan for a total of 138,000 working hours. Of this total only 43,000 hours will be directed toward military aircraft.

WOLCOTT OF RICE LOSES HIGH STICK CROWN TO DUGGER

Bill Brown Of L. S. U. Garners Two Seconds And One Third Place

By Earl Hilligan

MINNEAPOLIS, June 22—(AP)—Southern California's mighty Trojans handed the field and the elements a thorough licking today to sweep to their sixth straight national collegiate track and field championship.

Under the worst weather conditions in the meet's 19-year history, Southern California piled up 44 points to easily turn back the challenge of Stanford, second place team finisher, in a meet which saw the establishment of new N. C. A. A. marks in the shot put and 120-yard high hurdles.

Southern California's complete domination of the team battle almost was overshadowed by the day's biggest upset—defeat of Fred Wolcott of Rice institute in the 120-yard high hurdle event. Winner of this event two straight years and holder of the American mark of 13.9 seconds for this race, Wolcott lost his crown to Big Ed Dugger, negro star from Tufts.

Dugger stepped over the highs in 13.9 to clip one-tenth of a second off the meet record set by Wolcott two years ago.

Al Blozis, 248 pound sophomore from Georgetown contributed the shot put record, tossing the ball 56 feet, 1-2 inch in the qualifying tests to crack the old meet and American mark of 55 feet, 10 3-8 inches.

Southern California scored an undisputed first in the pole vault, won by Ken Dills, and tied for first place with Michigan in the high jump. Stanfords point total was 28 2-3 with California and Penn State tying at 24 each. Louisiana State was next with 22 points.

Norwood Elwell, negro star from Penn State, won both the 100-yard and 220-yard dash titles. He ran the 100 in 9.6 seconds and the 220 in 21.1, bettering the listed American mark for 220 yards around one turn made by Ralph Metcalfe in 1933.

In the 220-yard low hurdles Wolcott finished well ahead of Dugger in the time of 23.1, bettering his own mark of 23.3 made around one turn here two years ago.

Louis Zamperini, mile champion two years in a row, finished third in this event, won by John Munski of Missouri, while one of the best races on the program saw Lee Orr take the 440-yard dash crown by beating Gene Littler of Nebraska with great stretch "kick." Campbell Kane of Indiana also came from behind to take the half mile title, nipping Princeton's Ed Burrowes.

Bill Brown of Louisiana State placed third in the 100-yard dash and second in the 220-yard dash.

SALESMAN WINS SOUTHERN GOLF

Professional Turned Amateur Defeats High School Youngster

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., June 22—(AP)—Capitalizing on the accuracy of his wood clubs, 28-year-old Neil White of Nashville's Belle Meade Country club captured the Southern Amateur golf championship today in his first Dixie competition.

The Tennessee glass salesman, refusing to yield under the pressure of a late rally, defeated Charlotte's 18-year-old Ed Schreiber, 3 and 1 in 36 holes. It also was the first major competition for the North Carolina youngster who received his high school diploma two weeks ago.

White took the lead on the ninth hold and never again was down despite erratic putting. He was two up at the half-way mark but Schreiber came back to even the match on the 27th. White went in front again on the 29th and maintained the advantage.

White, former pro, playing in his first tournament since regaining his amateur standing, sank a 12-foot putt for a birdie three on the 35th hole to end the match when Schreiber was down in standard figures.

SO SURE OF WINNING, HE WORRIES ABOUT TROPHIES

CAMBRIDGE, Md., June 22—(AP)—A prospective entry in the Cambridge Yacht club regatta here July 12 and 13 wants to be sure he won't be embarrassed by the trophies in case he wins. Chairman W. Emmett Andrews said he had received a letter of inquiry from Kansas City, Mo. which said "I got trophies last year, but they were so small that I was ashamed to show them to my friends."

The new small flying-boat (Grumman) is powered with two 450-horsepower engines, has a speed of over 200 miles an hour at 5,000 feet, a service ceiling of 22,000 feet, and carries four passengers and crew of two.

TRIBE TRAMPLES BOSTON RED SOX FOR 7-TO-5 WIN

Loss Gives Slumping Sox Sixth Setback In As Many Starts

CLEVELAND, June 22.—(AP)—The rampaging Cleveland Indians found Boston pitching to their liking today and rolled up their seventh straight victory. The 7 to 5 decision gave Boston its sixth setback in a row.

Cleveland's first fat inning was set up when Joe Cronin fumbled Beau Bell's grounder in the fourth. Ben Chapman and Ray Mack singled, scoring Bell; Ken Keltner walked, and Harder's safe bunt brought home Chapman. Lou Boudreau, who garnered four hits in five trips, then singled to score Mack and Keltner.

The Sox picked away at Mel Harder for a run in both the fifth and sixth before the Tribe produced its three-run cluster. Singles by Chapman and Mack and Keltner's double, which scored both, sent Jim Bagby to the showers. Lou Boudreau then doubled off Emerson Dickman to score Keltner.

Boston sent Harder to the showers in the eighth after Bobby Doerr singled, Cronin walked and Jim Tabor singled Doerr home. Cronin came in as Johnny Peacock, pinch hitting, forced Tabor, and Lou Finney, the circuit's leading hitter, drove in the final run of the outburst with a single which sent Peacock across the plate.

SENATORS BEAT BROWNS

ST. LOUIS, June 22.—(AP)—The Washington Senators, who took a 1-0 victory from the Browns on Sid Hudson's 1-hit pitching last night, followed it up today by winning a slugfest, 11 to 10.

Ineffective pitching by Elden Auker and Jack Kramer wasted a big lead built up by the Browns on Harold Cliff's home run with the bases filled and Johnny Berardino's two homers, the second coming with two men on base.

The Senators, with a total of 17 hits, had only Zeke Bonura's four-bagger with one aboard to pit against the Brown's long wallops, but they made effective use of their many singles and their four doubles. In the ninth inning, Pinch-Hitter Alfred Evans drove in the tying and winning runs with a single.

KALLIO TO STAGE DOUBLE MAIN-GO

Two Newcomers, Flash Clifford, Poggi, Will Wrestle Here

A double main event will be staged at the Monroe Wrestling arena Thursday night, promoter Gus Kallio said Saturday.

Russ Riley will defend his title for the third time in three weeks against a newcomer, Flash Clifford of London, England. Poggi, the Angel, will be one of the principals in the other headline attraction, with his opponent yet to be named.

Clifford came to this country with the idea in mind of joining with Clyde Beatty in the taming of wild animals for the sawdust ring, but after a few months got detoured into the wrestling game. He was assistant to a London lion tamer for many years before coming to this country, and has developed a large and hard upper torso by his circus days work. He has been taught, "that to move fast and with agility, is imperative in athletic or circus life." When a big cat starts to claw, you have to be fast.

Riley won the title from Sugi Hayamaka, successfully defended it against Farmer Jones and Hayamaka. And now, he will try to best an ex-wild animal trainer.

Kallio also announced that he would bring Pogi, the Angel, to Monroe to wrestle with some opponent to be announced later in the week. It seems that some of the self advertised "tough boys" are either unwilling to meet the Angel, or have conveniently pre-arranged scheduled.

SOUTHERN CAL WINS NATIONAL TRACK MEET

Bill Brown Of L. S. U. Garners Two Seconds And One Third Place

By Earl Hilligan

MINNEAPOLIS, June 22.—(AP)—Southern California's mighty Trojans handed the field and the elements a thorough licking today to sweep to their sixth straight national collegiate track and field championship.

Under the worst weather conditions in the meet's 19-year history, Southern California piled up 44 points to easily turn back the challenge of Stanford, second place team finisher, in a meet which saw the establishment of new N. C. A. A. marks in the shot put and 120-yard high hurdles.

Southern California's complete domination of the team battle almost was overshadowed by the day's biggest upset—defeat of Fred Wolcott of Rice institute in the 120-yard high hurdle event. Winner of this event two straight years and holder of the American mark of 13.9 seconds for this race, Wolcott lost his crown to Big Ed Dugger, negro star from Tufts.

Dugger stepped over the highs in 13.9 to clip one-tenth of a second off the meet record set by Wolcott two years ago.

Al Blozis, 248 pound sophomore from Georgetown contributed the shot put record, tossing the ball 56 feet, 1-2 inch in the qualifying tests to crack the old meet and American mark of 55 feet, 10 3-8 inches.

Southern California scored an undisputed first in the pole vault, won by Ken Dills, and tied for first place with Michigan in the high jump. Stanfords point total was 28 2-3 with California and Penn State tying at 24 each. Louisiana State was next with 22 points.

Norwood Elwell, negro star from Penn State, won both the 100-yard and 220-yard dash titles. He ran the 100 in 9.6 seconds and the 220 in 21.1, bettering the listed American mark for 220 yards around one turn made by Ralph Metcalfe in 1933.

In the 220-yard low hurdles Wolcott finished well ahead of Dugger in the time of 23.1, bettering his own mark of 23.3 made around one turn here two years ago.

Louis Zamperini, mile champion two years in a row, finished third in this event, won by John Munski of Missouri, while one of the best races on the program saw Lee Orr take the 440-yard dash crown by beating Gene Littler of Nebraska with great stretch "kick." Campbell Kane of Indiana also came from behind to take the half mile title, nipping Princeton's Ed Burrowes.

Bill Brown of Louisiana State placed third in the 100-yard dash and second in the 220-yard dash.

Professional Turned Amateur Defeats High School Youngster

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., June 22.—(AP)—Capitalizing on the accuracy of his wood clubs, 28-year-old Neil White of Nashville's Belle Meade Country club captured the Southern Amateur golf championship today in his first Dixie competition.

The Tennessee glass salesman, refusing to yield under the pressure of a late rally, defeated Charlotte's 18-year-old Ed Schreiber, 3 and 1 in 36 holes. It also was the first major competition for the North Carolina youngster who received his high school diploma two weeks ago.

White took the lead on the ninth hold and never again was down despite erratic putting. He was two up at the half-way mark but Schreiber came back to even the match on the 27th. White went in front again on the 29th and maintained the advantage.

White, former pro, playing in his first tournament since regaining his amateur standing, sank a 12-foot putt for a birdie three on the 35th hole to end the match when Schreiber was down in standard figures.

SO SURE OF WINNING, HE WORRIES ABOUT TROPHIES

CAMBRIDGE, Md., June 22.—(AP)—A prospective entry in the Cambridge Yacht club regatta here July 12 and 13 wants to be sure he won't be embarrassed by the trophies in case he wins. Chairman W. Emmett Andrews said he had received a letter of inquiry from Kansas City, Mo. which said "I got trophies last year, but they were so small that I was ashamed to show them to my friends."

The new small flying-boat (Grumman) is powered with two 450-horsepower engines, has a speed of over 200 miles an hour at 5,000 feet, a service ceiling of 22,000 feet, and carries four passengers and crew of two.

TRIBE TRAMPLES BOSTON RED SOX FOR 7-TO-5 WIN

Loss Gives Slumping Sox Sixth Setback In As Many Starts

CLEVELAND, June 22.—(AP)—The rampaging Cleveland Indians found Boston pitching to their liking today and rolled up their seventh straight victory. The 7 to 5 decision gave Boston its sixth setback in a row.

Cleveland's first fat inning was set up when Joe Cronin fumbled Beau Bell's grounder in the fourth. Ben Chapman and Ray Mack singled, scoring Bell; Ken Keltner walked, and Harder's safe bunt brought home Chapman. Lou Boudreau, who garnered four hits in five trips, then singled to score Mack and Keltner.

The Sox picked away at Mel Harder for a run in both the fifth and sixth before the Tribe produced its three-run cluster. Singles by Chapman and Mack and Keltner's double, which scored both, sent Jim Bagby to the showers. Lou Boudreau then doubled off Emerson Dickman to score Keltner.

Boston sent Harder to the showers in the eighth after Bobby Doerr singled, Cronin walked and Jim Tabor singled Doerr home. Cronin came in as Johnny Peacock, pinch hitting, forced Tabor, and Lou Finney, the circuit's leading hitter, drove in the final run of the outburst with a single which sent Peacock across the plate.

SENATORS BEAT BROWNS

ST. LOUIS, June 22.—(AP)—The Washington Senators, who took a 1-0 victory from the Browns on Sid Hudson's 1-hit pitching last night, followed it up today by winning a slugfest, 11 to 10.

Ineffective pitching by Elden Auker and Jack Kramer wasted a big lead built up by the Browns on Harold Cliff's home run with the bases filled and Johnny Berardino's two homers, the second coming with two men on base.

The Senators, with a total of 17 hits, had only Zeke Bonura's four-bagger with one aboard to pit against the Brown's long wallops, but they made effective use of their many singles and their four doubles. In the ninth inning, Pinch-Hitter Alfred Evans drove in the tying and winning runs with a single.

KALLIO TO STAGE DOUBLE MAIN-GO

Two Newcomers, Flash Clifford, Poggi, Will Wrestle Here

A double main event will be staged at the Monroe Wrestling arena Thursday night, promoter Gus Kallio said Saturday.

Russ Riley will defend his title for the third time in three weeks against a newcomer, Flash Clifford of London, England. Poggi, the Angel, will be one of the principals in the other headline attraction, with his opponent yet to be named.

Clifford came to this country with the idea in mind of joining with Clyde Beatty in the taming of wild animals for the sawdust ring, but after a few months got detoured into the wrestling game. He was assistant to a London lion tamer for many years before coming to this country, and has developed a large and hard upper torso by his circus days work. He has been taught, "that to move fast and with agility, is imperative in athletic or circus life." When a big cat starts to claw, you have to be fast.

Riley won the title from Sugi Hayamaka, successfully defended it against Farmer Jones and Hayamaka. And now, he will try to best an ex-wild animal trainer.

Kallio also announced that he would bring Pogi, the Angel, to Monroe to wrestle with some opponent to be announced later in the week. It seems that some of the self advertised "tough boys" are either unwilling to meet the Angel, or have conveniently prearranged scheduled.

NATIONAL LEAGUE HITTERS HAVING 'UPS AND DOWNS'

Harry (The Horse) Danning Back On Top Of Heap This Week

NEW YORK, June 22.—(AP)—The ups and downs of the National league's championship race have nothing on the individuals seeking the league's batting crown.

Harry (The Horse) Danning, who has led the hitters off and on since the start of the season, was back on top the heap again today and Merrill May of the Phillies, who was in front last week, is down in sixth place.

A graph of the hitting of the big catcher of the New York Giants would look like the Rock mountains. Two weeks ago he was leading the league with a .352 percentage. Then he skidded 13 points to .339 in a week's time. Now he has just inflated that mark 23 points to .362.

Danning's performance wasn't anymore unpredictable than the hitting of the senior circuit's other topnotchers. The drop of May merely matched his climb of the two weeks before.

The Philadelphia third baseman was a one-week wonder. This week the league had a new one—Bill Nicholson of the Chicago Cubs. He wasn't even among the first ten last week, but he soared right into second in the rankings after Friday's games with a .338 percentage.

Arrayed behind Danning and Nicholson were Joe Moore, New York .335; Dixie Walker, Brooklyn .333; Frank Gustine, Pittsburg .326; May, Philadelphia .322; Hank Leiber, Chicago .316; Chester Ross, Boston .315; Frank McCormick, Cincinnati .310; and Jim Gleeson, Chicago .309.

The shuffling among the leading percentage hitters was not transmitted to leaders in other departments.

Johnny Mize continued to set the home run pace with 18, twice as many as Danning, who rated second. Danning, however, remained in front in runs batted in with 47. A new threat in the latter division developed in Pittsburgh's Elbie Fletcher, who has knocked 44 runs home.

McCormick has made the most hits, 70, and is tied for second in doubles with 15, the same as teammate Bill Werber and two less than Stan Hack of Chicago has manufactured.

Ross' eight triples remained tops.

Lonny Frey of Cincinnati has scored the most runs, 41, and stolen the most bases, nine.

Cliff Melton of the Giants and Fat Freddy Fitzsimmons of the Brooklyn Dodgers headed the pitchers, each with six victories and one defeat. During the week Cincinnati's Bucky Walters suffered two more setbacks to make four straight losses since winning nine games in a row at the start of the season.

UMPS ARGUE TOO

Player arguments with umpires are frequent but it's rare that a pair of arbiters are found tiffing. Bill McGowan and John Quinn (right), American league play-callers, had a brief verbal tussle the other day in Washington over a decision by Quinn. Zeke Bonura, Senators' first sacker, seems to be enjoying the fuss.

OLD SHIRT BOOSTER

HOUSTON, Tex.—(AP)—Tom Baylor, assistant zoo keeper at Hermann park, has an old shirt to thank for his life. A cow buffalo, believing he intended harm her new-born calf, charged Baylor as he entered her pen. Her horn caught in his old shirt, but Baylor broke away and got behind a tree. Had he been wearing a strong new shirt, Baylor thinks the incident might have ended differently.

roll out into centerfield; Boden scored but Lucas was out trying to go to second.

Major Bowles again got in trouble in the fifth inning, the Seaporters scoring three runs. Zarilla flied to center, but Savage singled and Clancy walked. Leary flied out to Hill in deep center field with no advance. Frank Surgent doubled scoring Savage and Clancy. Surgent went to third on the throw from Englehorn to Eagar and scored when Eagar threw wild to third. Boden doubled, and Weller walked, but Lucas forced Weller at second to end the inning.

The Sox scored a run in the first of the sixth when Red Pruitt lambasted one off the left field fence for a triple and Bowles came through with a single to send him across the plate. Eagar flied to Leary in left for the third out.

Helena took a six-run lead in the last half of the sixth, scoring two more runs, the score reading 9 to 3. Sam Arico singled and went to second when Englehorn let the ball get through him, Zarilla tripled to right scoring Arico. Savage singled to center scoring Zarilla, and Lefty Hinton relieved Bowles on the mound for the Sox. Clancy sacrificed, but Leary and Surgent were easy outs to end the frame.

Burt opened the seventh with a double, his second extra base hit of the game, but was doubled off second when Arico jumped high in the air and snagged Hill's line drive. Englehorn singled but Knight was out to Clancy, unassisted.

The Seaporters added another run in the last of the seventh. Boden singled and Weller sacrificed. Lucas fanned, but Arico singled through the pitcher's box to score Boden. Zarilla lined to Eagar, ending the inning.

The Sox tried hard in the first of the ninth, but could only muster three runs. Eagar singled off short to start the inning and Burt advanced him with an infield out. It was a bunt but not a sacrifice. Hill singled scoring Eagar. Englehorn then singled, scoring Hill from first and Englehorn went to second when Surgent juggled the ball in left center. Knight lifted to center, but Medak singled over second to score Englehorn with the third run of the frame. Schang lined to Zarilla in deep right field to end the game.

Fans No Longer Question How Long Vitt Will Last

They Now Wonder How Long The Indians Themselves Can Last

CLEVELAND, June 22.—(AP)—Things happen quickly in the wigwam of the Cleveland Indians.

A week ago fans asked "How long will Vitt last?"

Today their question was, "How long will the Indians last?"

The club's ascent to first place on the wings of six straight victories, coming after a 12-player demand that Manager Oscar Vitt be fired, has stirred quiet pennant talk. But the talk is in an undertone, because fans refuse to forget the almost annual mid-summer drive of the Redskins.

Many believe the blow-off against Vitt has eased the tension and given players a new footing. Others expect the "truce" to end once the club starts losing.

President Alva Bradley, who accepted a retraction from the players after refusing to oust Vitt, sized up the team's chances:

"All they need is confidence in themselves. If they think they can win, they can."

One factor is frequently overlooked. Hal Trosky, Ken Keltner, Jeff Heath and Mel Harder, four tested veterans, have been far below par.

Harder, a right-hander with one of the best curves in the league, has gotton underway slowly after winning 15 games last year. Add Harder to 10-game winners Bob Feller and Al Milnar, the surprising Al Smith and the comeback-bound Johnny Allen, and the Indians will have one of the best mound staffs in the loop.

Sparked by the keystone combination of Lou Boudreau and Ray Mack, the Indians have their best defensive infield in years. The outfield easily will do, with the speedy Roy Weatherly daily making sensational catches.

GALENTO RATED NO. 1 CHALLENGER

MILWAUKEE, June 22.—(AP)—Tony Galento, the New Jersey tavernkeeper who fights Max Baer next month, was rated today by the National Boxing association as the No. 1 challenger for Joe Louis' crown.

Fred J. Saddy of Milwaukee, chairman of the NBA's championship rating committee, placed Galento first and Bob Pastor, of New York, second. Max Baer was given the fifth ranking position in the quarterly ratings, behind Arturo Godoy and Lou Nova.

The committee recognized two new champions since the last ratings in March. Pete Scalzo of New York, was termed the featherweight champion, displacing Joey Archibald. In the lightweight division, the NBA gave Sammy Angott the championship spot, by virtue of his win over Davy Day in Louisville on Derby eve. The No. 1 lightweight challenger in the ratings was Lew Jenkins.

Three newcomers were recognized among the first ten challengers for Louis' throne—Buddy Baer, given the seventh spot; Pat Comiskey, eighth, and Buddy Jack Walker, tenth. Other heavyweights ranked were Red Burman, sixth, and Junior Munsell, ninth.

Champions and No. 1 contenders, respectively, in other divisions included: Featherweight, Pete Scalzo and Harry Jeffra.

CARDS WHIP BEES

BOSTON, June 22.—(AP)—The St. Louis Cardinals exploded a seven-run outburst in the sixth inning today to win the seventh of their last eight games by a 9-2 tally from the battered Boston Bees.

Eight Boston errors, three of them in the disastrous sixth, aided the Cardinals.

Stu Martin opened the debacle by reaching first on Buddy Hassett's error. Enos Slaughter singled, Ernie Koy doubled, Johnny Mize singled to bring the total to three. Don Padgett popped out but Terry Moore doubled and Joe Orengo's single added two more. Marty Marion singled and Orengo scored when [illegible] hit him in the back after fielding Mort Cooper's infield tap. Marion tallied the seventh run when Martin reached first for the second time in the inning on an error, this time by [illegible] Rowell.

NATIONAL LEAGUE HITTERS HAVING 'UPS AND DOWNS'

Harry (The Horse) Danning Back On Top Of Heap This Week

NEW YORK, June 22.—(AP)—The ups and downs of the National league's championship race have nothing on the individuals seeking the league's batting crown.

Harry (The Horse) Danning, who has led the hitters off and on since the start of the season, was back on top the heap again today and Merrill May of the Phillies, who was in front last week, is down in sixth place.

A graph of the hitting of the big catcher of the New York Giants would look like the Rock mountains. Two weeks ago he was leading the league with a .352 percentage. Then he skidded 13 points to .339 in a week's time. Now he has just inflated that mark 23 points to .362.

Danning's performance wasn't anymore unpredictable than the hitting of the senior circuit's other topnotchers. The drop of May merely matched his climb of the two weeks before.

The Philadelphia third baseman was a one-week wonder. This week the league had a new one—Bill Nicholson of the Chicago Cubs. He wasn't even among the first ten last week, but he soared right into second in the rankings after Friday's games with a .338 percentage.

Arrayed behind Danning and Nicholson were Joe Moore, New York .335; Dixie Walker, Brooklyn .333; Frank Gustine, Pittsburg .326; May, Philadelphia .322; Hank Leiber, Chicago .316; Chester Ross, Boston .315; Frank McCormick, Cincinnati .310; and Jim Gleeson, Chicago .309.

The shuffling among the leading percentage hitters was not transmitted to leaders in other departments.

Johnny Mize continued to set the home run pace with 18, twice as many as Danning, who rated second. Danning, however, remained in front in runs batted in with 47. A new threat in the latter division developed in Pittsburgh's Elbie Fletcher, who has knocked 44 runs home.

McCormick has made the most hits, 70, and is tied for second in doubles with 15, the same as teammate Bill Werber and two less than Stan Hack of Chicago has manufactured.

Ross' eight triples remained tops.

Lonny Frey of Cincinnati has scored the most runs, 41, and stolen the most bases, nine.

Cliff Melton of the Giants and Fat Freddy Fitzsimmons of the Brooklyn Dodgers headed the pitchers, each with six victories and one defeat. During the week Cincinnati's Bucky Walters suffered two more setbacks to make four straight losses since winning nine games in a row at the start of the season.

UMPS ARGUE TOO

Player arguments with umpires are frequent but it's rare that a pair of arbiters are found tiffing. Bill McGowan and John Quinn (right), American league play-callers, had a brief verbal tussle the other day in Washington over a decision by Quinn. Zeke Bonura, Senators' first sacker, seems to be enjoying the fuss.

OLD SHIRT BOOSTER

HOUSTON, Tex.—(AP)—Tom Baylor, assistant zoo keeper at Hermann park, has an old shirt to thank for his life. A cow buffalo, believing he intended harm her new-born calf, charged Baylor as he entered her pen. Her horn caught in his old shirt, but Baylor broke away and got behind a tree. Had he been wearing a strong new shirt, Baylor thinks the incident might have ended differently.

roll out into centerfield; Boden scored but Lucas was out trying to go to second.

Major Bowles again got in trouble in the fifth inning, the Seaporters scoring three runs. Zarilla flied to center, but Savage singled and Clancy walked. Leary flied out to Hill in deep center field with no advance. Frank Surgent doubled scoring Savage and Clancy. Surgent went to third on the throw from Englehorn to Eagar and scored when Eagar threw wild to third. Boden doubled, and Weller walked, but Lucas forced Weller at second to end the inning.

The Sox scored a run in the first of the sixth when Red Pruitt lambasted one off the left field fence for a triple and Bowles came through with a single to send him across the plate. Eagar flied to Leary in left for the third out.

Helena took a six-run lead in the last half of the sixth, scoring two more runs, the score reading 9 to 3. Sam Arico singled and went to second when Englehorn let the ball get through him, Zarilla tripled to right scoring Arico. Savage singled to center scoring Zarilla, and Lefty Hinton relieved Bowles on the mound for the Sox. Clancy sacrificed, but Leary and Surgent were easy outs to end the frame.

Burt opened the seventh with a double, his second extra base hit of the game, but was doubled off second when Arico jumped high in the air and snagged Hill's line drive. Englehorn singled but Knight was out to Clancy, unassisted.

The Seaporters added another run in the last of the seventh. Boden singled and Weller sacrificed. Lucas fanned, but Arico singled through the pitcher's box to score Boden. Zarilla lined to Eagar, ending the inning.

The Sox tried hard in the first of the ninth, but could only muster three runs. Eagar singled off short to start the inning and Burt advanced him with an infield out. It was a bunt but not a sacrifice. Hill singled scoring Eagar. Englehorn then singled, scoring Hill from first and Englehorn went to second when Surgent juggled the ball in left center. Knight lifted to center, but Medak singled over second to score Englehorn with the third run of the frame. Schang lined to Zarilla in deep right field to end the game.

Fans No Longer Question How Long Vitt Will Last

They Now Wonder How Long The Indians Themselves Can Last

CLEVELAND, June 22.—(AP)—Things happen quickly in the wigwam of the Cleveland Indians.

A week ago fans asked: "How long will Vitt last?"

Today their question was: "How long will the Indians last?"

The club's ascent to first place on the wings of six straight victories, coming after a 12-player demand that Manager Oscar Vitt, be fired, has stirred quiet pennant talk. But the talk is in an undertone, because fans refuse to forget the almost annual mid-summer drive of the Redskins.

Many believe the blow-off against Vitt has eased the tension and given players a new footing. Others expect the "truce" to end once the club starts losing.

President Alva Bradley, who accepted a retraction from the players after refusing to oust Vitt, sized up the team's chances:

"All they need is confidence in themselves. If they think they can win, they can."

One factor is frequently overlooked: Hal Trosky, Ken Keltner, Jeff Heath and Mel Harder, four tested veterans, have been far below par.

Harder, a right-hander with one of the best curves in the league, has gotton underway slowly after winning 15 games last year. Add Harder to 10-game winners Bob Feller and Al Milnar, the surprising Al Smith and the comeback-bound Johnny Allen, and the Indians will have one of the best mound staffs in the loop.

Sparked by the keystone combination of Lou Boudreau and Ray Mack, the Indians have their best defensive infield in years. The outfield easily will do, with the speedy Roy Weatherly daily making sensational catches.

GALENTO RATED NO. 1 CHALLENGER

MILWAUKEE, June 22.—(AP)—Tony Galento, the New Jersey tavernkeeper who fights Max Baer next month, was rated today by the National Boxing association as the No. 1 challenger for Joe Louis' crown.

Fred J. Saddy of Milwaukee, chairman of the NBA's championship rating committee, placed Galento first and Bob Pastor, of New York, second. Max Baer was given the fifth ranking position in the quarterly ratings, behind Arturo Godoy and Lou Nova.

The committee recognized two new champions since the last ratings in March. Pete Scalzo of New York, was termed the featherweight champion, displacing Joey Archibald. In the lightweight division, the NBA gave Sammy Angott the championship spot, by virtue of his win over Davy Day in Louisville on Derby eve. The No. 1 lightweight challenger in the ratings was Lew Jenkins.

Three newcomers were recognized among the first ten challengers for Louis' throne—Buddy Baer, given the seventh spot; Pat Comiskey, eighth, and Buddy Jack Walker, tenth. Other heavyweights ranked were Red Burman, sixth, and Junior Munsell, ninth.

Champions and No. 1 contenders, respectively, in other divisions included: Featherweight, Pete Scalzo and Harry Jeffra.

CARDS WHIP BEES

BOSTON, June 22.—(AP)—The St. Louis Cardinals exploded a seven-run outburst in the sixth inning today to win the seventh of their last eight games by a 9-2 tally from the battered Boston Bees.

Eight Boston errors, three of them in the disastrous sixth, aided the Cardinals.

Stu Martin opened the debacle by reaching first on Buddy Hassett's error. Enos Slaughter singled, Ernie Koy doubled, Johnny Mize singled to bring the total to three. Don Padgett popped out but Terry Moore doubled and Joe Orengo's single added two more. Martin Marion singled and Orengo scored when Sibby Sisti hit him in the back after fielding Mort Cooper's infield tap. Marion tallied the seventh run when Martin reached first for the second time in the inning on an error, this time by "Bama" Rowell.

REFORMS, MONIES PRESENT PROBLEM

boat fuel without extending the same privilege to farm tractor fuel, and, failing in this, mustered enough votes from orthodox Jones ranks to prevent the general exemption amendment from obtaining the necessary two-thirds majority in the house.

Finally, the coalition mustered an impressive but insufficient total of votes in an attempt to limit Governor Jones' crime commission to $250,000 instead of $500,000 for expenses.

In each case spokesmen for the independents explained they were not against the purposes of reform, but wanted to make sure no plums were being created for a new administration needlessly and no money was being spent for possibly political purposes before the administration's promised welfare expansions had been cared for.

Many members of the same group voted against the orthodox forces in the highly controversial measure setting at $17 per educable the severance tax allotment to the schools, which passed the house.

The next major test of administration strength, observers agreed, would come on the reorganization and fiscal code bills, which would simplify state government structure, provide rigid checks over spending, but which also have been attacked in an extensive "corridor campaign" as threats to elective officials and moves to centralize power in the governor. Both need validating constitutional amendments, hence are vulnerable to a minority which could summon a third of the vote of either house.

There was no reliable indication, however, that the same grouping would appear against these bills.

The measures, designated by Governor Jones as the heart of his program, have lain on the house calendar for several days without an attempt by administrationists to bring them to the test.

The financial picture is one of strenuous work but slow progress.

A revised oil severance tax, estimated to produce $1,250,000, has passed the house but not been considered by the senate.

The house ways and means committee cut the proposed natural gas processing tax from 2½ cents to ½ cent per thousand feet and approved it as a measure expected to produce $1,500,000 instead of the originally intended $7,500,000.

Lesser compromises were worked out on liquor gallonage and license and on income taxes, but legislators estimated there remained a gap of at least $2,000,000 between the revenue in sight and the estimates of expenditure.

On the spending side, the house appropriations committee still has before it the whole schedule of budgets for the regular department of government and still has to hear the heads of several departments. Then it plans to go into executive session with tax commission representatives and, reportedly, attempt a $1,000,000 cut in appropriations before the revised bill runs the gauntlet of both houses.

Time is against the Jones forces, because the constitution requires the session to end July 11. But on their side is the power they have shown in obtaining a majority without fail and lacking a two-thirds majority only once, and the claim by the governor that the people who elected the legislators are strongly behind his program.

CANDIDATES ARRIVE

PHILADELPHIA, June 22.—(AP)—Leading contenders for the Republican presidential nomination arrived in this carnival-bent convention city today denying fast-flying rumors of impending "deals," and looking forward to the party's first wide-open contest for the nomination since 1920.

Wendell Willkie, the New York utilities man risen from dark horse ranks; Thomas E. Dewey, the young New York district attorney, who swept the preference primaries, and Senator Robert A. Taft of Ohio, fresh from the firing line in Washington reached town to join Senator Styles Bridges, Frank Gannett and Governor Arthur H. James of Pennsylvania, contenders who had previously taken up their quarters here.

With them came a rush of delegates, and party camp followers who jammed hotel lobbies, bars and restaurants, talking excitedly of this rumor or that, and arguing endlessly about platform planks and candidates.

Dewey, holding a press conference, said flatly that there was no truth in reports that his forces are teaming up with those of Senator Taft in an effort to "stop Willkie." Asked whether he would accept a vice-presidential nomination, he said:

"I trust the question is academic."

At the same time, platform subcommittees were at work behind closed doors, including the group at work on the foreign affairs plank. All the groups had been advised to have their planks ready for presentation to the drafting committee by early evening. Alf M. Landon, chairman of the foreign affairs subcommittee, asserted however, that that was impossible in his case.

Landon's view, repeatedly expressed, has been that the plank should not be written hurriedly, because of the uncertain status of events abroad. The plank is expected to emphasize peace and preparedness, urge some degree of assistance to the allies, and stress the Republican party as the "peace" party.

CAPITAL CENSUS

BATON ROUGE, La., June 22.—(AP)—Complete census returns give Baton Rouge a population of 34,337, district census Director M. A. Tolusso said today, while incomplete tabulation of East Baton Rouge parish, including the city's extensive suburgs, shos a total of 90,442.

During April, 1940, new passenger car registrations in the United tSates totaled 348,594 units.

ARMS LEAVE

BAYONNE, N. J., June 22.—(AP)—Three British freighters, heavily laden with munitions, slipped out to sea tonight after three days of feverish loading at the Bayonne port terminal.

During the stay, crew members and longshoremen worked night and day putting an estimated 7,000 tons of shells, rifles and gun carriages aboard the Dalcross, Pacific Shipper and Aracataca.

While coast guards, police and private detectives stood guard, lighters tied up alongside the three vessels for the loading. Crew members did not leave the ship during the entire stay and secrecy surrounded the source of the munitions and the destination of the freighters.

REFINERIES DESTROYED

NEW YORK, June 22.—(AP)—All refineries in France have been destroyed or so seriously damaged under direction of French military authorities as to render them useless until rebuilt, the Oil and Gas Journal, a trade publication, said today.

Virtually all French petroleum stocks also were removed or destroyed prior to the German occupation, the publication added.

PARIS HEARS NEWS

PARIS (by special plane to Berlin), June 21. (Delayed)—(AP)—Paris, which had greeted its victorious 1918 armistice with an expression of joy, received the news of the 1940 armistice discussions today in numb silence.

The first report of the armistice talks was carried at 4 p.m. by the newspaper Le Matin. It was a three-sentence story of "the painful ceremony for France" in Compiegne forest.

A German army radio car parked just off the Place De L'Opera broadcast the news soon afterward while sound trucks toured the boulevards blaring martial music.

General de Gaulle said he undertook the national task "here in England" of grouping together where possible the "great possible French force."

Everything which can be gathered together in military units and in means to produce amaments should be organized wherever there are any such, he said.

He said he invited the leaders, the soldiers, the sailors, the airmen of the French forces to get in touch with him. He invited all French people "who wish to remain free" to listen to him and to follow him, and concluded:

"Long live Fance, free in honor and independence."

GUARD ENVOY

"Germany will not forget that, when she was fighting bitterly for her very life, the United States gave every material aid to her enemies." That warning, reported made by Baron von Spiegel, German consul-general at New Orleans, caused such resentment that he asked for protection. Above, a policeman guards the swastika-adorned (arrow) consulate. Von Spiegel denied making the statement.

tional debt limit from $45,000,000,000 to $49,000,000,000; lowers personal income tax exemptions; increases the number of individual taxpayers by an estimated 2,000,000 and imposes increased taxes on theater tickets, cigarettes, whiskey, gasoline and numerous other products.

The income tax changes will cover 1940 incomes payable on March 15, 1941. The excise increases become effective immediately the president signs the legislation.

The $1,768,913,908 emergency defense appropriation was the latest of President Roosevelt's recommended defense expenditures. The bulk of the fund will be used for army airplanes, tanks, guns and other munitions, but part will go for navy needs, including a start on construction of 68 new fighting ships.

Passage of the emergency defense bill brought the total of defense appropriation measures approved up to now to $5,377,552,058. In addition, numerous items intended for defense purposes appeared in other routine supply bills.

In addition to action by both houses on the emergency defense money bill, the house passed on a voice vote and after only brief debate legislation to authorize a $4,000,000,000, six-year program of naval expansion which would double the strength of the fleet now in commission. The bill then was sent to the senate. The measure was not on the "must" list before the recess, however, and senate consideration is not expected until after the conventions.

The senate completed congressional action and sent to the White House during the day legislation to provide $1,023,282,690 for labor department and federal security agency during the coming fiscal year.

Originally, the Democratic leaders of congress had aspired to a final adjournment of congress tonight, but opposition from both Republican and Democratic quarters ended this hope and the recess device was agreed upon.

Congress has a substantial backlog of business upon which to work when the recesses for the Republican and Democratic convention in July are out of the way.

Chairman Harrison, Democrat, Mississippi, of the senate finance committee has predicted that general tax revision proposals will be looked into. Amendments to the Wagner Labor Relations act and the wage-hour law are pending. And developments at home and abroad may give rise to still more national defense legislation.

LOUISIANA TOMATOES TO BE BOUGHT BY U. S.

BATON ROUGE, La., June 22.—(AP)—Welfare Commissioner C. Ellis Henican said today the federal surplus commodity commission would buy 2,000,000 pounds of tomatoes produced in north Louisiana.

He said officials had informed him the tomatoes, 100 carloads, would be purchased to remove a surplus from the market and that 36 carloads would be distributed to Louisiana relief clients through the welfare commission, the remainder being used elsewhere.

REPATRIATION MEASURE APPROVED BY CONGRESS

Six other indictments involving fraudulent use of food stamps were returned. Federal Attorney Jim C. Smith said the four men and three women under arrest were among the first in the nation facing criminal prosecution for food stamp violations.

NEW YORK STOCKS

By Victor Eubank

NEW YORK, June 22.—(AP)—Selective stocks made occasional passes at a rally in today's market but many issues dozed at moderately lower levels as traders still conserved buying power pending clarification of the French decision on Germany's armistice terms.

The hesitancy that marked the preceding session continued and transfers of around 200,000 shares for the two hours were among the smallest in about a year. A few favorites got up a point or so, but factional declines and losses were widely spread at the close.

Financial quarters shook off some of the gloom resulting from the French collapse and hope appeared to have revived on indications the British may have taken over a major portion of the loser's fleet. If this proves correct, it was concluded, the English have a chance of stopping the Nazis. All of which adds up, in the opinion of most market observers, as bullish for securities.

The business outlook at home, along with forthcoming huge defense spending, remained an important handicap for sellers and a prop for those who envision prices in the not so distant future.

Bonds were a trifle uneven and commodities steady. "Free" sterling pushed up briskly in terms of the dollar.

boat fuel without extending the same privilege to farm tractor fuel, and, failing in this, mustered enough votes from orthodox Jones ranks to prevent the general exemption amendment from obtaining the necessary two-thirds majority in the house.

Finally, the coalition mustered an impressive but insufficient total of votes in an attempt to limit Governor Jones' crime commission to $250,000 instead of $500,000 for expenses.

In each case spokesmen for the independents explained they were not against the purposes of reform, but wanted to make sure no plums were being created for a new administration needlessly and no money was being spent for possibly political purposes before the administration's promised welfare expansions had been cared for.

Many members of the same group voted against the orthodox forces in the highly controversial measure setting at $17 per educable the severance tax allotment to the schools, which passed the house.

The next major test of administration strength, observers agreed, would come on the reorganization and fiscal code bills, which would simplify state government structure, provide rigid checks over spending, but which also have been attacked in an extensive "corridor campaign" as threats to elective officials and moves to centralize power in the governor. Both need validating constitutional amendments, hence are vulnerable to a minority which could summon a third of the vote of either house.

There was no reliable indication, however, that the same grouping would appear against these bills.

The measures, designated by Governor Jones as the heart of his program, have lain on the house calendar for several days without an attempt by administrationists to bring them to the test.

The financial picture is one of strenuous work but slow progress.

A revised oil severance tax, estimated to produce $1,250,000, has passed the house but not been considered by the senate.

The house ways and means committee cut the proposed natural gas processing tax from 2½ cents to ½ cent per thousand feet and approved it as a measure expected to produce $1,500,000 instead of the originally intended $7,500,000.

Lesser compromises were worked out on liquor gallonage and license and on income taxes, but legislators estimated there remained a gap of at least $2,000,000 between the revenue in sight and the estimates of expenditure.

On the spending side, the house appropriations committee still has before it the whole schedule of budgets for the regular department of government and still has to hear the heads of several departments. Then it plans to go into executive session with tax commission representatives and, reportedly, attempt a $1,000,000 cut in appropriations before the revised bill runs the gauntlet of both houses.

Time is against the Jones forces, because the constitution requires the session to end July 11. But on their side is the power they have shown in obtaining a majority without fail and lacking a two-thirds majority only once, and the claim by the governor that the people who elected the legislators are strongly behind his program.

CANDIDATES ARRIVE

PHILADELPHIA, June 22.—(AP)—Leading contenders for the Republican presidential nomination arrived in this carnival-bent convention city today denying fast-flying rumors of impending "deals," and looking forward to the party's first wide-open contest for the nomination since 1920.

Wendell Willkie, the New York utilities man risen from dark horse ranks; Thomas E. Dewey, the young New York district attorney, who swept the preference primaries, and Senator Robert A. Taft of Ohio, fresh from the firing line in Washington reached town to join Senator Styles Bridges, Frank Gannett and Governor Arthur H. Janes of Pennsylvania, contenders who had previously taken up their quarters here.

With them came a rush of delegates, and party camp followers who jammed hotel lobbies, bars and restaurants, talking excitedly of this rumor or that, and arguing endlessly about platform planks and candidates.

Dewey, holding a press conference, said flatly that there was no truth in reports that his forces are teaming up with those of Senator Taft in an effort to "stop Willkie." Asked whether he would accept a vice-presidential nomination, he said:

"I trust the question is academic."

At the same time, platform subcommittees were at work behind closed doors, including the group at work on the foreign affairs plank. All the groups had been advised to have their planks ready for presentation to the drafting committee by early evening. Alf M. Landon, chairman of the foreign affairs subcommittee, asserted however, that that was impossible in his case.

Landon's view, repeatedly expressed, has been that the plank should not be written hurriedly, because of the uncertain status of events abroad. The plank is expected to emphasize peace and preparedness, urge some degree of assistance to the allies, and stress the Republican party as the "peace" party.

CAPITAL CENSUS

BATON ROUGE, La., June 22.—(AP)—Complete census returns give Baton Rouge a population of 34,337, district census Director M. A. Tolusso said today, while incomplete tabulation of East Baton Rouge parish, including the city's extensive suburgs, shos a total of 90,442.

During April, 1940, new passenger car registrations in the United tSates totaled 348,594 units.

ARMS LEAVE

BAYONNE, N. J., June 22.—(AP)—Three British freighters, heavily laden with munitions, slipped out to sea tonight after three days of feverish loading at the Bayonne port terminal.

During the stay, crew members and longshoremen worked night and day putting an estimated 7,000 tons of shells, rifles and gun carriages aboard the Dalcross, Pacific Shipper and Aracataca.

While coast guards, police and private detectives stood guard, lighters tied up alongside the three vessels for the loading. Crew members did not leave the ship during the entire stay and secrecy surrounded the source of the munitions and the destination of the freighters.

REFINERIES DESTROYED

NEW YORK, June 22.—(AP)—All refineries in France have been destroyed or so seriously damaged under direction of French military authorities as to render them useless until rebuilt, the Oil and Gas Journal, a trade publication, said today.

Virtually all French petroleum stocks also were removed or destroyed prior to the German occupation, the publication added.

PARIS HEARS NEWS

PARIS (by special plane to Berlin), June 21. (Delayed)—(AP)—Paris, which had greeted its victorious 1918 armistice with an expression of joy, received the news of the 1940 armistice discussions today in numb silence.

The first report of the armistice talks was carried at 4 p.m. by the newspaper Le Matin. It was a three-sentence story of "the painful ceremony for France" in Compiegne forest.

A German army radio car parked just off the Place De L'Opera broadcast the news soon afterward while sound trucks toured the boulevards blaring martial music.

Frenchmen should continue to fight wherever they are and by whatever means they can."

General de Gaulle said he undertook the national task "here in England" of grouping together where possible the "great possible French force."

Everything which can be gathered together in military units and in means to produce amaments should be organized wherever there are any such, he said.

He said he invited the leaders, the soldiers, the sailors, the airmen of the French forces to get in touch with him. He invited all French people "who wish to remain free" to listen to him and to follow him, and concluded:

"Long live Fance, free in honor and independence."

GUARD ENVOY

"Germany will not forget that, when she was fighting bitterly for her very life, the United States gave every material aid to her enemies." That warning, reported made by Baron von Spiegel, German consul-general at New Orleans, caused such resentment that he asked for protection. Above, a policeman guards the swastika-adorned (arrow) consulate. Von Spiegel denied making the statement.

CONGRESS OKAYS MAJOR MEASURES

tional debt limit from $45,000,000,000 to $49,000,000,000; lowers personal income tax exemptions; increases the number of individual taxpayers by an estimated 2,000,000 and imposes increased taxes on theater tickets, cigarettes, whiskey, gasoline and numerous other products.

The income tax changes will cover 1940 incomes payable on March 15, 1941. The excise increases become effective immediately the president signs the legislation.

The $1,768,913,908 emergency defense appropriation was the latest of President Roosevelt's recommended defense expenditures. The bulk of the fund will be used for army airplanes, tanks, guns and other munitions, but part will go for navy needs, including a start on construction of 68 new fighting ships.

Passage of the emergency defense bill brought the total of defense appropriation measures approved up to now to $5,377,552,058. In addition, numerous items intended for defense purposes appeared in other routine supply bills.

In addition to action by both houses on the emergency defense money bill, the house passed on a voice vote and after only brief debate legislation to authorize a $4,000,000,000, six-year program of naval expansion which would double the strength of the fleet now in commission. The bill then was sent to the senate. The measure was not on the "must" list before the recess, however, and senate consideration is not expected until after the conventions.

The senate completed congressional action and sent to the White House during the day legislation to provide $1,023,282,690 for labor department and federal security agency during the coming fiscal year.

Originally, the Democratic leaders of congress had aspired to a final adjournment of congress tonight, but opposition from both Republican and Democratic quarters ended this hope and the recess device was agreed upon.

Congress has a substantial backlog of business upon which to work when the recesses for the Republican and Democratic convention in July are out of the way.

Chairman Harrison, Democrat, Mississippi, of the senate finance committee has predicted that general tax revision proposals will be looked into. Amendments to the Wagner Labor Relations act and the wage-hour law are pending. And developments at home and abroad may give rise to still more national defense legislation.

LOUISIANA TOMATOES TO BE BOUGHT BY U. S.

BATON ROUGE, La., June 22.—(AP)—Welfare Commissioner C. Ellis Henican said today the federal surplus commodity commission would buy 2,000,000 pounds of tomatoes produced in north Louisiana.

He said officials had informed him the tomatoes, 100 carloads, would be purchased to remove a surplus from the market and that 36 carloads would be distributed to Louisiana relief clients through the welfare commission, the remainder being used elsewhere.

REPATRIATION MEASURE APPROVED BY CONGRESS

Six other indictments involving fraudulent use of food stamps were returned. Federal Attorney Jim C. Smith said the four men and three women under arrest were among the first in the nation facing criminal prosecution for food stamp violations.

NEW YORK STOCKS

By Victor Eubank

NEW YORK, June 22.—(AP)—Selective stocks made occasional passes at a rally in today's market but many issues dozed at moderately lower levels as traders still conserved buying power pending clarification of the French decision on Germany's armistice terms.

The hesitancy that marked the preceding session continued and transfers of around 200,000 shares for the two hours were among the smallest in about a year. A few favorites got up a point or so, but factional declines and losses were widely spread at the close.

Financial quarters shook off some of the gloom resulting from the French collapse and hope appeared to have revived on indications the British may have taken over a major portion of the loser's fleet. If this proves correct, it was concluded, the English have a chance of stopping the Nazis. All of which adds up, in the opinion of most market observers, as bullish for securities.

The business outlook at home, along with forthcoming huge defense spending, remained an important handicap for sellers and a prop for those who envision prices in the not so distant future.

Bonds were a trifle uneven and commodities steady. "Free" sterling pushed up briskly in terms of the dollar.

GRAPHIC ACCOUNT OF WAR IS GIVEN

Words Cannot Describe Conflict Horrors, American Woman Writes

WINNSBORO, La., June 22.—(Special)—A graphic account of European war horrors "so terrible, words cannot describe them" has been received by Mrs. Alvin L. Smith, Winnsboro, from her sister, Mrs. Louis de Aguirre, who, after watching the destructive march of conquest of the German invaders the past three years, finally fled Europe to return to the United States, and safety.

Mrs. de Aguirre sailed from Italy June 3 on the liner Manhattan and arrived in the United States on June 10. Each time she changed her address in Europe, she said, it seemed as though that country was next on Hitler's list of conquests.

When the Spanish civil war began in 1937, Mrs. de Aguirre was with friends and relatives in Madrid, where she was recuperating from a serious illness. Fearing the growing intensity of the struggle there, she fled to the Austrian Alps, and happened to be in Vienna, capital of Austria, when Hitler brought about his "anchluss" and absorbed Austria into the Reich.

Again she sought a new haven, finally selecting Budapest, Hungary. But the menace of Hitler's marching legions was still behind her, and when Germany took over Czechoslovakia, Mrs. de Aguirre fled to London, England, by way of Italy, Switzerland and France.

She was living in London when Germany invaded Poland and so precipitated the Second World war.

When London authorities began evacuating school children from the English capital to safer points in western Scotland, Mrs. de Aguirre offered to help and did spend much of her time caring for the young war victims.

Strain and worry, however, caused a recurrence of ill heaith, and she left London for Italy, only to find that Italy was to join the war in a few weeks.

Hence her hurried departure to the United States.

Mrs. Smith says her sister is planning to spend the summer in the White mountains of New Hampshire, and will visit her here this fall, if her health permits.

'MISS IDEAL DIXIE' RETURNS HOME

Morning World Staff Photograph

The War Today

By DeWitt MacKenzie

(Associated Press Foreign Affairs Writer)

England's position on the eve of the German assault appears considerably bettered, in view of the word received in authoritative quarters in Washington that Britain already has taken over most of the French navy—a matter of vast importance to the allied cause.

If the British are able to keep their hands on it, irrespective of the Nazi armistice terms, this most certainly will have a vital bearing on the trend of this last phase of the blitzkrieg.

The point is that Britain must depend greatly on her naval arm to wage war against Germany. Possession of the French navy would give the axis partners near-parity with the British fleet (the world's largest), increasing the gravity of England's position.

It would appear from the Washington report that the British may not get much actual fighting value out of the fleet, because she cannot service the ships with munitions and spare parts (which largely differ from her own) without the French plants and machine shops now in enemy hands.

However, that isn't what matters so much. Britain's main concern is to keep these warships out of Hitler's possession.

That gives Britain a naval superiority over both Italy and Germany of perhaps better than two to one in tonnage. This means that Italy must be the possibly not too comfortable standard bearer of the axis naval activities, since the German fleet has been heavily reduced by war operations.

A second slice of good fortune is understood to have fallen to England in the acquirement of a large number of French warplanes.

And how she is going to need them? Her first job is going to be to beat off Germany's superior air power, and those French planes are worth more than gold to her at this moment.

Only if Britain can withstand the furious bombardment from the air which undoubtedly will open the new German drive will she have a chance to defeat the Nazis. If England is able to shield herself from this blood-bath, then she will be able to utilize her navy in an effort to strangle both Germany and Italy by blockade.

Upon these two operations largely hangs the fate of Great Britain.

While fortune has smiled on the British in the matter of the French fleet and planes, things haven't gone so well in other quarters. Some of the neutrals are beginning to touch their hats respectfully to the fuehrer.

The cold fact is that most of the European neutrals are scared by the devastating power of the Nazi war-machine.

Rumania, one of the World war allies and until recent months the friend of Anglo-French brotherhood, has drawn closer to Germany. King Carol has formed a new totalitarian party on Nazi lines and it is understood that the government will be of the Nazi-Fascist type.

Thus for the moment ends the struggle between Britain and Germany for the favors of the country which possesses the all important oil Hitler needs so badly for his prosecution of the war—the only source he has been able to tap direct.

The rest of the Balkans are sitting pretty quiet, hoping that the running dogs of war will pass them by. Powerful Turkey, master of the strategic Dardanelles and pledged to support the allies in Mediterranean warfare not involving Russia, is guarding its neutrality in view of the French collapse.

Lack of Turkish support would be a grievous loss to Britain.

And now Japan has decided to take a hand in the matter of British and French possessions in the southern Orient, according to quarters close to the Tokyo government. This source says Nippon also plans closer relations with Germany and Italy, and a negative attitude towards any American move towards rapprochement.

That would bring Japan within the axis orbit at a time when the Anglo-French allies are unable to devote much time or strength to protection of the great interests in the far east. Specifically it looks as though control of the British colony of Hongkong and French Indo-China is involved.

And finally, the axis partners apparently intend to give Spain a place in the peace terms for services rendered. That raises another danger for England in her Mediterranean war.

'MISS IDEAL DIXIE' BACK IN MONROE

Rosalie Sherman, Who Won Title At Biloxi Contest, Is Home

"Miss Ideal Dixie" came home yesterday.

She is Miss Rosalie Sherman of Monroe, who captured the title from 30 other contestants at the Cotton States revue at Biloxi, Miss., during the week. She was accompanied by Ginger Bubb, also of Monroe, who was runnerup in the contest for "Sir Dixie."

The pair arrived at the Union bus station at 4:20 p.m. "Miss Dixie's" first statement was:

"I'm so excited, I can't think." She proudly displayed the trophy presented to the "Queen of the Cotton States."

Mayor Harvey H. Benoit, members of the Chamber of Commerce, Sam Rubin, local merchant who sponsored "Miss Dixie"; Benny Bicknell, manager of the Paramount-Richards theater, which conducted the contest, and many others gathered at the bus station at 3 p.m. to greet her. The mayor and members of the chamber were forced to leave by the press of other business when it was announced that Miss Sherman would not arrive until 4:20 p.m.

On arrival of the bus, Miss Sherman, hugging her trophy, had a hard time getting off due to the crowd of admirers pressing about to congratulate her.

Mr. Bubb managed to open a path for her. She was presented with a bouquet by Dave Silverstein in behalf of the Monroe Chamber of Commerce.

With bouquet in one hand and trophy in the other, "Miss Dixie" grabbed her mother and hugged her.

Newspapermen finally succeeded in getting "Miss Dixie" away long enough for picture and a story.

Reluctant at first, the modest and shy Miss Sherman finally broke down under a barrage of questions to began to give an exciting account of her adventures.

"When we arrived at Gulfport last Saturday afternoon it was pouring down rain and we had to run to get to our hotel across the street. I almost got soaked. That night we went to the show.

"Sunday morning we went to church, and that afternoon we toured the coast. Everything was so beautiful. That night we went on a moonlight picinc at the Norrel Reserve park between Biloxi and Gulfport, and did we have a grand time!"

"Everybody was so nice to us. Monday afternoon we all went to four boat races staged for our benefit by the yacht club, and that night we went to a ball on the Buena Vista roof."

"Tuesday we didn't do much of anything but rest and go to see 'Saturday's Children' that night. I think it was a swell show."

"Wednesday we just sat around and 'dreamed,' waiting for the fateful day," Miss Sherman said. "That night we went to another ball at the Edgewater Beach hotel."

"All any of us did Thursday was rehearse and wonder about that night. Surely I was nervous, but not as nervous as I was in Monroe before going out on the stage," Miss Sherman said.

Mr. Bubb said he "knew she would win when she calmly took her turn on the stage.

"There wasn't anybody there that came near her."

"We didn't get to do much with the keys to the two cities that they gave us," Miss Sherman said. "Oh, I almost forgot. I got the biggest thrill out of the drive to Gulfport from Biloxi. We had a military escort and just breezed along. When we left Gulfport there were about four cars, but when we arrived there must have been 25 cars that had managed to slip in the procession.

"Friday, all of us (the contestants) went to Ship Island and went swimming.

"Saturday? Well, here we are," the very happy, but "oh, so tired" Miss Sherman said.

When the auburn-haired girl, who likes chicken and "adores" dancing, was asked if she would accept a screen test which may be forthcoming, she said, "I don't know. I'll have to think it over."

Miss Sherman expressed her gratitude to the local merchants who gave her such a splendid send-off; to her sponsor, Sam Rubins, whose loyal support gave her self-confidence, and to Miss Billie Butler, who served as her advisor and friend in the days which preceded the "Miss Monroe" contest, held recently at the Paramount-Richards theater, and to Mr. Bicknell, manager of the theater.

The husband, an itinerant farm worker, and his wife were last seen together on Monday when they were swimming in Lake Ferguson.

BROOKS CONTENDS SPIES MUST STOP

Important Duty Of Congress To Halt Espionage, He Declares

By Ernest B. Voccaro

WASHINGTON, June 22.—(AP)—Representative Overton Brooks of Louisiana contends the most important duty of congress is to put a stop to "spying" in this country.

"Communists and Nazis in America are spies for their respective governments just as they were spies in France, Holland, Norway, Finland, Belgium and England," he told a session of the house this week.

Brooks expressed alarm at the conduct of the Communist party convention when it met in New York early this month and renominated Earl Browder as its candidate for president of the United States.

Calling Browder, "America's No. 1 link with Soviet Russia," Brooks told his colleagues "a stranger attending would have thought he was in Moscow in the heart of 'Red' Russia as he stood on the floor of the convention and heard the shouts of support.

"America's 'fifth column'—the bund and the Communist—is active, defiant, and arrogant," the Louisiana congressman declared. "Any doubt regarding this was removed by listening to the speech of this arch-Communist Earl Browder and to the thunderous applause which greeted his every treasonable word.

"The 'fifth column' is even more dangerous here in America than it is in Europe. Why do I say this? The German bund works now under cover—since Germany is engaged in war. The Communists work as a national political organization, with an actual balloting strength in 1936 of 80,000 votes."

He endorsed the proposal of Representative Dies, Democrat, Texas, for formation of a council to fight "fifth column" activities and declared the registration and fingerprinting of every alien "is an absolute essential to safety."

Louisiana did not have the lowest WPA quota of any state in the union in March, as was indicated by testimony heard by a house appropriations committee recently. A check by WPA officials this week indicated 24 states had lower quotations than Louisiana.

Colonel F. C. Harrington, work projects commissioner, says the state had the lowest quota of any southern state due partly to lack of sponsor contribution.

A review of the records disclosed that seven southern states—Alabama, Florida, Georgia, Mississippi, Arkansas, Texas and Oklahoma—received additional quotas ranging from 3,000 to 8,000 persons in view of drought and floods in those states.

These additional quotas were authorized last fall and because of conditions were continued through March.

This was another contributing factor to Louisiana's quota being lower than other states in the southern area.

Words Cannot Describe Conflict Horrors, American Woman Writes

WINNSBORO, La., June 22.—(Special)—A graphic account of European war horrors "so terrible, words cannot describe them" has been received by Mrs. Alvin L. Smith, Winnsboro, from her sister, Mrs. Louis de Aguirre, who, after watching the destructive march of conquest of the German invaders the past three years, finally fled Europe to return to the United States, and safety.

Mrs. de Aguirre sailed from Italy June 3 on the liner Manhattan and arrived in the United States on June 10. Each time she changed her address in Europe, she said, it seemed as though that country was next on Hitler's list of conquests.

When the Spanish civil war began in 1937, Mrs. de Aguirre was with friends and relatives in Madrid, where she was recuperating from a serious illness. Fearing the growing intensity of the struggle there, she fled to the Austrian Alps, and happened to be in Vienna, capital of Austria, when Hitler brought about his "anchluss" and absorbed Austria into the Reich.

Again she sought a new haven, finally selecting Budapest, Hungary. But the menace of Hitler's marching legions was still behind her, and when Germany took over Czechoslovakia, Mrs. de Aguirre fled to London, England, by way of Italy, Switzerland and France.

She was living in London when Germany invaded Poland and so precipitated the Second World war.

When London authorities began evacuating school children from the English capital to safer points in western Scotland, Mrs. de Aguirre offered to help and did spend much of her time caring for the young war victims.

Strain and worry, however, caused a recurrence of ill health, and she left London for Italy, only to find that Italy was to join the war in a few weeks.

Hence her hurried departure to the United States.

Mrs. Smith says her sister is planning to spend the summer in the White mountains of New Hampshire, and will visit her here this fall, if her health permits.

'MISS IDEAL DIXIE' RETURNS HOME

Morning World Staff Photograph

The War Today

(Associated Press Foreign Affairs Writer)

England's position on the eve of the German assault appears considerably bettered, in view of the word received in authoritative quarters in Washington that Britain already has taken over most of the French navy—a matter of vast importance to the allied cause.

If the British are able to keep their hands on it, irrespective of the Nazi armistice terms, this most certainly will have a vital bearing on the trend of this last phase of the blitzkrieg.

The point is that Britain must depend greatly on her naval arm to wage war against Germany. Possession of the French navy would give the axis partners near-parity with the British fleet (the world's largest), increasing the gravity of England's position.

It would appear from the Washington report that the British may not get much actual fighting value out of the fleet, because she cannot service the ships with munitions and spare parts (which largely differ from her own) without the French plants and machine shops now in enemy hands.

However, that isn't what matters so much. Britain's main concern is to keep these warships out of Hitler's possession.

That gives Britain a naval superiority over both Italy and Germany of perhaps better than two to one in tonnage. This means that Italy must be the possibly not too comfortable standard bearer of the axis naval activities, since the German fleet has been heavily reduced by war operations.

A second slice of good fortune is understood to have fallen to England in the acquirement of a large number of French warplanes.

And how she is going to need them? Her first job is going to be to beat off Germany's superior air power, and those French planes are worth more than gold to her at this moment.

Only if Britain can withstand the furious bombardment from the air which undoubtedly will open the new German drive will she have a chance to defeat the Nazis. If England is able to shield herself from this blood-bath, then she will be able to utilize her navy in an effort to strangle both Germany and Italy by blockade.

Upon these two operations largely hangs the fate of Great Britain.

While fortune has smiled on the British in the matter of the French fleet and planes, things haven't gone so well in other quarters. Some of the neutrals are beginning to touch their hats respectfully to the fuehrer.

The cold fact is that most of the European neutrals are scared by the devastating power of the Nazi war-machine.

Rumania, one of the World war allies and until recent months the friend of Anglo-French brotherhood, has drawn closer to Germany. King Carol has formed a new totalitarian party on Nazi lines and it is understood that the government will be of the Nazi-Fascist type.

Thus for the moment ends the struggle between Britain and Germany for the favors of the country which possesses the all important oil Hitler needs so badly for his prosecution of the war—the only source he has been able to tap direct.

The rest of the Balkans are sitting pretty quiet, hoping that the running dogs of war will pass them by. Powerful Turkey, master of the strategic Dardanelles and pledged to support the allies in Mediterranean warfare not involving Russia, is guarding its neutrality in view of the French collapse.

Lack of Turkish support would be a grievous loss to Britain.

And now Japan has decided to take a hand in the matter of British and French possessions in the southern Orient, according to quarters close to the Tokyo government. This source says Nippon also plans closer relations with Germany and Italy, and a negative attitude towards any American move towards rapprochement.

That would bring Japan within the axis orbit at a time when the Anglo-French allies are unable to devote much time or strength to protection of the great interests in the far east. Specifically it looks as though control of the British colony of Hongkong and French Indo-China is involved.

And finally, the axis partners apparently intend to give Spain a place in the peace terms for services rendered. That raises another danger for England in her Mediterranean war.

FEDERAL PROJECTS TOTAL $51,000,000

NEW ORLEANS, June 22.—(AP)—Non-federal public improvement projects valued at approximately $51,000,000 are scheduled to be put into service in Louisiana by June 30, the deadline set by congress in establishing the 1938 public works administration program, the federal works agency announced today.

This program is comprised of 228 non-federal projects on which 55 per cent of the cost is financed by the community and 45 per cent by the public works administration.

In addition there have been 119 federal projects, financed in Louisiana entirely by the government at total cost of $26,770,025, making the aggregate value of public improvements under PWA aid and sponsorship $77,849,559.

'MISS IDEAL DIXIE' BACK IN MONROE

Rosalie Sherman, Who Won Title At Biloxi Contest, Is Home

"Miss Ideal Dixie" came home yesterday.

She is Miss Rosalie Sherman of Monroe, who captured the title from 30 other contestants at the Cotton States revue at Biloxi, Miss., during the week. She was accompanied by Ginger Bubb, also of Monroe, who was runnerup in the contest for "Sir Dixie."

The pair arrived at the Union bus station at 4:20 p.m. "Miss Dixie's" first statement was:

"I'm so excited, I can't think." She proudly displayed the trophy presented to the "Queen of the Cotton States."

Mrs. Mobley, Miss Feazel And Miss Daniel To Sail To New York; Cummings Go To Newport News

By Eve C. Bradford

ALL we need now is a few blistering summer days to send our thoughts vacationward. A few eager souls haven't waited for hot weather to descend, however. Their plans are perfected, their wardrobes are complete, and all they have to do is to wait for the happy day to come when they will sail away to vacation lands. Mrs. L. W. Mobley, believing in the old adage about the early bird catching the worm, made her reservation on the Dixie sailing for New York many weeks ago. She had the choice of staterooms at that time, and selected the one most fitted to her needs. She will sail from New Orleans August 2, and will spend the summer in the east with her sister.

Lallage Feazel and Alyce Daniel are all in readiness for their sea voyage and a grand time on shipboard. They are also sailing on board the Dixie, August 2, for New York. They have some of the smartest sport togs you ever saw tucked away in their trunks, for shipboard wear, and to be donned the minute they cross the gangplank.

Although the Gordon Cummings have one of the coolest homes in town with the breeze from the bayou sweeping in at night, Mary gathers her little brood together just about this time every year and leaves for Newport News, Va. They are already on their way to vacation land with their faithful nurse in charge of the youngsters.

Few people stay at home these days, peace or war, unless it's impossible to wangle at least the usual two weeks' vacation. Children especially have learned to look upon vacations away from home as their natural heritage. If it only takes them as far as Camp Windywood they are satisfied. Elizabeth Manhein, who serves as councilor each year at this popular summer camp for boys and girls, left this morning with a large aggregation of girls. After a taste of life at Windywood, where they can communicate with their parents just in case they are seized with a severe case of homesickness, they cast their eyes on more distant camps, such as Waldemar, where Anna Slagle will serve as councilor this year. She will be off next month with a large number of girls in tow, including Martha Jane Hill, junior councilor.

Mary Flournoy and her happy little family, Laura, Jean and Tommy, will be off the last of this month for camp in Michigan. Life on the shores of Lake Michigan is very much to their liking evidently, as this is the second consecutive year they have spent the summer in this beautiful spot. The hotel, where Mary presides as hostess, is filled with parents who spend the camping period there just to be near their children.

Fred Culpepper was one of the proudest and happiest fathers in all the world on Father's day. He saw the radiant sunshine of a perfect June day shine down on the head of his son, Fred, Jr., who stood on the picturesque campus at Virginia Military Institute to receive his diploma. He was a member of this year's graduating class and was made doubly happy because his mother and father and his grandfather, Judge Charles Schulze, were watching from the sidelines. Following commencement they all motored through the beautiful Shenandoah valley and explored the famous Endless caverns at New Market, Va.

It is wonderful to see young men with shoulders broadened and chest expanded with military training, but it is rather ghastly to think of them as being fodder for the merciless machines of war. They are the first to be chosen when the gods of war start to roar. The prayer on the lips of every American woman today is one of peace—a prayer for the protection of these handsome stalwart young men with military training but without the desire for war.

Pollyanna and Robert Holloway are home from Washington for their first long visit with their parents since their marriage. Strange as it may seem, Pollyanna, although born and reared in Monroe, has never visited New Orleans. She has traveled all over the world, but she never found time, somehow, to visit New Orleans. As a result, she has always felt that thee was something lacking, a mission unfulfilled, as it were, so she came all the way from Washington to visit New Orleans. She and Robert and Robert's mother, Mrs. A. R. Holloway, are now enjoying a week-end visit in New Orleans. If absence really makes the heart grow fonder, Pollyanna's first visit in this quaint city will be something to talk about for the rest of her life.

A personal touch certainly does increase a gift's value. It's always flattering to receive from a friend a gift that has special significance. It's especially nice to receive something that one could never buy for oneself—possibly that's why Carolyn Stubbs was so delighted with the gift Dean McKoin gave her when she entertained with a prenuptial affair in her honor. The gift was a most attractive scrap book, beautifully bound, and containing every newspaper clipping obtainable since Carolyn and Dean first formed their ties of friendship during grammar school days. Her first piano recital, her graduation from high school and from Sophie Newcomb, her presentation in student recital by the Sophie Newcomb school of music, and later when she went abroad for a summer of travel, her year of study in Chicago under Rudolf Ganz, and as a climax to years of splendid accomplishment, the announcement of her betrothal. All these stories and pictures of Carolyn appearing from time to time in various newspapers made up this attractive scrap book. It was indeed the gift supreme.

Sara Gunby, young daughter of a former Monroe boy, Lieutenant Thomas Gunby, has led a life of adventure. Living in the Philippines was adventure enough for any southern girl, but this wasn't enough. Sara wanted to go to China, so to China she went. Chaperoned by an army officer and hi swife, Sara spent several weeks in the ancient cities of China drinking deep from the cup of adventure. She is now sailing through the Panama Canal en route to New York and Monroe, where she will visit her aunts, Edith and Olive Gunby. Lieutenant Gunby and Mrs. Gunby are anticipating a visit in the old Gunby home later in the summer.

Before Father's day has passed into the limbo of forgotten things we would like to pass on to our readers a "Son's Letter to His Dead Father." It will make you stop and think. Here it is!

"Dear Dad: I am writing this to you although you have been dead 30 years. I feel I must say some things to you, things I didn't know when I was a boy in your house, and things I was too stupid to say. It is only now, after passing through the long, hard school of years, only now when my own hair is grey, that I understand how you felt. I must have been a bitter boy to you. I believed my own petty wisdom and I know how ridiculous it was compared to that calm, ripe, wholesome wisdom of yours. Most of all, I want to confess my worst sin against you. It was the feeling I had that you 'didn't understand.' When I look back over it now I know that you did understand. You understood me better than I understood myself. Your wisdom flowed around me like an ocean around an island. And how patient you were with me! How full of long suffering and kindness. And how pathetic, it now comes home to me, were your efforts to get close to me, to win my confidence, to be my pal. I wouldn't let you. I couldn't. What it was that held me aloof, I don't know. But it is tragic—that wall that arises between a boy and his father, and their frantic attempts to see through it and climb over it. I wish you were here now, across the table from me, just for an hour, so that I could tell you that there's no wall any more. I understand you now, Dad, and God—how I love you and wish I could go back and be your boy again! I know now how I could make you happy every day. I know how you felt. It took many good years for this prodigal son—and all sons are, in a measure, prodigal—to come to himself. I see it all now. I know what a rich and priceless thing, and one least understood is that mighty love and tenderness and craving to help which a father feels towards his boy. I have a boy of my own and it is he that makes me want to go back to you, get down on my knees to you, and ask you to hear me, Dad, and believe me. Your loving son."

The future, as represented by junior clubs, is receiving equal emphasis with the past in the "Golden Jubilee" celebration of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, now in progress, according to reports from the General Federation Council in Milwaukee. The junior club membership has been referred to by federation leaders as the "life insurance policy of the women's federated clubs movement."

Reports from every state show the federated clubs sponsoring girls' and boys' clubs, and cooperating with national organizations for youth activities. State reports show a wide range of social service and welfare activities.

Another highlight of general federation junior reports was the increase of 361 clubs in membership in the national organization in two years.

A personal touch certainly does increase a gift's value. It's always flattering to receive from a friend a gift that has special significance. It's especially nice to receive something that one could never buy for oneself—possibly that's why Carolyn Stubbs was so delighted with the gift Dean McKoin gave her when she entertained with a prenuptial affair in her honor. The gift was a most attractive scrap book, beautifully bound, and containing every newspaper clipping obtainable since Carolyn and Dean first formed their ties of friendship during grammar school days. Her first piano recital, her graduation from high school and from Sophie Newcomb, her presentation in student recital by the Sophie Newcomb school of music, and later when she went abroad for a summer of travel, her year of study in Chicago under Rudolf Ganz, and as a climax to years of splendid accomplishment, the announcement of her betrothal. All these stories and pictures of Carolyn appearing from time to time in various newspapers made up this attractive scrap book. It was indeed the gift supreme.

Sara Gunby, young daughter of a former Monroe boy, Lieutenant Thomas Gunby, has led a life of adventure. Living in the Philippines was adventure enough for any southern girl, but this wasn't enough. Sara wanted to go to China, so to China she went. Chaperoned by an army officer and hi swife, Sara spent several weeks in the ancient cities of China drinking deep from the cup of adventure. She is now sailing through the Panama Canal en route to New York and Monroe, where she will visit her aunts, Edith and Olive Gunby. Lieutenant Gunby and Mrs. Gunby are anticipating a visit in the old Gunby home later in the summer.

Before Father's day has passed into the limbo of forgotten things we would like to pass on to our readers a "Son's Letter to His Dead Father." It will make you stop and think. Here it is!

"Dear Dad: I am writing this to you although you have been dead 30 years. I feel I must say some things to you, things I didn't know when I was a boy in your house, and things I was too stupid to say. It is only now, after passing through the long, hard school of years, only now when my own hair is grey, that I understand how you felt. I must have been a bitter boy to you. I believed my own petty wisdom and I know how ridiculous it was compared to that calm, ripe, wholesome wisdom of yours. Most of all, I want to confess my worst sin against you. It was the feeling I had that you 'didn't understand.' When I look back over it now I know that you did understand. You understood me better than I understood myself. Your wisdom flowed around me like an ocean around an island. And how patient you were with me! How full of long suffering and kindness. And how pathetic, it now comes home to me, were your efforts to get close to me, to win my confidence, to be my pal. I wouldn't let you. I couldn't. What it was that held me aloof, I don't know. But it is tragic—that wall that arises between a boy and his father, and their frantic attempts to see through it and climb over it. I wish you were here now, across the table from me, just for an hour, so that I could tell you that there's no wall any more. I understand you now, Dad, and God—how I love you and wish I could go back and be your boy again! I know now how I could make you happy every day. I know how you felt. It took many good years for this prodigal son—and all sons are, in a measure, prodigal—to come to himself. I see it all now. I know what a rich and priceless thing, and one least understood is that mighty love and tenderness and craving to help which a father feels towards his boy. I have a boy of my own and it is he that makes me want to go back to you, get down on my knees to you, and ask you to hear me, Dad, and believe me. Your loving son."

The future, as represented by junior clubs, is receiving equal emphasis with the past in the "Golden Jubilee" celebration of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, now in progress, according to reports from the General Federation Council in Milwaukee. The junior club membership has been referred to by federation leaders as the "life insurance policy of the women's federated clubs movement."

Reports from every state show the federated clubs sponsoring girls' and boys' clubs, and cooperating with national organizations for youth activities. State reports show a wide range of social service and welfare activities.

Another highlight of general federation junior reports was the increase of 361 clubs in membership in the national organization in two years.

Sigma Phi Omegas To Convene Here In 1941

Local Chapter Brings Back Convention From Mobile Meeting; Local Members Win Honors

Members of Sigma chapter, local unit of national Sigma Phi Omega fraternity, have reason to be jubliant these days. Through the efforts of S. P. O.'s who attended the national convention at the Battle house in Mobile, Ala., last week, Monroe has been named the convention city for 1941. Already members of Sigma chapter have begun making plans to stage the biggest convention in the history of S. P. O.

Convention honors captured by the local delegates were numerous. For having attained the highest scholastic average for the 1939-40 school year, the Monroe chapter was awarded a beautiful gold loving cup. Lloyd Lenard, official delegate from Monroe to the convention and associate editor of the fraternity publications, the Chain and the Link, received a cash prize for being judged the best speaker in the oratorical contest. Hodge Mason, another local member and editor of the fraternity publications, was elected to the national governing board of the fraternity.

While our auditorium is being remodeled our worship services are being held on the second floor of the education building. It has been seated more comfortably than ever before. We had great services last Sunday and we are expecting even greater today. If the seriousness of the times in which we live does not drive people to their knees and to the house of worship what would it take to accomplish such results? Go to the church of your choice, identify yourself with the people of God and get under the load of trying to stem the tide of iniquity and thus prevent the day of doom that has befallen every country that has forgotten God.

The Sunday school, B. T. U. and Brotherhoods meet at the usual times and places. "Seek ye the Lord while He may be found."

Among the citations which comprise the lesson-sermon is the following from the Bible: "All things were made by him; and without him was not any thing made that was made" (John 1).

The lesson-sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "The true theory of the universe, including man, is not in material history but in spiritual development" (p. 547).

The hour for service is 7:30 a.m. On each of these days, Monday, Wednesday and Saturday, the Holy Eucharist will be celebrated. Meditation. Read 1st St. John, 2nd chapter, verses 9 and 10. "It is an acepted fact that no community can enjoy the highest standard of living if it withdraws from the rest of the world; it logicaly follows that no person can live a full life and a rich life if he withdraws from his fellow men through hate. The teachings of Christ are based upon love: 'Love thy neighbor,' 'love thy fellow men,' yea, 'love thine enemy.' Many of us are prone to believe that if we obey the 10 commandments we shall enjoy the eternal life that is promised. But there is another important factor involved: the second of the two great commandments that Jesus placed above all others, 'Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself.' Life is either a hall of mirrors in which everywhere you see your own image until you sicken of it; or a hall of windows through which you look out onto the world."

The church is open daily from 7:30 a. m. until 5:30 p. m. Come in, rest, pray, give thanks, meditate. You are welcome.

FIRST METHODIST CHURCH

Dr. C. Karlos Smith, Pastor

You are invited to attend every service in our church where the pure gospel is preached to all men. Today we are making every effort to cause the Christian religion to be felt in a world almost wrecked by sin and selfishness.

The salvation of this sick world is Jesus Christ. If we who profess to know Him fail to present to the world a Christianity which is practical and which we know to be adequate to deal with every phase of life, then will the world believe that our teachings are of no value to mankind and is good for nothing but to be cast aside. If you appreciate gospel preaching attend our church.

Our Sunday school meets at 9:45 a. m. Preaching services at 11:00 a. m. and 8:00 p. m. If you are not in attendance upon the services of some other church, you are urged to attend our services. "The church with a welcome to everybody."

STONE AVENUE METHODIST CHURCH

I. L. Yeager, Pastor

"An artist painted the portrait of a friend whom he dearly loved, and lavished the utmost care upon it. When finished the friend looked upon it and said, "You have painted my portrait too fine for it to be true." "Oh, no," said the artist, "I have only painted it lovingly." And this is the enriching power of love. A child may be painfully plain, but to his mother, he is beautiful and fair, for, her love making him so to her, he is so. When Christ's eyes rested on the sinful woman He did not see what the Pharisee saw. The Pharisee, as he saw her at Jesus' feet, sneered at her as an evil woman of the street, but Jesus looking through His great love-lit eyes, said unto her, "Daughter!" When our eyes are love-lit, the world becomes full of the carnivals of spring and of the cercles of God. Thus it is with Christians; success in portraying the life of Christ, depends upon our love for Christ.

An invitation is extended to the public to worship with us today, beginning with Sunday school at 9:45 a.m. Message at 11 o'clock a.m. Christian Endeavor at 7 p.m. Miss Getye Mae Brashier was appointed as leader. Evening service at 7:45. Prayer service Wednesday evening 7:45 p.m.

FIRST PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

Grammont At Catalpa
Ernest Holloway, Pastor

A free will offering will be made this Sabbath for the rebuilding of the auditorium, Montreat, N. C. This edifice was destroyed by fire some weeks ago. The conferences and the general assembly have met in Montreat for the past several years. We are privileged to share in the construction of a larger and more beautiful building.

"Self Control; Or Keeping Our Feet On The Ground" is the subject of our morning meditation. Now is the time for us to keep quiet. Can we do this? If so, what are the facts upon which we may stand, aiding us in self control? Your presence will not only inspire us, but it will please the Lord, who favors people.

"How A Man Regained Self Mastery" is the theme of our evening message. The Holy Book is full of noble people. They have left us an example. Will we profit thereby?

The Sabbath school attendance is good. With your cooperation it will be even better. Will you join us this Sabbath in the study of the Word?

Our services are planned in the interest of spiritual growth, power, and illumination. We may not always succeed in our aims, but we are ever striving to impress the eternal truth that man does not live by bread alone; he really lives by the words which come from the Lord.

A hearty welcome awaits you!

JUNE BRIDE . . .

Mrs. Van C. Worsham, whose marriage took place June 14. Mrs. Worsham was formerly Miss Claudine Andrews of Marion, La.

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH
St. John And Grammont Sts.

D. C. Black, Pastor's Associate

"World Conditions as Reflected in the Recent Southern Baptist Convention" will be the pastor's subject for this morning. At the evening hour he will bring a message on "The Four Horsemen of the Apocalypse." As a preparation for this message you are asked to read the sixth chapter of Revelations.

While our auditorium is being remodeled our worship services are being held on the second floor of the education building. It has been seated more comfortably than ever before. We had great services last Sunday and we are expecting even greater today. If the seriousness of the times in which we live does not drive people to their knees and to the house of worship what would it take to accomplish such results? Go to the church of your choice, identify yourself with the people of God and get under the load of trying to stem the tide of iniquity and thus prevent the day of doom that has befallen every country that has forgotten God.

The Sunday school, B. T. U. and Brotherhoods meet at the usual times and places. "Seek ye the Lord while He may be found."

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

The worship services are held at 10:50 a. m. and 8:00 p. m. A cordial invitation is extended to the public to worship at this church.

CALVARY BAPTIST CHURCH
812 Mississippi St.
Rev. I. J. Brooks, Pastor
Maxwell Braswell, Choir Director

We are glad to announce that the bus will continue to run as during the meeting to bring people to Sunday school and church services. The Sunday school services begin at 9:45 with classes for all ages.

This morning the pastor will deliver the second of the series of messages on the second coming of Christ. The subject this morning will be "The Signs of the End." The message of the evening will be "A Soul's Suicide" with text from Mark 10:22. Continue to pray for the unsaved and help to keep our revival fires burning brightly with service for the Master.

The time for the meeting of the Brotherhood Tuesday evening has been changed from 7:30 to 7:45. If you men would like to enjoy an hour of Christian fellowship and spiritual food, be at these Brotherhood meetings. Join in the drive for "a million men for Christ."

Monday night the young people of our church will promote the prayer meetings. The W. M. U. will sponsor several in the afternoon during the week, while others will be organized. It is hoped that we can find the way through prayer to this much needed spiritual refreshing soul need. The poet has well said:

"Oh for a passionate passion for souls!
Oh for a pity that yearns!
Oh for a love that loves unto death!
Oh for a fire that burns!

Oh for prevailing power in prayer
That pours itself out for the lost;
Victorious prayer in the Saviour's name!
Oh for a pentecost."

We welcome all our friends to worship with us in all these services.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SERVICES
Corner Auburn Avenue And North Second Street

"Is the Universe, Including Man, Evolved by Atomic Force?" is the subject of the lesson-sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, Sunday, June 23, 1940.

The Golden Text is: "Lo, he that formeth the mountains, and createth the wind and declareth unto man what is his thought, that maketh the morning darkness, and treadeth upon the high places of the earth, The Lord, The God of hosts, is his name" (Amos 4:13).

Among the citations which comprise the lesson-sermon is the following from the Bible: "All things were made by him; and without him was not any thing made that was made" (John 1).

The lesson-sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "The true theory of the universe, including man, is not in material history but in spiritual development" (p. 547).

The hour for service is 7:30 a.m. Wednesday, intercessions for world peace. Service at 9 a.m. Saturday, St. Peters day. The hour for service is 7:30 a.m. On each of these days, Monday, Wednesday and Saturday, the Holy Eucharist will be celebrated. Meditation. Read 1st St. John, 2nd chapter, verses 9 and 10. "It is an acepted fact that no community can enjoy the highest standard of living if it withdraws from the rest of the world; it logicaly follows that no person can live a full life and a rich life if he withdraws from his fellow men through hate. The teachings of Christ are based upon love: 'Love thy neighbor,' 'love thy fellow men,' yea, 'love thine enemy.' Many of us are prone to believe that if we obey the 10 commandments we shall enjoy the eternal life that is promised. But there is another important factor involved: the second of the two great commandments that Jesus placed above all others, 'Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself.' Life is either a hall of mirrors in which everywhere you see your own image until you sicken of it; or a hall of windows through which you look out onto the world."

The church is open daily from 7:30 a. m. until 5:30 p. m. Come in, rest, pray, give thanks, meditate. You are welcome.

In the name of Christ
We bid you welcome to our church.
Its work and worship,
Its instruction and service,
Its comfort and its blessing.

FIRST METHODIST CHURCH
West Monroe, La.
Dr. C. Karlos Smith, Pastor

You are invited to attend every service in our church where the pure gospel is preached to all men. Today we are making every effort to cause the Christian religion to be felt in a world almost wrecked by sin and selfishness.

The salvation of this sick world is Jesus Christ. If we who profess to know Him fail to present to the world a Christianity which is practical and which we know to be adequate to deal with every phase of life, then will the world believe that our teachings are of no value to mankind and is good for nothing but to be cast aside. If you appreciate gospel preaching attend our church.

Our Sunday school meets at 9:45 a. m. Preaching services at 11:00 a. m. and 8:00 p. m. If you are not in attendance upon the services of some other church, you are urged to attend our services. "The church with a welcome to everybody."

The largest number of the entire year was present at last Wednesday evening's prayer meeting, which was led by the pastor. Mr. R. L. Hales will be the leader next Wednesday evening. All three circles of the Missionary society will meet Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Subject for study: "Exploring the Bible." A very fine laymen's service was held last Sunday evening with Mr. William Wood as the guest speaker. This evening's worship service will open at 7:30 o'clock, the pastor using as his subject "Telling Our Troubles to Jesus." Remember our Sunday school contest, which ends on the fifth Sunday. Come and worship with us today. A hearty wlcome awaits you and your friends at the Gordon Avenue Methodist church.

STONE AVENUE METHODIST CHURCH
I. L. Yeager, Pastor

"An artist painted the portrait of a friend whom he dearly loved, and lavished the utmost care upon it. When finished the friend looked upon it and said, "You have painted my portrait too fine for it to be true." "Oh, no," said the artist, "I have only painted it lovingly." And this is the enriching power of love. A child may be painfully plain, but to his mother, he is beautiful and fair, for, her love making him so to her, he is so. When Christ's eyes rested on the sinful woman He did not see what the Pharisee saw. The Pharisee, as he saw her at Jesus' feet, sneered at her as an evil woman of the street, but Jesus looking through His great love-lit eyes, said unto her, "Daughter!" When our eyes are love-lit, the world becomes full of the carnivals of spring and of the cercies of God. Thus it is with Christians; success in portraying the life of Christ, depends upon our love for Christ.

An invitation is extended to the public to worship with us today, beginning with Sunday school at 9:45 a.m. Message at 11 o'clock a.m. Christian Endeavor at 7 p.m. Miss Getye Mae Brashier was appointed as leader. Evening service at 7:45. Prayer service Wednesday evening 7:45 p.m.

FIRST PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH
Grammont At Catalpa
Ernest Holloway, Pastor

A free will offering will be made this Sabbath for the rebuilding of the auditorium, Montreat, N. C. This edifice was destroyed by fire some weeks ago. The conferences and the general assembly have met in Montreat for the past several years. We are privileged to share in the construction of a larger and more beautiful building.

"Self Control; Or Keeping Our Feet On The Ground" is the subject of our morning meditation. Now is the time for us to keep quiet. Can we do this? If so, what are the facts upon which we may stand, aiding us in self control? Your presence will not only inspire us, but it will please the Lord, who favors people.

"How A Man Regained Self Mastery" is the theme of our evening message. The Holy Book is full of noble people. They have left us an example. Will we profit thereby?

The Sabbath school attendance is good. With your cooperation it will be even better. Will you join us this Sabbath in the study of the Word?

Our services are planned in the interest of spiritual growth, power, and illumination. We may not always succeed in our aims, but we are ever striving to impress the eternal truth that man does not live by bread alone; he really lives by the words which come from the Lord.

A hearty welcome awaits you!

CUT IN APPROPRIATION WILL AFFECT BUILDING

SHREVEPORT, La., June 22.—(AP)—Recommendation of the legislature appropriations committee to reduce the annual appropriation for the $750,000 state exhibits building at the state fair grounds here to $5,000 annually from the present allocation of $30,000 annually will mean the vitual closing of the building, according to W. E. Anderson, state entomologist, who has direction of the building under State Agricultural Commissioner Harry D. Wilson.

Mr. Anderson came here Saturday to notify the staff of 11 workers that at the start of the fiscal year July 1, the proposed reduction to $5,000 annually for maintenance will go into effect, causing the reduction in personnel to the barest minimum for care of the building and grounds.

STUDY PLANS TO BRING CHILDREN TO AMERICA

The British government already is selecting boys and girls from 5 to 16 years of age whose parents would consent to their removal to America, said Miss Katherine Lenroot, chief of the United States children's bureau.

UNITED ELECTRIC SERVICE PROVING GROUND

A road test without a road. That's what United Electric Service, Inc., with its recently installed dynometer, shown above, is equipped to give your car. The 10 instruments in the new equipment make United Service one of the most up-to-date establishments in north Louisiana.

An intricate set of machinery, the dynometer is an indoor proving ground. With its associated instruments, it actually allows you to make a road test on every part of your car.

Furthermore, it permits whoever is making the test to climb over, under and all around the car while it is actually in motion, operating under any kind of load at any speed, and is an accurate means of testing and adjusting the various parts.

With the car being operated on the dynometer United Service is able to duplicate actual road conditions so as to cause the car to miss, heat, ping, or act up in other ways, which has caused the customer to complain of its performance. In addition to this, operators are able to prove to the customer whether or not the power and economy of the vehicle is up to average by comparison with the set of power and economy averages furnished for the later popular model cars.

If your car is not up to average, you can predict the amount of increase in power or economy you can expect if you allow United Electric Service to make the necessary repairs and tune it up. Then, after checking the compression, ignition, and carburetion, the company is able to quote you accurately on the cost of obtaining increases in power and economy. After they have made the repairs and tuned up the motor, they can prove to you on the final test that you've got your money's worth in the power and economy pedicted.

In short, with the dynometer, United Electric proves to their customer whether or not his vehicle is up to the average of performance for his particular car. Get a line on your automobile's performance—take it to United Electric Service at 308 North Third street, phone 365.

UNITED ELECTRIC SERVICE PROVING GROUND

GENUINE PARTS
INDOOR PROVING GROUND
HAVE YOUR CAR ROAD-TESTED IN OUR SHOP

A road test without a road. That's what United Electric Service, Inc., with its recently installed dynometer, shown above, is equipped to give your car. The 10 instruments in the new equipment make United Service one of the most up-to-date establishments in north Louisiana.

An intricate set of machinery, the dynometer is an indoor proving ground. With its associated instruments, it actually allows you to make a road test on every part of your car.

Furthermore, it permits whoever is making the test to climb over, under and all around the car while it is actually in motion, operating under any kind of load at any speed, and is an accurate means of testing and adjusting the various parts.

With the car being operated on the dynometer United Service is able to duplicate actual road conditions so as to cause the car to miss, heat, ping, or act up in other ways, which has caused the customer to complain of its performance. In addition to this, operators are able to prove to the customer whether or not the power and economy of the vehicle is up to average by comparison with the set of power and economy averages furnished for the later popular model cars.

If your car is not up to average, you can predict the amount of increase in power or economy you can expect if you allow United Electric Service to make the necessary repairs and tune it up. Then, after checking the compression, ignition, and carburetion, the company is able to quote you accurately on the cost of obtaining increases in power and economy. After they have made the repairs and tuned up the motor, they can prove to you on the final test that you've got your money's worth in the power and economy pedicted.

In short, with the dynometer, United Electric proves to their customer whether or not his vehicle is up to the average of performance for his particular car. Get a line on your automobile's performance—take it to United Electric Service at 308 North Third street, phone 365.

Vivien Leigh Starred With Bob Taylor

Romance Of War In England Proves Stirring Vehicle For Two Stars

ONE of the most memorable romances ever written for the stage, Robert E. Sherwood's "Waterloo Bridge," has been made into a timely and tender love story, starring Vivien Leigh and Robert Taylor, and coming today to the Paramount theater for an engagement of three days.

With its vital and exciting background of London of the war years, 1917 and 1940, the story is woven around a ballet dancer and an aristocratic young British officer, who meet on historic Waterloo bridge during an air raid and seek shelter in the Waterloo underground. They realize that they are in love almost at first sight and their whirlwind courtship is telescoped into twenty-four happy hours. But before they can be married he is called back to the front. Later she reads his name among the dead and life fails to hold anything for her. Their almost miraculous reunion at Waterloo station, when he returns after being held in a prison camp, brings their romance dramatically to a climax.

Miss Leigh is the most talked of actress on the screen today as the result of her Academy award performance as Scarlett O'Hara in "Gone with the Wind." People have naturally asked, "After Scarlett, what?" The answer is "Waterloo Bridge." No roles could be further apart than Scarlett and the little ballet dancer, Myra, whom Miss Leigh plays in her new film. They have only one thing in common—magnificent acting opportunities which reveal further Miss Leigh's amazing versatility.

In Roy Cronin, the young officer, Taylor has been given the most mature and dynamically virile characterization of his career. He undergoes an age transition from a man of 25 to 48, giving him greater scope than in any role he has ever portrayed on the screen.

As the outstanding romantic team of 1940, Miss Leigh and Taylor are ably supported by such well-known featured players as Lucile Watson, Virginia Field, Maria Ouspenskaya and C. Aubrey Smith.

Mervyn LeRoy, who gave the screen "The Wizard of Oz," directed the picture, brought to the screen by Sidney Franklin, who won renown with his direction of such hits as "The Good Earth," "The Barretts of Wimpole Street" and "Smilin' Through."

SNAKE 'PETS' ARE GIFTS OF COAST ASSOCIATION

LOS ANGELES, June 22.—(AP)—Nothing makes a nicer house pet, declares James Dannaldson, than a baby boa constrictor, a gopher or a king snake.

And just to prove this, the Western Herpetological association, which is holding a reptile exposition, is giving away snakes for pets.

"They're much more responsive than goldfish," said Dannaldson, exposition director. "They deem it a real favor when they're rubbed gently on the back from head to tail, or are permitted to slither up a coat sleeve."

His own pet is a baby Malayan python 22 feet long.

Gang Film Here Today At Capitol

Lloyd Nolan And Barton MacLane Included In Cast Of Picture

DRAMA, romance, and plenty of excitement—that's what is guaranteed for fans who attend the Capitol theater today. "Gangs of Chicago," the Republic picture starring Lloyd Nolan, Lola Lane, and Barton MacLane, has all the ingredients of thoroughly satisfactory film fare for the action drama devotee.

Nolan, a screen favorite for a long time, will be remembered for his excellent work in "The Magnificent Fraud," "St. Louis Blues," the more recent "House Across the Bay," and "Johnny Apollo." Both Lola Lane and Barton MacLane are also already familiar to theatergoers. In addition, the supporting cast includes Astrid Allwyn, Ray Middleton, Horace MacMahon, and Addison Richards.

In the film, Nolan is depicted as Matty Burns, the young and ruthless co-leader of a vast crime organization. An F. B. I. agent, hoping to destroy the organization, asks Matty's best friend, Bill, to become a spy. Bill agrees, because he thinks that Matty is really innocent of any guilt, and that he can find the actual criminals. He learns the truth but before he can contact the agent, members of the combine learn what he is doing. Matty is then forced to decide whether he should allow Bill to be murdered, or whether he should call in the police and thus incriminate himself. The way in which he makes this momentous decision is what provides a thrilling climax to a highly exciting picture.

Arthur Lubin directed "Gangs of Chicago" from an original by Karl Brown. Robert North was associate producer.

JAPANESE TROOPS RE-OCCUPY SECTION

HONGKONG, June 22.—(AP)—Re-occupation by Japanese troops of south China areas just across the border of this British crown colony today caused uneasiness in many quarters despite a communique from British military authorities that "there is no cause for alarm."

Some quarters linked the move with reports that Japan might be planning an invasion of French Indo-China, which Chinese circles declared inevitably would be coupled with a Japanese attempt to seize Hongkong also.

Vivien Leigh Starred With Bob Taylor

Romance Of War In England Proves Stirring Vehicle For Two Stars

ONE of the most memorable romances ever written for the stage, Robert E. Sherwood's "Waterloo Bridge," has been made into a timely and tender love story, starring Vivien Leigh and Robert Taylor, and coming today to the Paramount theater for an engagement of three days.

With its vital and exciting background of London of the war years, 1917 and 1940, the story is woven around a ballet dancer and an aristocratic young British officer, who meet on historic Waterloo bridge during an air raid and seek shelter in the Waterloo underground. They realize that they are in love almost at first sight and their whirlwind courtship is telescoped into twenty-four happy hours. But before they can be married he is called back to the front. Later she reads his name among the dead and life fails to hold anything for her. Their almost miraculous reunion at Waterloo station, when he returns after being held in a prison camp, brings their romance dramatically to a climax.

Miss Leigh is the most talked of actress on the screen today as the result of her Academy award performance as Scarlett O'Hara in "Gone with the Wind." People have naturally asked, "After Scarlett, what?" The answer is "Waterloo Bridge." No roles could be further apart than Scarlett and the little ballet dancer, Myra, whom Miss Leigh plays in her new film. They have only one thing in common—magnificent acting opportunities which reveal further Miss Leigh's amazing versatility.

In Roy Cronin, the young officer, Taylor has been given the most mature and dynamically virile characterization of his career. He undergoes an age transition from a man of 25 to 48, giving him greater scope than in any role he has ever portrayed on the screen.

As the outstanding romantic team of 1940, Miss Leigh and Taylor are ably supported by such well-known featured players as Lucile Watson, Virginia Field, Maria Ouspenskaya and C. Aubrey Smith.

Mervyn LeRoy, who gave the screen "The Wizard of Oz," directed the picture, brought to the screen by Sidney Franklin, who won renown with his direction of such hits as "The Good Earth," "The Barretts of Wimpole Street" and "Smilin' Through."

SNAKE 'PETS' ARE GIFTS OF COAST ASSOCIATION

LOS ANGELES, June 22.—(AP)—Nothing makes a nicer house pet, declares James Dannaldson, than a baby boa constrictor, a gopher or a king snake.

And just to prove this, the Western Herpetological association, which is holding a reptile exposition, is giving away snakes for pets.

"They're much more responsive than goldfish," said Dannaldson, exposition director. "They deem it a real favor when they're rubbed gently on the back from head to tail, or are permitted to slither up a coat sleeve."

His own pet is a baby Malayan python 22 feet long.

Some of the largest landplanes in history will soon be purchased by Pan American Airways, to be used on the San Francisco-Hawaii run. The planes will have four engines, tricycle landing gear, and cruising speed of 265 miles an hour.

Donald Woods, Lupe Velez, vivacious Latin actress, and Leon Errol in "Mexican Spitfire," screen attraction at the Capitol theater Tueday only.

Under the CAA civilian pilot training program, more than 100,000 hours, or approximately 7,000,000 miles, were flown before a fatal accident occurred.

ACTOR IS ACQUITTED OF ICE PICK SLAYING

MONTICELLO, N. Y., June 22.—(AP)—Acquitted by a Sullivan county jury of the ice-pick slaying of Walter Sage, Irving (Big Gangi) Cohen, "tough guy" bit part actor, prepared today to return to Hollywood.

The jury announced its verdict yesterday after deliberating an hour and a half on the case, one of 57 linked to a Brooklyn "murder syndicate."

Gang Film Here Today At Capitol

Lloyd Nolan And Barton MacLane Included In Cast Of Picture

DRAMA, romance, and plenty of excitement—that's what is guaranteed for fans who attend the Capitol theater today. "Gangs of Chicago," the Republic picture starring Lloyd Nolan, Lola Lane, and Barton MacLane, has all the ingredients of thoroughly satisfactory film fare for the action drama devotee.

Nolan, a screen favorite for a long time, will be remembered for his excellent work in "The Magnificent Fraud," "St. Louis Blues," the more recent "House Across the Bay," and "Johnny Apollo." Both Lola Lane and Barton MacLane are also already familiar to theatergoers. In addition, the supporting cast includes Astrid Allwyn, Ray Middleton, Horace MacMahon, and Addison Richards.

In the film, Nolan is depicted as Matty Burns, the young and ruthless co-leader of a vast crime organization. An F. B. I. agent, hoping to destroy the organization, asks Matty's best friend, Bill, to become a spy. Bill agrees, because he thinks that Matty is really innocent of any guilt, and that he can find the actual criminals. He learns the truth but before he can contact the agent, members of the combine learn what he is doing. Matty is then forced to decide whether he should allow Bill to be murdered, or whether he should call in the police and thus incriminate himself. The way in which he makes this momentous decision is what provides a thrilling climax to a highly exciting picture.

Arthur Lubin directed "Gangs of Chicago" from an original by Karl Brown. Robert North was associate producer.

ARKANSAS COMPANY PROTESTS GAS RATE

WASHINGTON, June 22.—(AP)—The federal power commission announced today the Camden Gas corporation, Camden, Ark., has filed a complaint charging rate discrimination by the Arkansas Louisiana Gas company, Shreveport, La., in the sale of natural gas.

The complaint asserted the Camden company paid 21.61 cents a thousand cubic feet, while the Arkansas-Louisiana company delivered gas at 10.61 cents to its own distribution plant in El Dorado, Louann, Norphlet, Smackover and Texarkana, Ark.

JAPANESE TROOPS RE-OCCUPY SECTION

HONGKONG, June 22.—(AP)—Re-occupation by Japanese troops of south China areas just across the border of this British crown colony today caused uneasiness in many quarters despite a communique from British military authorities that "there is no cause for alarm."

Some quarters linked the move with reports that Japan might be planning an invasion of French Indo-China, which Chinese circles declared inevitably would be coupled with a Japanese attempt to seize Hongkong also.

Somebody shouted, "Give out, Gusty!"

At the first note a change came over Gusty. His face lost its brashness, became sensitive. His soul, as he played, belonged to the trumpet.

CHAPTER I

Gusty Gair skidded his roadster to a stop in the cindered driveway outside of Maw's Airport Rendezvous. Music boomed through the open door, the kind of solid, hot music that put a shine in Gusty's eyes.

Seizing Francie Weston's hand, he dragged her and his trumpet out of the car. "Come on, Sugar! That's the new record the fellows were raving about in study hall today."

Gathered around the nickelodeon, a dozen youngsters cocked worshipful ears to the latest Bunny Berigan release. A few "jittered"; others sat in booths sipping cokes, stomping out the beat. It was Friday night and under Maw's scrupulous but benevolent eye the Elspeth City Jam club was in roaring session.

Everyone turned to greet Gusty and Francie, the high priest and priestess of their rhythmic cult.

"Hi-yah, Gusty! D'ja bring your old horn?"

"Hey, Francie, gonna swing out on a hot vocal?"

Gusty clamped his hands together, shook them over his head. Francie's response to her public was more refined. She smiled graciously and nodded.

Were they not professionals? Wasn't Gusty the only boy in high who was paid $3 for sitting in with Duke Meyer's Kampus Wildcats? And, when the dance passed her father's rigid inspection, didn't Duke often beg her to sing a chorus? Of course, he never really paid her, but he bought Francie loads of cokes and that was almost the same, wasn't it?

The record closed in a wild flurry of trumpet notes. Francie said, "Gee, Gusty, some day you'll be that good."

Gusty let go with his donkey laugh. "Some day! Say, I can cut him already like a hunk of soft butter."

Francie sighed. Gusty was so nice when he wasn't talking. . . .

Someone yelled, "Hey, Gusty, make like Harry James."

With a grin, Gusty opened his battered trumpet case and swaggered over to the piano.

"Fat," he called imperiously to a stubby-fingered youth in green slacks, "give me some oompahs on Cheri-Beri."

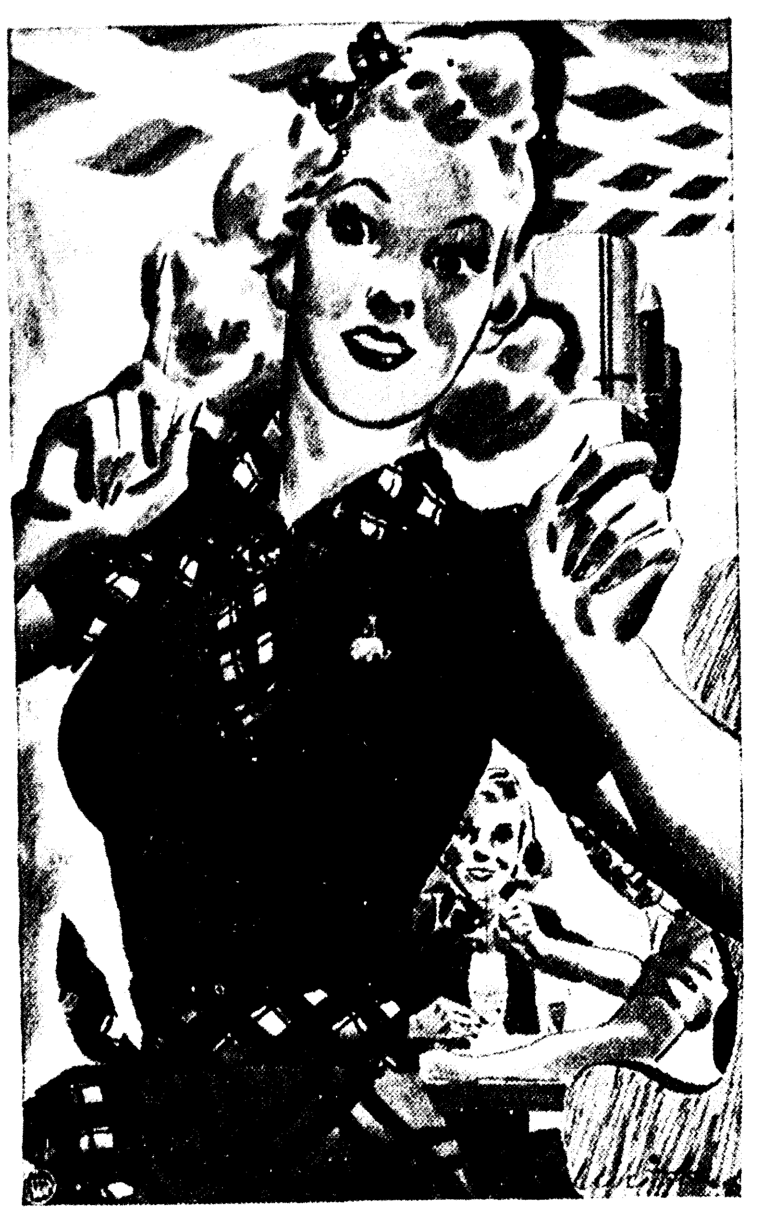
At the first note a change came over Gusty. He hunched his big shoulders forward. A dreamy expression softened his dark eyes. His rugged face lost its brashness and became sensitive. Gusty's soul, as he played, belonged to the trumpet.

He had done the solo many times but when he finished everyone whistled and shouted for more. Gusty shook his head. Slowly the rapt look faded and his face resumed its "so-what?" expression.

"I ain't in the mood now," he said. "I'll drink a coke while Francie gives out."

Francie moved to the piano. She closed her eyes and suddenly she had on a clinging black gown starred with shining sequins. She looked across footlights. Not at boys in loud slacks and polo shirts. Not at high school girls in short skirts and anklets. She looked out over a dazzling audience in evening dress, and there was a moment of dramatic silence as a big white spotlight picked her up.

With these dreams in her eyes, Francie sang. She tilted her head sideways, the glossy sweep of her amber hair falling over one slim shoulder. Her young voice stabbed the place with an anguished sweetness and made it still.



Francie's voice caught fire, her shoulder dipped in rhythm. Eyes shining, she gave her listeners all her swing. When she finished the crowd roared. "Pretty fair," Gusty admitted.

"Give the last one hot," Fat begged. Francie's voice caught fire; her shoulder dipped in rhythm. Eyes shining, she gave her listeners all she had. The beat was taken up on spoons, glasses and table tops. As she finished, the members of the Elspeth City Jam club sat back and roared their approval.

"Pretty fair," Gusty said. "I'll buy you a coke."

Someone slid up behind them and took their arms. "Have this one on me, kids."

Francie and Gusty whirled. Behind them stood a wiry, little man in a wrinkled linen suit. He wore a straw hat with a loud band. His tiny eyes danced excitedly above a long, sharp nose.

"Over here, kids," he said, gesturing toward an empty booth.

Gusty scowled. "Say, who does he think he is, anyway?"

"Please don't be horrid, Gusty," Francie begged. "Let's see what he wants." She dragged him to the booth. "Did—did you mean us?"

"Betcher life, honey," the man said in rapid, staccato tones. "You kids are good, terrific. Lotsa the old oomph, too. Ever broadcast? No, of course not. Wanta couple of cokes? Nothing stronger, I suppose.'

Gusty said, "Say, who you trying to kid, mister?"

"Kid? Me?" He started at Francie. "You get me right here, honey, right in the old heart. Used to have a vaudeville partner like you. Swell kid, Aggie; lotsa talent." He sighed. "Spitting image, you are."

"This guy's nuts,' Gusty observed with characteristic finesse. "Come on, Francie."

"No, no, don't go," the little man pleaded. "Look, I'm Natie Koon, special representative for I. B. C. and Pegasus Pictures. Been dashing all over the old U. S. A. picking up talent, and you kids are tops."

Gusty's laugh drowned out Koon. "Think we're dumb enough to swallow that gag?"

"Here, looka this." Koon flipped a business card on the table. "Flying back to the old glammer city right now. Plane got hung up half an hour. Heard the music and came over."

Francie said weakly, "I—I don't understand."

"Look, kids," Koon said, "I ain't got much time. Gotta catch that plane. Pegasus is making a super-colossal called 'Parade of American Youth.' They've tied up with I. B. C. on this promotion stunt. I grab up one talented kid from every state in the union. Three weeks from tomorrow night these kids do their stuff on a big two-hour broadcast, coast to coast. Pegasus signs the best ones to play with Jerry Finney in the picture. Get it?"

Jerry Finney! Francie had a photograph of him on her dressing table right next to a snapshot of Gusty. Nightly she compared them and tried to make herself believe that Gusty was like Jerry Finney. It was awfully hard. Jerry had lovely red-gold curls and beautiful teeth, and in technicolor his eyes were oh, so blue.

"How wonderful," she breathed.

"Sounds screwy," Gusty said.

"Screwy, huh?" Koon said. "Give a thought, kid. Who's gonna see 'Parade of American Youth?' Proud Ma and Pa and all their friends and relatives from 48 states, that's who! It'll gross more than 'Gone With the Wind.'"

Two deep furrows ridged Francie's brow. "You—you mean that we . . ."

"Just one of you," Koon interrupted. "You're both good; I don't care which. See, I'm in a kinda spot. I got to be in Hollywood by morning and I ain't found anyone from this state." He fumbled in his pocket, brought out a square of pasteboard. "The last one—and am I glad! Take a look."

Francie read it aloud in hushed tones: "This ticket entitles the bearer, if between the ages of 16 and 19, and having the full written consent of parents, to participate in the 'Parade of American Youth' broadcast, Saturday, June 22, at 8 p.m., in Studio A of I. B. C. Pegasus Pictures and I. B. C. obligate themselves only to reimburse participant, at the conclusion of said broadcast, for transportation from his home to Hollywood and return."

"My own grandmother couldn't get on the show without that," Koon declared. "You kids want it?"

By now even Gusty was convinced. "Say, maybe you're on the level, mister. Sure, I—'

"Okay, okay!" Koon stabbed his initials on the ticket, filled in the name of the state. He looked at the clock and leaped to his feet. "Gotta catch the plane. Be seeing one of you in Hollywood . . ."

He was gone as quickly as he had come. The ticket lay on the table. Francie stared at it. Gusty stared at it. It might have been something that had fallen out of the heavens, filling their eyes with stardust.

Francie said, "Oh, Gusty . . ."

Gusty said, "Gosh!"

Gusty said, "Say, who you trying to kid, mister?"

"Kid? Me?" He started at Francie. "You get me right here, honey, right in the old heart. Used to have a vaudeville partner like you. Swell kid, Aggie; lotsa talent." He sighed. "Spitting image, you are."

"This guy's nuts,' Gusty observed with characteristic finesse. "Come on, Francie."

"No, no, don't go," the little man pleaded. "Look, I'm Natie Koon, special representative for I. B. C. and Pegasus Pictures. Been dashing all over the old U. S. A. picking up talent, and you kids are tops."

Gusty's laugh drowned out Koon. "Think we're dumb enough to swallow that gag?"

"Here, looka this." Koon flipped a business card on the table. "Flying back to the old glammer city right now. Plane got hung up half an hour. Heard the music and came over."

Francie said weakly, "I—I don't understand."

"Look, kids," Koon said, "I ain't got much time. Gotta catch that plane. Pegasus is making a super-colossal called 'Parade of American Youth.' They've tied up with I. B. C. on this promotion stunt. I grab up one talented kid from every state in the union. Three weeks from tomorrow night these kids do their stuff on a big two-hour broadcast, coast to coast. Pegasus signs the best ones to play with Jerry Finney in the picture. Get it?"

Jerry Finney! Francie had a photograph of him on her dressing table right next to a snapshot of Gusty. Nightly she compared them and tried to make herself believe that Gusty was like Jerry Finney. It was awfully hard. Jerry had lovely red-gold curls and beautiful teeth, and in technicolor his eyes were oh, so blue.

"How wonderful," she breathed.

"Sounds screwy," Gusty said.

"Screwy, huh?" Koon said. "Give a thought, kid. Who's gonna see 'Parade of American Youth?' Proud Ma and Pa and all their friends and relatives from 48 states, that's who! It'll gross more than 'Gone With the Wind.' "

Two deep furrows ridged Francie's brow. "You—you mean that we . . ."

"Just one of you," Koon interrupted. "You're both good; I don't care which. See, I'm in a kinda spot. I got to be in Hollywood by morning and I ain't found anyone from this state." He fumbled in his pocket, brought out a square of pasteboard. "The last one —and am I glad! Take a look."

Francie read it aloud in hushed tones: "This ticket entitles the bearer, if between the ages of 16 and 19, and having the full written consent of parents, to participate in the 'Parade of American Youth' broadcast, Saturday, June 22, at 8 p.m., in Studio A of I. B. C. Pegasus Pictures and I. B. C. obligate themselves only to reimburse participant, at the conclusion of said broadcast, for transportation from his home to Hollywood and return."

"My own grandmother couldn't get on the show without that," Koon declared. "You kids want it?"

By now even Gusty was convinced. "Say, maybe you're on the level, mister. Sure, I—'

"Okay, okay!" Koon stabbed his initials on the ticket, filled in the name of the state. He looked at the clock and leaped to his feet. "Gotta catch the plane. Be seeing one of you in Hollywood . . ."

He was gone as quickly as he had come. The ticket lay on the table. Francie stared at it. Gusty stared at it. It might have been something that had fallen out of the heavens, filling their eyes with stardust.

Francie said, "Oh, Gusty . . ."

Gusty said, "Gosh!"

MOLOCAR'S MIRACLE
by EDGAR RICE BURROUGHS
THE CONDEMNED TARZAN WAS MARCHED TO THE GREAT TEMPLE BESIDE THE SACRED LAGOON. HERE MOLOCAR ADDRESSED THE COLOSSAL IMAGE OF BAAL-YEOM, WHO WAS BOTH GOD AND DEMON.
"O, GREAT DREAD RULER OF THE SEA, WE'VE COME TO GIVE FOOD TO THE DEMON-FISH, THY FAVORED CREATURES."
FROM A GROUP OF ATTENDANTS HE CALLED A BIG BARREL-CHESTED PRIEST. THEN HE TURNED TO THE EXCITED CROWD.
"BEHOLD AGAIN THE POWER OF MOLOCAR. I SEND THIS ONE AMONG THE DEADLY FISH; HE WILL RETURN UNHARMED!"
THE LESSER PRIEST STOOD POISED FOR A MOMENT, THEN DIVED INTO THE LAGOON. THE SPEAR-FISH DARTED AT HIM.
HE PLUMMETED DOWNWARD. THE MONSTERS FOLLOWED, BUT NO BLOOD STAINED THE WATER.
ONE BY ONE THE FISH RETURNED TO THE SURFACE, THEIR JAWS EMPTY. WHERE WAS THE DIVER?
IN BREATHLESS AWE THE SPECTATORS WAITED. THEN THE HIGH PRIEST CLAPPED HIS HANDS. A TEMPLE DOOR SWUNG OPEN.
THERE STOOD THE MYSTERIOUS DIVER, HIS GARMENTS DRY. "A MIRACLE!" CRIED THE PEOPLE; "GREAT IS THE POWER OF MOLOCAR!"

ALLEY OOP
IN THEIR ESCAPE FROM THE AMAZON FORTRESS, OUR FRIENDS "CAPTURED" A BRACE OF HORSES TO SPEED THEIR DEPARTURE, BUT ALLEY OOP, IN SPITE OF HIS SKILL AS A DINOSAUR BUSTER, IS HAVING TROUBLE WITH HIS SHAGGY LITTLE ASIATIC MOUNT.
THERE! I TOLD YOU YOU DIDN'T KNOW ANYTHING ABOUT RIDING A HORSE! IN THE FIRST PLACE YOU SHOULDN'T MOUNT A HORSE FROM THE WRONG SIDE!
T. M. REG. U. S. PAT. OFF.
BAH! THAT'S BUNK! I'LL SHOW YOU I CAN RIDE ANY GOL-DANG THING WITH FOUR LEGS! GIMME THAT HORSE!
THERE YOU GO AGAIN! YOU'LL ONLY END UP BY GETTING YOURSELF HURT!
HMMPH!
AND GETTING US CAUGHT BY THOSE AMAZONS AGAIN!
SO I CAN'T RIDE A HOSS, EH! HAW! I TOLD JUH I...
WELL, OOOLA... WE'RE RIGHT BACK WHERE WE WERE A FEW MINUTES AGO!
I'M AFRAID IT'S WORSE THAN THAT! NOW I THINK HE'S BEEN HURT!
OOOW!
MY STARS, ALLEY, WHATEVER IS THE MATTER? HAVE YOU BROKEN SOMETHING? WHERE DO YOU HURT?
LOOK, OOOLA! NO WONDER HE'S YELLING! HIS ARMOR IS SO FLATTENED OUT, IT'S ALMOST CUTTING HIM IN TWO IN THE MIDDLE!
OW! HELP! I'M DYIN'! DO SUMPIN QUICK!
WHAT ARE WE GOING TO DO? THERE'S NO WAY WE CAN GET THAT ARMOR OFF HIM!
IF ONLY I HAD A CAN-OPENER... BUT WAIT... I THINK I HAVE AN IDEA...
ALL RIGHT, I'VE GOT HIM ON HIS SIDE AS YOU DIRECTED... NOW WHAT?
JUST HOLD HIM THERE! NOW THIS IS GONG TO BE DRASTIC, BUT EXPEDIENCY DICTATES THE TREATMENT!
OHHH, I CAN'T BREATHE OW! WHATCHA DOIN'? OOOOO! MY STUMMICK'S CUT RIGHT IN TWO! OWW!
CLANG
HOW ABOUT IT, ALLEY? ARE YOU ALL RIGHT NOW?
YEH, I'LL SAY! GOSH, DOC, THAT WAS AWFUL! WHEW! THANKS A LOT!
WELL, COME ON... LET'S GET STARTED
REALLY, ALLEY, I HATED TO JUMP ON YOU... BUT IT SEEMED THE ONLY WAY
WELL, I GUESS EVEN TH' BEST OF US HAVE GOTTA BE JUMPED ON ONCE IN A WHILE!
YOU SHOULD HAVE HAD YOUR HEAD JUMPED ON A LONG TIME AGO!
